With the arrival of warm weather there come whisperings of a willingness to knock off in Washington. But the Professor can be depended on to keep the boys at their tasks as long as there is any chance to get results out of them.

One thing can be said for the Wilson cabinet. Every member of the body stands for something and has something that he thinks the country needs through his department. There are no figure heads in the whole outfit.

Japan signifies its willingness to renew its treaty with this country. To the man up a tree it would appear as he recalls all that trouble and excitement out in California, that that treaty needs a little attention.

Problems of health, sanitation and civic betterment are engaging the best minds in the country today. They are live subjects. Some valuable information touching them will be available at the Griffin Auditorium tonight. Don't fail to hear Dr. Stiles.

There should be a large attendance of New Bern people out to hear Dr. C. W. Stiles tonight at the Griffin Auditorium. Dr. Richard Duffy has a statement in the Journal telling of the high standing of Dr. Stiles in the medical world. From this those who did not know it already will learn that Dr. Stiles is a man of unusual distinction. It will be worth much to hear him.

North Carolina as a State and the towns, cities and counties within its borders are working towards a continuous reduction of the typhoid fever death rate. We do not have at hand the figures as to the death rate from typhoid in this State, but while it may not be so favorable as that of Pennsylvania we feel sure that by comparison with the figures of some years ago the showing would be found to be a very good one. The city health bulletin this week is on the question of prevention of typhoid and it should be carefully read and noted by all citizens interested in keeping New Bern comparatively free from typhoid, as it is at present.

SAVING THE CHILDREN.

The country over thousands of babies die every summer from preventable diseases. In some respects the death of a baby is the saddest death of all. Out side of the immediate family circle it makes but a slight impression, but inside that charmed circle it brings anguish of the most poignant sort. In view of that fact there will be a general welcome for the information that the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor is preparing a compilation of the best which various up-to-date cities are taking to protect child-life and will circulate it broadly over the country.

This is bringing the government close to the people in a practical way. Babies are as important as cattle and hogs even from the economic standpoint from which so many things are looked at exclusively nowadays. Why not save them and spare their parents the grief of having disease snatch them from their embrace?

House Leader Underwood and President Wilson have put it up to public opinion to decide whether there shall be currency legislation. There is a good-sized bunch of public opinion which is perfectly willing to let Messrs. Underwood and Wilson decide this question. They want to avail themselves of the privilege of the referendum and "refer back" the whole business to the two distinguished men in whose judgment the public at large have such great confidence.

Four Japanese statesmen are in Washington charged with the duty of finding out the real feeling in the United States regarding the present relations between this country and Japan. There is ground for the suspicion that some of those Jap statesmen are taking advantage of existing circumstances to ake at public expense one of those "jaunts" which used to be so fashionable in this country during the Roosevelt administration.

ARRAIGNMENT MORE THAN JUSTIFIED.

The testimony before the sugar lobby investigation committee has now reached the point where it is said to be "entertaining." It is interesting of course to have a witness declare as Mr. Oxnard, the father of the beet sugar industry did Monday, that the stock in his company was three fourths water and that he gathered in a million or so by selling this watered stock. It is also entertaining to reflect that "protecting an infant industry" has meant to the consumers of the country in this instance, the paying of dividends on stock three fourths of which according to Mr. Oxnard's testimony was water.

President Wilson's arraignment of the lobby in Washington is already more than justified by the information which has been elicited.

Quinine and soap should be the articles in most demand in the South according to Dr. Stiles and the State Board of Health.

Judging from the article on this page furnished by the press service of the North Carolina Board of Health the board is in strong sympathy with the quinine manufacturers.

The South may be more cleanly than Dr. Stiles says it is and yet not be cleanly enough. Cleanliness is next to godliness and it is essential to health. And at all events in preaching the gospel of soap-using the doctor is preaching a gospel that we can all understand.

Malaria is a great handicap to the capability of people in the Eastern part of the State. So the information disseminated by the State Board of Health as to how to treat it is of great importance. Some very valuable suggestions are given in an article published in the Journal today and furnished by the State Board of Health.

THIS COUNTRY AND OTHERS.

The Charlotte Observer takes the same view of the danger of war with Japan that Dr. David Starr Jordan of California does. It says that the United States might get up a war with Japan by loaning her the money, but is not apt to do that. Dr. Jordan takes the view that this country is spending huge sums of money to protect itself against countries that cannot go to war against it without going to New York capitalists to borrow the money. We have seen it hinted that those same New York financiers would not hesitate to loan foreign countries the money with which to carry on warfare against this country, but such an insinuation is extremely unjust.

BUSINESS MANAGERS FOR TOWNS.

Hendersonville and several other towns in this and other States are trying out the plan of managing municipal affairs through the medium of a business manager. A real business manager is what every sort of government needs. But as in the case of everything else there are business managers and business managers. Some of them can deliver the goods and some cannot. In any system that can be devised much depends on the man. One of the greatest needs in connection with municipal affairs is for the public to take a lively interest in them. If officials are left to do as they please they are pretty apt to please to be careless and sometimes corrupt.

THE SOUTH AND SOAP.

The headline of the article about the lecture of Dr. C. W. Stiles was not altogether happily worded in yesterday's Journal. Dr. Stiles as the body of the article showed did not say that the South was uncivilized absolutely, but relatively and comparatively. Owing partly to the large negro population here the South is not as cleanly in the judgment of Dr. Stiles as some other portions of the country. And as cleanliness is one of the characteristics of an advanced state of civilization Dr. Stiles, on the premise that the South has a smaller percentage of cleanliness than other sections, passed to the conclusion that the South has not reached as high a degree of civilization as the other sections. We make this explanation in order to correct as far as possible the mistaken impressions to which the heading over the article in question may have given rise.

HALF CURED MALARIA.

One of the worst things about malaria is getting cured and staying cured. From 15 to 25 grains of quinine a day for two or three days will prevent a return of the chills and fever for a week or more, but it will not cure the disease. The greatest trouble we have is with half cured cases of malaria. The victim takes quinine for a week or ten days or two weeks, feels about as well as usual and stops taking quinine. As a result, some of the old malaria germs remain in the body, and after a long or shorter time they produce more chills and fever. People that will not continue taking 25 grains of quinine for a week and then 20 grains for a month, after a case of malaria, are dangerous malarial reservoirs. They are the very class of people who perpetuate this disease among us. They are to be classed with the dangerous typhoid carriers, and ignorant, careless negro who perpetuates the hook-worm disease, by refusing to be cured and stay cured. As a matter of fact such people should not be allowed to run at large, and as soon as evening approaches they should be required to stay behind 18-mesh screens to keep mosquitoes from carrying their disease to others.

As a preventive measure for people not having malaria who wish to keep from getting the disease while around these half-cured cases among us, a daily dose of not less than three grains of quinine is necessary.—State Board of Health Press Service.

The hot weather seems to be telling already on some of the Senators, the Washington Post says: "On his last visit to the Capitol, the President found all but six Senators playing golf or at the ball game. We trust that the six will soon recover their health sufficiently to be about."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
