

Peeling Peaches
With RED DEVIL LYE

THE NEW WAY

Mr. King Pharr, corner of Catherine, Ala., wrote us as follows:

"At your suggestion I tried Red Devil Lye for peeling peaches. It was so successful that I bought six cases and am saving $25.00 to $50.00 every day—and peeling thousands of bushels. I feel that I must thank you."

MANY REMEMBERED BY ISAAC SMITH

Eccentric Negro Placed His Bequests All Over the State

Among those who will share in the hundred thousand dollar estate left by Isaac Smith are:

To the following sisters-in-law he left the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars each, Charlotte, Amy and Rita Rhone and the same amount was left to his mother-in-law, Henrietta Rhone.

He bequeathed the sum of five hundred dollars to Shaw University at Raleigh and five hundred dollars to the National Religious Training School situated in Raleigh and Durham. The amount is to be equally divided between the schools in the two cities.

He left two hundred and fifty dollars to the children of Rev. J. L. Taylor, former rector of St. Cyprian church. The amount to be divided equally among them.

His home at number forty seven Johnson street was left to his wife during the period of her natural life. The will provides that the building shall be kept in repairs, all taxes, water and light bills, insurance, etc., are to be paid by the trustee.

The will provided that the sum of twelve hundred dollars be paid A. T. Dill, each year for his services in administering on the estate, and acting as trustee. Also that one hundred dollars be paid to the trustee on the twenty-fourth of December of each year as a Christmas gift, and that twenty-five dollars be paid to his attorney O. H. Guion or W. B. R. Guion as a Christmas gift.

One thousand dollars is to be put aside to be given to the different colored churches in the city, excepting St. Cyprian, when they are in pressing need. Also a thousand dollars is to be disposed of in the same manner with the secret organizations of the city.

His wife is to be paid the sum of twenty five dollars per week and his three children will receive at the rate of twelve dollars and fifty cents per week.

NO COLONISTS FOR LAND IN CRAVEN

Plenty of Folks Right Here at Home to Do the Work

S. E. Tilton, of Delaware, Ohio, who has recently purchased the large tract of land situated near Havelock and owned by Ex-Judge D. L. Ward, left Monday night for his home. Mr. Tilton is very much pleased with his newly acquired property and intends to develop it as soon as possible. He will return to New Bern some time in September and will make his home in New Bern, but he will spend the greater part of his time looking over the improvements that he will have made to the property.

When interviewed by a Journal reporter in regard to the manner in which he would develop the land, Mr. Tilton stated that it had been reported that he would bring a colony here from Ohio, but he had no idea from what source the information was received. He stated that there are plenty of people in his home State that would be glad to come here on his recommendation, but at present he would not bring any colony here. He stated that after he had fully developed the property he would probably put it up in small farms, and then if Ohio farmers wanted to come here and buy farms he would be glad to sell them.

WHISKY AND BRANDY BANNED AS "MEDICINE"

Washington, July 13.—On and after January 1, 1916, according to an announcement just made here, whisky and brandy will not be recognized as "medicine" in the United States pharmacopoeia, and, therefore, druggists may not sell either article without a liquor dealer's license.

The pharmacopoeia is the official publication for the country, and nothing that is not listed therein can be sold as medicine. Brandy and whisky were eliminated on order of the revision committee, but Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, president of the United States pharmacopoeia convention, today said he could not give the ground for this action. Little liquor is said now to be sold on prescription.

WILSON TO RETURN LATTER PART WEEK

President to Reach Washington About Friday

Washington, July 13.—The President will probably return to Washington the latter part of this week, Tuesday today announced. This disposes of the possibility that Lansing will go to Cornish. It is understood that Secretary Lansing will be ready to present his views on the German reply when the President returns. Mr. Lansing today said he is not looking up new laws for a reply. This materially strengthened the belief that the reply will be a reiteration of the former American notes.

State Department advices from Eagle Pass today confirmed the Villa victory at Barroterran, where the Villistas under General Hernandez, defeated the Carranzistas.

Revolutionary methods in the American navy is the prediction of Secretary Daniels as the outcome of the department's enlisting the services of Edison and other inventors to form a civilian board of inventions and development. Mr. Daniels expects the naval laboratory to be in Washington. Among others who probably will form the board, Orville Wright, John Hays Hammond, Henry Ford, Nikola Tesla and Cooper Hewitt will be members.

