

IMPEACHMENT COURT FINDS SULZER GUILTY

New York's Chief Executive Removed From Office—Glynn Will Take the Job—Found Guilty On Three Counts

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Governor William Sulzer was yesterday found guilty by the high court of impeachment on three of the articles numbers one, two and four. He was declared innocent of the charges contained in article three.

He will be removed from office, but not disqualified from holding office in this State in the future unless there is a substantial change in the informal vote reported to have been taken by the court on these questions in secret session.

For the same reason it was expected that he will be found not guilty on the other four articles still remaining to be voted on when the court adjourned.

Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn, who has been acting governor since the impeachment of Sulzer, will become chief executive of the State. He is an Albany newspaper owner. Robert F. Wagner, a New York attorney, will become lieutenant governor. He is the majority leader in the senate.

The vote on articles one and two was 39 to 18, a bare two thirds majority. The former article charges that the governor falsified his statement of campaign contributions, the latter charges that he committed perjury in so doing.

The vote on article three, which charges the governor bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the Frawley investigating committee, was unanimous in favor of the governor.

The vote on article four was 43 to 14, six members changing their votes on articles 1 and 2, from "not guilty" to "guilty," and two from "guilty" to "not guilty." This article charges that the governor suppressed evidence by means of threats to keep witnesses from testifying before the Frawley committee. Among these was Duncan Peck, state superintendent of public works, who testified at the trial that the governor had asked him to commit perjury.

The secret informal vote to remove the governor was said to be 43 to 14, the same as on article 4, and the vote not to disqualify him was said to be unanimous.

Article 6 which charges that the governor committed larceny in speculating with his campaign contributions, was said not to have been sustained in the secret session, by a vote of 50, declaring the governor "not guilty" to seven against him.

Article five, which charges that he prevented a particular witness, Frederick L. Colwell, from attending the sessions of the Frawley committee, article seven, that he threatened to use his office and influence to affect the vote or political action of certain assemblymen, and article eight, that he corruptly used his influence to affect the prices of securities on the stock exchange, were reported also to have been decided in favor of the governor in the secret session by a practically unanimous vote.

Presiding Judge Edgar M. Cullen, voted "not guilty" on every article and rendered a long opinion in explaining his votes. The other eight judges of the court of appeals were divided. On articles one and two Judges William Bartlett, Emory A. Chase, and William E. Werner voted for the governor and against him voted Judges Frederick Collins, William H. Suddeback, John W. Hogan, Frank H. Hisecock and Nathan L. Miller, making a division among them of five to four against the governor.

On article four, Judges Bartlett, Chase, and Werner changed their votes from "not guilty" to "guilty" and Judges Hisecock, and Miller changed them from "guilty" to "not guilty," making against him a division of six to three.

THE FIRST SURVIVORS LAND IN NEW YORK

Passengers From The Volturno Tell Thrilling Story Of Marine Disaster—Many Feats Of Daring

New York, Oct. 16.—New York took in and sheltered today the first survivors of the steamship Volturno to arrive in this country, 105 in number, brought into port by the Grosser Kurfurst, the North German Lloyd liner that sent the first rescue boat careening across the heavy seas that made so difficult the task of removing passengers and crew from the burning Volturno. The wireless had brought graphic accounts of last week's sea tragedy; and today from the lips of some of the Volturno's survivors there came descriptions which contained the intimate details for which the world had waited, accentuated the heroic conduct of the Volturno's captain, officers and crew, and of men who manned the life-boats that put forth from other ships.

The explosion of a drum containing chemicals was the cause of the fire according to the story told by Waldron Disselman, third officer of the Volturno. Disselman gave a thrilling narrative of the long hours spent on his fire-ridden ship, fighting the flames sustaining the crippled wireless plant, lowering life-boats, quieting the panic-stricken, steering the vessel by hand to keep her from drifting—fighting the battle unaided because the waves were running too high for small craft from other ships to accomplish the journey to the Volturno's side. More than 80 passengers were burned to death when they were cut off by flames Disselman reported.

Ranking well up with the bravery displayed by Captain Inch of the Volturno, were the feats of daring of several of his officers, among them Second Officer Lloyd. While 10 ocean liners manoeuvred about the Volturno after darkness had settled on Thursday, Captain Inch wirelessed: "We can stand this long. Our boats are gone. Send boats." No rescue boats came in response to Inch's wireless.

Then Second Officer Lloyd measured up to the mark. Taking four men with him he entered a damaged life-boat, the Volturno's last, and showed that the seas could be lived upon.

Second Officer Von Carlsberg of the Grosser Kurfurst told the story of how Lloyd and his crew set the example for the other ships. "Soon a light—it was Lloyd's pocket lamps was seen dancing up and down on top of the waves," said Von Carlsberg, "and in a short time the Volturno's boat reached us. Second officer Lloyd and his crew were in the boat and no sooner had they boarded the Kurfurst than their boat sank. The trip had been experimental to see if it was possible for a small boat to live in the heavy sea."

ERRONEOUS REPORT.

Rumors About Julius Parker's Wife Unfounded.

In reports sent out from Beaufort during the trial of Julius Parker, charged with the murder of Charles Simpson at the Atlantic Hotel several weeks ago, it was stated that "it is rumored that Simpson had been intimate with Parker's wife and this was the cause of the killing." This report was erroneous inasmuch as the defendant's wife was not mentioned during the trial and there was no evidence to show that Simpson had been intimate with her. Parker entered a plea of self defense in the charge and was acquitted.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH SERIOUS OFFENCE.

make lasting friends

There's a lot of pleasure in selling Selz Shoes. Most people are easy to fit with them and they are generally as well pleased over their purchase as we were in selling. Another good point about Selz Shoes is, they generally make good lasting friends. So much more pleasant to see a customer come back and order the same kind of shoes they had last season. Selz customers do this. That's why they are making the famous Selz Waukenphast that has been a Selz standard for many years. People just can't get tired of them. They're not that kind. Ever see a pair? Let us show them to you. That's a pleasure too. We like to see skeptical people come to our store. They are easily convinced. The Selz Guarantee is a "question settler."
