President Fairfax Harrison most of the other high officials of the system arrived here this morning from Washington and other points. A special train brought many of the officials from the capital.

Colonel Andrews was born Franklin county in July, 1841. He was of a steadfast Christian character all his life, and was popular throughout the East, especially with railroad men. He was a captain in the Confederate army and sustained severe wounds. He became superintendent of the old Raleigh & Gaston Railroad in 1867, was the dominant factor in the construction of other lines, and was made first vice-president of the Southern immediately upon its organization.

of Taylor's Creek, Carteret county, would have been completed last week, but this was prevented by a slight mishap to some of the machinery, and it will probably be the last of this week before the work is finished. The dredging of this creek means considerable to the people in the extreme eastern part of the country. It affords the people hving in that section a new inlet to Beautort, which is a shorter and considerable

It was expected that the dredge, which is owned by the Sun Dredging and Construction Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., would be moved from Taylor's ereck to Beaufort to complete the work of filling in Front street, but this will not be the case. It has been stated that the dredge will be carried to Morehead City where it will be used to throw up an embankment between the Atlantic hotel and the pier, on which will be built side tracks sufficient for the storage of about a ear load of stone.

Just a Word To The Wise

Mr Editor: I see in the last issue of your pa per that when the commissioners hold their next monthly meeting in your city that they will be asked to call an election on the stock law question for the section of Craven county located on the south side of Neuse river. Now, I always thought it a good idea to let well enough alone. No doubt but what some few would be benefited by the enactment of dreds that this law would ruin. We have thousands of acres of open range in this county. Let us think for a moment what the cost would amount to if we had to fence this land for this land it would be impossible to raise half enough beef and meat to supply this county, and at this time our city friends are having to pay IS LAID AT REST 18 cents per pound for his beef, so you see if we get this law, it will 18 cents per pound for his beef, so only be a question of time, and very short time' when beef will be out of we can't supply the demand from the pastures and there will be only a few that can fence in good size pastures and the balance will be entirely out. So give us our free range, as we have always had, and as God intended for his people to have. If Mr. A. or Mr. R. wants to raise his pure-bred stock to ship away, he can have his pasture and do so just the same, without trying to take our privilege away from us. We cersome time the cry for more stock has been heard. The people of the South have at last begun to realize this. We must have more stock to supply the demand and there is only one way to meet this demand, and that's by having more and better range for our stock. So you see we don't need the stock law in this county. Very few farmers of the South have the funds to buy wire for their pastures, and enough purebred stock to fill those pastures. The average farmer has had very little experience with the growing of purebreds, and fewer still have had any experience with the care and management of a pure-bred herd. Purebreds to do their best must have special care. So you see there are only a few farmers that have any experience along this line. And this would cause a meat famine in a very short All we can hear is tick eradication, the same kind of ticks are here now that were here during our fore-fathers lives, and we have never heard that they were seriously affected by the use of impure meats. Anyway they lived longer and were more healthy than we are now. For instance let us take notice of the thousands of nice fat steers that are shipped every year from the middle west to the packing houses of Chica-go, St. Louis and other points and these steers come off of the open ranges and command fancy prices. So instead of less range, we need more range, so let us do all we can be Everybody well at this writing to do away with this nuisance—the
