TWO MEN KILLED; WOMAN WOUNDED

IT IS RESULT OF JOY RIDE IN AUTOMOBILE TO 'RISCO BEACH RESORT.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 20.—William Acker, a chauffeur, and George Kovack, a watchman in a downtown garage, were shot and killed and Mrs. Tate Gallagher was dangerously wounded early today as the sequel to an automobile ride to a beach resort, followed by a carousal in the garage. A. R. Coulson, a merchant, was arrested tonight, charged with the shooting.

No one but the trio that formed the autoway was in the garage when the alleged slayer entered Mrs. Gallagher was found later on the streets, where she had fallen and before lapsing into unconsciousness declared Coulson had shot her. She fainted before she could tell where the shooting had taken place but the trail of blood she had left was traced to the garage, where the dead men lay.

Coulson's wife was committed to a state asylum for the insane about five years ago and since then he and Mrs. Gallagher have lived together, according to the woman.

That he was insane and jealous was her explanation of the tragedy. Coulson refused to make any statement.

LITERARY AND SOCIAL MEETING

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF CENTENARY METHODIST CHURCH MET FRIDAY.

On Friday afternoon, the Woman's Missionary Society of Centenary Church met in its social and literary meeting at the residence of Mrs. Whit Gaskins. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a sufficient number of members were present to insure a successful meeting.

With the afternoon's topic, "Missions Among the Mormons," the society concluded its study of Bruce Kinney's book, "Mormonism, the Islam of America." This last chapter was one of much interest and importance. Mrs. Henderson emphasized various points of value and the discussions following were full of interesting facts.

Investigation shows that of the 400 communities in Utah, reached by the postal service only 90 have any organized Christian work. One county containing a population of more than 6,000—an unusual proportion of which is non-Mormons—has no Christian minister or missionary. In proportion to its population, Utah probably has more atheists than any other State in the Union, because of the fact that many persons accept Mormonism expecting to find in it the greatest of all religious good and on discovering its mockery, they, in despair, deny the existence of any true religion or even a God.

Bruce Kinney claims that the "globe trotter" is a great hindrance to the evangelical work. "He comes to Salt Lake City with a twenty-four hour step-over ticket, goes through the Bureau of (mis) Information sustained by the Mormons on the temple grounds, and presto! he knows more about the Mormons than a missionary who has been there thirty years. Distinguished visitors are met at the train by carefully chosen escorts. They are feted and dined, given special organ recitals and have the "time of their lives" by order of the Mormon church and at

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

New Bern People Have Absolute Proof Of Deeds At Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit. It's not words but deeds that prove the deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For New Bern kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Non Bern people.

R. A. Henderson, 156 George street, New Bern, N. C., says: "I suffered from a dull pain across my loins, with an extreme lameness in my back. I also had inflammation of the bladder and the passages of the kidney secretions pained me. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at the Bradham Drug Co., removed the lameness and pain and improved my condition in every way."

No Trouble Since. When Mr. Henderson was interviewed some years later he said: "I willingly confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been free from backache and kidney complaint since I took this remedy. You are welcome to continue the publication of my statement."

MADE ATTEMPT TO END HER LIFE

Mrs. F. W. Lloyd Swallows Nux Vomica With Suicidal Intent.

LOOKS LIKE SUICIDE EPIDEMIC

Mrs. John Agent Takes Dose Of Bichloride Of Mercury.

Becoming despondent with life on account of domestic troubles Mrs. F. W. Lloyd, who resides at the home of her father Jesse L. Hall, No. 22 Queen street, attempted to commit suicide late Friday night by drinking a large quantity of nux vomica.

As soon as members of the family discovered that she had made an attempt on her life a physician was hurriedly summoned and he succeeded in saving her life, but she is still in a precarious condition. Mrs. Lloyd's husband is a lumber broker and has made this city his home for several months. The couple have only been married for about three months.

Recent events lead one to believe that a "suicide epidemic" has struck the city. Just a week ago Friday night Adolph Roberts, proprietor of the Commercial Printing and Rubber Stamp Works, fired a bullet into his brain at his home on South Front street, and a few days after Mrs. John Agent, who lives on Pasteur street, near the union passenger station attempted to end her life by taking bichloride of mercury. Her rash act was discovered in time to save her life.

