POSES AS "SEPTEMBER MORN."

Nude Man At Great Central Terminal Mistaken For Statue.

New York, Nov. 26.—A man who says he is Mite Tanos, of Woodbridge, N. J., created great excitement in the Grand Central Terminal when he posed as "September Morn," clad in a cheery smile. He was sent to the psychopathic ward in Bellevue.

The man was seen posing in the balcony which runs around the waiting room.

"That's some art," one man declared. "I don't like nude work, generally, but it sure is lifelike."

"Judging from the way the statue is muscled, I guess it must be a figure of Hercules. Inever saw a statue of him, however, without clothing," replied another.

The two stopped to admire the figure and others joined them. Many women were admiring the work when the statue moved. There were shrieks and women ran out of the waiting room. Several policemen went to the balcony and arrested the man. He objected to dressing before entering the ambulance.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

COLORED MAN HAS FEW THRILLING MOMENTS UNDER STREET CAR.

Just how near Hohn Brooks, colored, came to losing his life when he stepped backward from one of the New Bern Ghent Street Railway Company's cars will probably never be known. Although he escaped with his life, Brooks was painfully hurt and was probably scared out of several weeks' growth.

The accident occurred near C. J. McCarthy & Son's store and was witnessed by quite a number of people. In stepping from the car Brooks in some way got his foot caught in the brakes and was dragged along the track for a considerable distance before motorman Preston Hassel became aware of the fact that a tragedy was about to happen.

As soon as Mr. Hassel discovered that his car was dragging a man along the track, he threw on the emergency brake and brought it to a stop and Brooks was extricated from his perilous position. An examination of his injuries by a physician showed that they were not of a serious nature.

Investigating to the cause and remedy.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

"I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles."

"Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me."

"At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing."

"I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

"If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years."

BEST OF PURIFYING AGENTS

Charcoal and Quiklime Are Nature's Remedy—How to Get Most Lasting Results

Charcoal and quiklime are the best known purifiers. The best plan for utilizing charcoal in the food closet or in the cellar bins where fruits or vegetables are kept is to suspend it in a net bag. Any coarse open net will do. Make a number of bags and suspend them in the closet or cellar bins. Do not powder the charcoal, but fill the bags with the lumps, and after they have had an opportunity to display their marvellous power to absorb all sorts of bad smells and mustiness, and leave the atmosphere pure and sweet, their usefulness will not be over. Remember that the power of charcoal to serve its purifying purposes is proportioned to its freshness, and the freshening process is restored by heating. At least once a week take the charcoal bags down, empty them in a fire pot kept for the purpose and heat the charcoal very hot. The freshened lumps may then be restored to the net bags and serve a new period of usefulness.

Boxes of lime and jars of plaster are very effective in absorbing dampness, but their useful properties are not fully secured unless these disinfecting and purifying absorbents can be placed in the best form to be effective and easily handled. In the form of a pad with the layers of lime or plaster or a combination of each evenly distributed, their absorbent qualities will be more than doubled.

WOMEN'S BANK MEETS WANT

London Institution, Run By and For the One Sex, Has Proved a Success.

The possibilities of banking as a career for women have been demonstrated by Farrow's Bank for Women, which was inaugurated a couple of years ago in London, and which, managed entirely by women, proved so successful that it was recently moved to new and enlarged quarters.

The bank's success, in the opinion of Mrs. Kate Reilly, the manager, is largely due to the hearty support it has received from women.

"The eagerness with which women of all classes and from all parts of the empire took up the idea of an institution devoted entirely to their needs was in itself a proof that Farrow's novel departure was fulfilling a long-felt want," Mrs. Reilly said.

"Our bank gives women the privilege of consulting one of their own sex about their business affairs."

"The business transacted here is the same as that transacted by any other joint stock bank, and the fact that all our staff consists of women is good evidence that one sex is not more gifted than the other in accuracy and a head for figures."

"A feature of our establishment here is a rendezvous room for our clients, where they can meet their friends and write letters."

Model Farm Colony.

The Brazilian "Jornal do Commercio" announces that the minister of finance of the state of Parana has received from the Brazil Railway company a report of the development of the fazenda at Caranaby, on the railway north of Ponta Grossa, which was acquired by the company to demonstrate the possibility of growing wheat, the latest modern machinery being imported therefor. Eighty houses have been built for colonists, and so far fourteen families have been established in them. The fazenda possesses pedigree stock, Swiss bulls of pure race having been imported, and includes a dairy fitted with most modern appliances, also from Switzerland, for making butter and cheese. An agricultural expert is on the fazenda for the purpose of instructing the colonists. An arrangement has been made for introducing colonists from Holland, and already 400 pounds of Dutch cheese are produced weekly, finding a market in Curitiba, Ponta Grossa and Sao Paulo.

Turkish Women's Strong Point.

Turkish women are said to have one accomplishment in which they excel the women of all other nationalities. They know how to sit. Hester Donaldson Jenkins calls attention to the fact that the Turkish verb to sit is used where occidentals would use to live, or stay, or visit. To the question, "Where are you living?" she gets the reply, "I am sitting in Stamboul." Or, to the question, "Are you married?" the answer will be "No, I am sitting at home." And when they sit they sit quietly, "in the perfect repose of a sleeping cat." They don't have to keep their hands busy. They crochet or knit. They just sit.
