With RED DEVIL LYE

THE NEW WAY

THE OLD WAY

Mr. King Pharr, canner, of Catherine, Ala., wrote us as follows:
"At your suggestion I tried Red Devil Lye for peeling peaches. It was so successful that I bought six cases and am saving $25.00 to $50.00 every day—and peeling thousands of bushels. I feel that I must thank you."

ALLEGED HOME INVADER WOUNDED BY HUSBAND

Birmingham, July 6—George Constandis, a Greek, was shot and probably fatally injured by R. H. Turner at the latter's home at East Lake shortly before midnight. Two bullets struck Constandis and he was also seriously cut with a pocketknife by Turner. His condition is critical. Turner issued a statement that he had repeatedly warned Constandis to keep away from his home, the Greek's alleged attention to Turner's wife being given as the cause of the shooting.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting
Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used."

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man. Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are some symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit.

Its 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Theodor's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. W. E. S.

Twin Tires?—No

One's a Goodyear as it Might Be
The Other Costs Us $1,635,000 More

This is to prove that you can't judge tires by looks.

Here are two Goodyear tires, seemingly identical. But one is built like many of its rivals. Goodyear extras are omitted. The other has those hidden values. And those unseen extras, on this year's output, will cost us $1,635,000.

This year's betterments alone add to our cost $500,000 yearly. Yet our 1915 price reduction saves our users about five million dollars.

No Price Excuse

This is not a price excuse. Goodyear prices have been fairly racing down. Our big production made the third in two years, totaling 43 per cent. No equal tire can compete.

with the Goodyear, because of our matchless output. None does. Goodyear excels all other tires in at least five important ways.

You Deserve It

You deserve the Goodyear quality when you buy a tire. You deserve Fortified Tires, with the No-Rim-Cut feature, the "On-Air" cure, our extra-strong fabric, our number of plies. You deserve anti-skids; our All-Weather tread, tough, double-thick and resilient.

These things have brought Goodyear the largest sale in the world. They are saving our users millions of dollars yearly.

They are at your command. Any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires. (201)

BECKER WILL PROBABLY GET ANOTHER RESPITE

WOULD-BE-SLAYER OF MORGAN TRIES TO END OWN LIFE

With a Lead Pencil He Gashes His Wrist—Not Serious

PLAN FRUSTRATED

Morgan's Condition Yesterday Continued Favorable

Mineola, L. I., July 6—Holt attempted suicide last night by gashing his wrist with a lead pencil. The turnkey frustrated his attempt. A doctor was hurriedly summoned and sewed up the wound. Holt lost considerable blood, but is in no danger. Officials considered significant the fact that Holt made the attempt soon after learning that he is suspected of being Erich Muentzer.

A pretty young girl who refused to give her name, created a sensation at the county jail by trying to see Holt. She was refused admittance. She had a letter, it is supposed from the chief of police of Dallas. Holt disclaimed knowledge of the identity of the girl.

Was Restless

Holt spent a restless night, tossing about on his cot, from which he had been unable to rise during the day, and muttering to himself at intervals. His keepers had taken from him his belt, his suspenders and every other article they thought he could use in attempted suicide. He had seemed so despondent during the day that a strict watch had been kept.

After several hours of the night had passed without sleep, Holt called for a pencil saying he wanted to write to his wife. A lead pencil and a pad of paper were brought.

The attendant remained in the cell a few minutes and Holt turning on his side, apparently started to write.

The attendant then left. Within less than five minutes he passed Holt's cell again and noticed the prisoner seemed to be in pain. Entering the cell he found blood flowing from a jagged cut in his wrist.

The pencil was found on the cot. Holt had extracted the rubber eraser and with his teeth had bitten the metal which held it until the edges met, forming a fairly sharp weapon. Apparently Holt had not reached the artery. He had cut a vein, however. To the warden's questions as to why he attempted to kill himself, Holt refused to reply.

Chicago, July 6—Professor John Maxwell Crowe, a teacher at the University high school of Chicago said today he believed the identity of Frank Holt, who shot J. P. Morgan, might be cleared up by looking for certain scars on his body.

"Photographs and Holt's conduct suggest strongly to me that he really is Erich Muentzer, who disappeared nine years ago after the death of his wife," said Prof. Crowe. However, there were scars on Muentzer's body left by repeated operations for a chronic malady which should be shown on Holt, if they are the same person.

"Muentzer and I were married about the same time in 1902 and we went to live in the same flat building. He was brilliant and a tireless student.

Going East to Investigate

"Before I ever saw the photographs of Holt I thought he might be Muentzer although for years I had believed the latter dead. The suggestion came to me when I was reading Holt's statement. 'That sounds like Muentzer,' I thought.