BASEBALL GAME WAS INTERESTING

LOCAL "FANS" WITNESSED AN EXCITING CONFLICT YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

In an eight-inning game of baseball at Ghent Park yesterday afternoon between a team composed of married men and one composed of single men, local "fans" witnessed one of the prettiest games ever seen on a local diamond.

Although the score was 3 to 3 when the game was called on account of darkness, those who witnessed the conflict were of the opinion that the married men played a somewhat better game than their mates who have not as yet joined the Benedict Order, but both teams played well and that their work was exciting was evidenced by the almost constant cheers of the enthusiastic rooters.

The batteries for the married men were Ellison and Cowell while G. Mitchell and C. Harker did the pitching and receiving for the single men. Both batteries were in excellent form and did excellent work. The features of the game was the fielding of N. Angell and R. Smith for the married men and the work of Bland as shortstop and the hitting of Stanley for the single men.

Mark DeWitt Stevenson was the official umpire, and that his decisions met with the approval of all was evidenced by the fact that no pop bottles, antiquated vegetables or other missiles were thrown in his direction during the conflict.

Another game will be played by these two teams at an early date.

its expense. They think it is "not so bad after all." On their return to the East they call the missionaries cranks and say that their presence in Utah is an insult to such fine Christians as the Mormons.

There are about 200 evangelical workers in Utah while the Mormon church has a force of 1,800 missionaries working in every part of the United States. Notwithstanding this fact the Mormon missionaries are not making the converts they once did. It is expected that much good in demanding higher moral and social standards will come from the establishment of the public school system and the ever increasing number of educated Mormon young men and women.

Cookery Points

Preserving Pickles.

In picking vegetables and fruits the first idea is to employ a means of preserving these foods for a considerable length of time, generally until the winter, when there is a scarcity or utter lack of fresh fruits and green vegetables. For this purpose salt or acid liquor is used. In vinegar pickles the addition of spices and sugar aid in preserving and increasing the palatableness of pickles. The sweeping condemnation against all pickles and condiments is ill advised and misleading to those who depend on authoritative and official information in the line of dietetics, says Lida Ames Willis.

There is a large class of persons who should avoid pickles or the use of acids of any kind. Nature or the abnormal condition of the system will soon demonstrate the danger of indulgence by the discomfort caused by too much acidity in the stomach. Do not eat pickles unless you crave them, and if after eating them, as an accessory, not in a large quantity, you feel no ill effect, but, on the other hand, assimilate your food properly, you may consider pickles as wholesome in your individual case at least.

(Note.—In all vegetable pickles, cut-ups and sauces the addition of fresh grated horseradish will add greatly to the "goodness" and preserve the vinegar, preventing any mold.)

Dressing For the Pickles.

One gallon cider vinegar, a dozen tablespoonsful mustard or a jug of French mustard, two cupsful of sugar, two tablespoonsful of turmeric powder, one large cupful of flour wet with little cold vinegar; put into the boiling vinegar, boil five minutes and then pour over the thoroughly drained pickles. These are the finest mixed pickles you ever made. If you like string beans to pickles put in two quarts, steamed, and cut in inch pieces. The turmeric powder gives the rich yellow color.

Aunt Jane Harmon's Pickles.

One gallon of cucumbers cut small; one gallon green tomatoes, quartered; half a gallon of onions, steamed; two heads of cauliflower, steamed; half dozen green peppers; scald in strong salt brine and let stand from one to two days.

Mrs. Grant's French Pickle.

Slice into a stoneware or earthen jar a peck of green tomatoes and six large Mexican onions. Pour over them a cupful of salt. Let stand for twenty-four hours and strain off the liquid. Dissolve three pounds of sugar in a quart of good cider vinegar. Add quarter of a pound of white mustard seed, loose, and one teaspoonful each of ground ginger and cloves; two teaspoonsful of mustard and one of cayenne pepper. Turn in the tomatoes and onions and cook gently for about fifteen minutes, then pack in glass or stoneware jars.

Capital Mixed Pickles.

One peck green tomatoes, ten onions, ten sweet green peppers, chopped all together and fine; one cup salt mixed through them. Let stand over night. Drain and press out all the liquid and put into a porcelain lined kettle with a pound of brown sugar, half a cup fresh grated horseradish, a tablespoonful each ground black pepper, mustard, celery seed and whole of white mustard seed. Cover with good vinegar and boil gently for an hour.

Sandwich Fillings.

Ripe bananas, mashed, seasoned with lemon juice and sweetened to taste, make a hearty sandwich filling. The bread on which this filling is spread should be only lightly buttered. A sandwich filling with a flavor which puzzles is made by mixing half a cupful of grated maple sugar with a quarter of a cupful of chopped roasted peanuts and a tablespoonful of sweet cream. This filling is delicious on either brown or white bread.

Kish sandwiches are appetizing. Fish paste is now sold ready for use either in glass jars or tubes. It may also be prepared at home by freezing any cold cooked fish from bones and skin and mincing it. It should then be mixed to a paste with highly seasoned mayonnaise. If the fish is oily a good deal of lemon juice, vinegar or chopped caters may be used.

Cream of Onion Soup.

Slice sufficient white onions to measure one and a half cupsful. Heat two tablespoonsful of butter in a large pan, add the onions and cook slowly, shaking now and then until the onions are tender, but hardly beginning to color. Sprinkle over them two tablespoonsful of flour and stir until absorbed. Add gradually one quart of hot milk, stirring that it may thicken evenly. When at the boiling point season, draw to one side and let simmer ten minutes. Rub through a sieve, return to the fire and serve hot.

Caramel Custard.

Put two tablespoonsful sugar into a small saucepan and stir it until it becomes quite brown, then pour it into a plain pudding mold. Butter the sides of the mold. Beat the eggs with four tablespoonsful of sugar together till mixed well, then add one pint milk and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Pour into mold, cover with buttered paper, steam gently for one hour. Turn out and serve hot or cold.

For the Children

Prince Knud of Denmark Belongs to Boy Scouts.

The king of Denmark's two sons, Crown Prince Frederick, fourteen years of age, and Prince Knud, thirteen, have been sleeping under canvas as boy scouts. The camp, which was established near Copenhagen, was international in character, 3,000 boys from several European countries having gathered for a boy scout demonstration.

When the king and queen visited the camp and reached the hut where the princes were the queen's motherly eyes observed that little Prince Knud had dirty hands, for which she gave him a royal scolding. Some of the other boys interceded, saying:

"Don't be cross with little Knud. He's all right, although he is a poor washer up. You had better teach him when he gets home."

The king could not help smiling and promised the boys that the matter should be attended to.

The two princes have had private tutors, but after vacation they will go to a high school. When Prince Knud's picture was taken he didn't have his boy scout uniform on.

The Curate.

A curate and vicar are chosen and as many trades or professions as there are players and when the curate has said to the one he wishes to attack, "I come from your house, Mr. Optician or Mine Milliner (or any other tradesperson he chooses), but I did not find you in. Where were you?"

The person asked replies: "I was at (whom ever she pleases to say)—hairdresser, tailor, jeweler, etc., provided the business has been taken. The person mentioned asks: "What were you doing there?" And the one questioned must answer something suited to the trade mentioned.

For instance: If he has been to the bookseller's, he says he was buying books. If to the grocer's, buying sugar or starch. The bookseller says he was at the blinder's, who demands: "What were you doing there?" "Getting a book bound."

A forfeit must be given when something is said not suited to the trade mentioned. They may also say they have been to the curate's, and when he asks: "What were you doing there?" is answered: "Getting married," or anything relating to his ministerial duties, and he must make a proper reply.

Magio Music.

One of the players is sent out of the room, and the rest of them agree upon some simple task for him to perform, such as moving a chair, touching an ornament or finding some hidden object. He is then called in, and some one begins to play the piano. If the performer plays loudly the "seeker" knows that he is nowhere near the object he is in search for. When the music is soft, then he knows he is near, and when the music ceases altogether he knows that he has found the object he was intended to look for.

About Glassmaking.

Glassmaking was at one time the most aristocratic of all industries. A French law passed under Louis IX. allowed none but men of noble birth to set up glassblowing establishments, or even to work therein. For many centuries this was the only trade noble men could venture to work in without any danger of losing caste. The art of glassmaking reached this country through France, and in its early days in England those engaged in it styled themselves "gentlemen glass-blowers."

In Vacation Time.

Sometimes in my vacation days, Before it is September, I peep into my books to see How much I can remember. To me it is astonishing How I've forgotten everything. The maps are full of foreign lands; The copybooks seem crazy; The grammar's Greek no tongue can speak; The history is hazy. It even seems absurd to me That nine times seven are sixty-three. The holidays do surely change Old things from what they were And make familiar people strange. Why, now, if Christopher Columbus met me at the door, I'd hardly know him any more! —Youth's Companion.