Ottmar M. Krembs, a brother of Muentzer's wife, said today that he would go east to assist in clearing up Holt's identity. He has a number of photographs of Muentzer, some of them without the beard, and he declared them strikingly similar to pictures.

Out of Danger

Glen Cove, July 6—Mr. Morgan's physicians today announced that the financier is "practically out of danger." They will issue no more bulletins as to his condition. Mr. Morgan is restless at having to stay in bed. He feels that he will be able to be up shortly.

THE RUSSIAN LINE PIERCED

Berlin, July 6—The Russian line near Krasnik has been pierced, part of the army being driven eastward and the other part toward Lublin. Ivargard and Warsaw are threatened by the Austro-German advance.

Paris, July 6—Over trenches wrecked by French artillery, a British regiment today fought its way to a brilliant victory southwest of Pilkon. It was officially announced. A most violent battle is raging from Arras northward to the sea. Arras was bombarded all night.

Miss Fannie Wade returned last night from a visit to friends and relatives in Kinston.

His Counsel Believes That He Will Be Allowed Time To Tell About "Big Tim" Sullivan's Death.

New York, July 6—When every other legal weapon has been used, a last effort to save the life of Charles Becker, former Police Lieutenant, will be made through a John Doe inquiry into the mysterious death on Aug. 31, 1913, of "Big Tim" Sullivan, former political boss of the east side.

Jack Rose, Bridgie Weber and Harry Vallon will be summoned as witnesses, and testimony will be demanded of them regarding Sullivan's relations with Becker, Herman Rosenthal and with themselves.

Such a Move Sure

That such a legal move is seriously contemplated was learned today from a source that cannot be questioned. It will not be made until every effort to obtain a habeas corpus writ and the removal of the case to the Federal Courts on a writ of error has been exhausted.

"Big Tim" Knew Murder Facts.

In the application for the holding of such an inquiry—an application that need not emanate from the District Attorney's office, but which may be made by Becker's lawyers to any judicial officer in the county—it will be alleged that "Big Tim" at the time of his death was in possession of all the facts concerning the murder of the gambler Rosenthal.

Attention will be called to the fact that Sullivan for years had been acknowledged by the police and by gamblers and gangsters as the unseen power behind the Police Department, gamblers who wished to open new houses under police protection went to him; police officers asked his advice, and he controlled the leaders of the east side gangs.

"Fixed It" With Becker

The application will be made, as is known, that Rosenthal went to Sullivan to speak about opening his West Forty-third Street gambling house. Then will follow the story of how the "Big Fellow" summoned Becker to his office and told the Police Lieutenant to let Rosenthal open up; how Becker anxiously inquired if Sullivan had "fixed it" at Headquarters and how the politician assured him everything there was all right.

The general line of argument that will be followed by the law firm for Becker at the inquiry will be something of this fashion:

Jack Rose and Rosenthal quarreled after the gambler opened his upper Tenderloin place. Almost simultaneously Becker and Rosenthal also had a falling out. Then on July 16, 1912, Rosenthal was murdered, and soon afterward Rose, Becker, Vallon and Weber, all were accused of conspiring to bring about the gambler's death.

Expected Jury Disagreement

"Big Tim" Sullivan knew all about Rosenthal's death who accomplished it and the reasons for it. But Sullivan did not intend that Becker should go to the electric chair. He was confident in his own mind that a jury disagreement would free the Lieutenant, and feeling this confidence, he did not believe it wise for political reasons to trust his own personal knowledge into the case.

Becker was convicted of murder in the first degree in November, 1912. Some time in the winter of 1912-13 "Big Tim" collapsed mentally and physically, and had to be sent to a sanitarium. The exact date of that collapse never was made public, but Becker's lawyers contend that it occurred after Becker's conviction and that the shock of the conviction caused Sullivan's complete breakdown.

GETTING READY FOR TOURNAMENT

Firemen and Citizens Are Preparing for the Visitors

With the State Firemen's Tournament only a month distant the members of the local fire companies and the citizens are getting in readiness to receive the visitors and to make their stay here one long to be remembered. The Tournament will not begin until Tuesday, August 10th, but many of the firemen will arrive on Sunday and others on Monday and Tuesday night. Local hotels are making arrangements to take care of all who come and there will be no increase of rates at any of the places. In addition to the events mentioned in the official program there will be boat races, trips down the river, exhibitions in high pressure water throwing by New Bern motor driven combination fire engines and other events. Altogether, it will be some occasion and those who attend may rest assured that they will have the time of their life.