STATE ASSISTING COUNTY OFFICERS

Rigid Enforcement Of Laws Governing Motor Driven Vehicles Is Urged.

FAST DRIVING DISCOURAGED

Secretary Of State Sends Out A Card Of "Do Nots."

So many accidents have occurred in North Carolina during the past few months caused by reckless automobile drivers and motorcycle riders that the State authorities have taken a hand in the affair, and are assisting the county officials in every way possible in putting a stop to the speeding of these machines.

Sheriff R. B. Lane has received from J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, the following card of "Do Nots," directed toward officers in so far as violation of automobile laws is concerned. This law is also directed to the officers of the county and is of general interest to enforcers of the law.

"To the Sheriffs, Deputy Sheriffs, Policemen, Marshals, Watchmen and Constables of North Carolina:

"Do not permit any automobile or motorcycle to run anywhere or at any time unless proper display number for 1913-14 appears on rear.

"Do not permit any person to operate a motor vehicle of any kind unless such person shall, upon demand, show license for the current year.

"Do not permit any person to attempt to transfer license to another person. Licenses are void in the hands of any person other than the one to whom issued. They are also void for any machine, except the one described therein.

"Do not permit speed exceeding ten miles per hour in the business portion and fifteen miles in the residential section of any city or town, and twenty-five miles on public highways.

"Persons violating the automobile laws are subject to a fine of $50 or imprisonment before a justice of the peace or any other officer having jurisdiction.

"Each of the officers named herein is liable on his official bond for failure or neglect in carrying out the duties above imposed.

"Copies of the automobile law and blanks for registration will be furnished promptly upon application to J. BRYAN GRIMES, Secretary of State, Raleigh, N. C."

Sheriff Lane is enforcing these laws to the best of his ability and it is a very noticeable fact that there are but few accidents in this city. The police are aiding him in his work and are also enforcing the law relative to riding bicycles at night without a light, this also has the effect of decreasing the number of accidents.

FOR ROAD PRESERVATION.

Craven County Farmer Makes Timely Suggestion.

The following communication with a request for publication has been received by the Journal from Daniel Lane, of Bellair:

Driving In Old Ruts.

This caption is applicable to many things along life's journey, but just now we wish to call the attention of the traveling public to the fact that driving in old ruts ruins our roads worse than any other, and perhaps all other habits combined. After such rains as fell on two days of the past week there is water in every small depression where the wheels run, and to drive in these old ruts is to cut up the road to an extent that after a few contracted days, the roads are so cut up where just a little water stood, that by careless driving the road soon becomes almost impassable; if instead of running in the old ruts, each driver kept out we would soon have three tracks instead of one and it would take three times as much water to make the road bad.

We would suggest some county ruling in this matter that would insist or even compel the traveling public to keep out of the old ruts and save the mud tax that comes from following other people's mistakes or carelessness. I would suggest a small fine, say 5 cents a mile for every person allowing his horse or horses to run in the old ruts after a rain while water or mud is on the roads.

We need good roads as a means of grace as well as a convenience, and the people can help in this matter by driving on solid ground as long as there is any to drive on.

D. LANE.

Fifteen bales of new cotton were disposed of yesterday on the local market at prices ranging from 12 1-4 to 12 7-8 cents per pound. The cotton growers are getting the fleecy staple out of the fields very rapidly and much of it is expected to be placed on the local market during the next few weeks.

SIXTY BALES SOLD AT POLLOKSVILLE

YESTERDAY A BUSY DAY WITH JONES COUNTY COTTON BUYERS.

A message received last night by the Journal from its representative at Pollockville stated that sixty bales of cotton were sold there yesterday at a price of thirteen cents per pound. This was new cotton and has been picked from the fields during the past ten days.

Farmers in the vicinity of Pollockville suffered comparatively little from the storm and flood which swept over this section during the first part of the month and are therefore able to get their crops out much quicker than some of the farmers in this section.

The buyers at Pollockville are expecting several hundred bales to be brought to that market during the present week.

Let everybody, who can, attend the mass meeting at the court House, to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock. Matters of extreme importance will be discussed. If the proposition of the railroad is adopted in its present form it means an incalculable loss to New Bern and this section of the State. Every body who is interested in the welfare of this community should attend.