TRIO OF ENIGMAS ATTEMPT ASSAULT

White Woman Had Narrow Escape in Virginia Town

Bowling Green, Va., July 13.—At 2 o'clock this morning the home of Mrs. Burnley Coleman, at Rappahannock Academy, thirteen miles from this place, was entered by three unidentified negro men. The men made an attempt to assault Mrs. Coleman, but she resisted and the men were frightened away when they heard someone passing along the road. The men jumped through the window and made their escape.

Mrs. Coleman was alone, save for the presence of her invalid daughter, aged eighteen, who was not molested. Sheriff Gill was apprised and sent this afternoon at 1 o'clock a report was received that two of the men had been captured, but this is not definitely known.

Mrs. Coleman lives in Washington D. C., but came to this county to spend the summer at her country home. The trip was made because of the health of her daughter. Mrs. Coleman is the widow of the late Chaastain Coleman, a noted educator, and the daughter of the late Frank Bouldin.

LIGHTNING PLAYS PRANKS

Does Considerable Damage Around Kinston

Kinston, July 13.—Two inmates of the county farm severely shocked and a valuable mule killed and the stables set on fire at Mr. George West's farm in San Hill township, was the toll of the lightning in this county yesterday.

With its usual frankness the inmates at the county farm were victims of the lightning in entirely different parts of the building, while others in the same room with them escaped any injury whatever. The Gooch woman was badly shocked and one side of her body quite severely burned and Rowe was stunned.

The lightning struck the stables at Mr. West's and killed his most valuable mule, stunned others into deafness and set fire to the stables. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done, however, and it is believed the other mules will recover.

SUNDAY SCHOOL EXPERT COMING

W. W. Brabham to Pay Visit to New Bern and Bridgeton

M. W. Brabham, Sunday School Field Secretary for the North Carolina Conference is to visit the Methodist churches of New Bern Wednesday and Thursday of this week. He will meet with the Bridgeton congregation Wednesday night, with the Riverside congregation Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and with Centenary Thursday night.

Mr. Brabham is an expert in the Sunday school work, and is a pleasing speaker. He is confident in making addresses or conducting institute work. Since the Sunday school is one of the most important branches of any church, all who are interested in any way in this work will do well to hear him. Those who are not at present workers in the Sunday school should hear him. Such might be inspired to do such work. The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Brabham.

CHARMING VENUS SHOCKS BATHERS

Young Woman on Beach in Skin-Tight Bathing Suit

Norfolk, July 13.—What would you do if on a sultry afternoon you were lying listless as an alligator on the hot sands of a beach and an apparition of Venus de Milo—arms and all—clad in the scantiest of one-piece pale green messaline bathing suit that fitted her form as smoothly and close as the bark on a sycamore tree appeared there before you? Huh? What would you do? Most likely you would do exactly what that two thousand or more rude men did at Ocean View yesterday afternoon when an understudy of Venus appeared in their midst.

The air was sultry and the tide was out. A few bathers were in the surf, but the greater part of them were lying sprawled out on the sand along the beach. Suddenly there emerged from the bath house a spectacle that made the sleepy rouse up and take another look and caused the wide-awake to gasp in astonishment. Daintily and demurely, a tall girl with a form of a Grecian goddess, walked out of the house and took a seat on the sand. She was accompanied by several other girls and three cavaliers, but nobody noticed her companions. The girl wore a creation such as has never been seen at Ocean View before. It was a soft messaline suit in a delicate shade of green that fitted her body like a glove. It reached half way between her waist and her knees. White silk stockings reached almost to the bottom of the skirt, and in between there was a tantalizing glimpse of pink.

Everybody on the beach crowded round her, and everybody in the surf came ashore. She talked unceremoniously with her companions and paid no attention to the furore she was creating. At length she decided to take a dip in the water. Leisurely, she stood up, and with her companions started for the water. The whole cavalcade on the beach moved in a mass after her. Out into the water she went, and the crowd followed, open-mouthed.

After a while she dipped down in the water, and when she came up, there was a revelation. Evidently she had not counted on the effect of the soft silk in the water. When she arose, a shriek issued from the crowd. Then she lost her temper, and turning flashed eyes upon the interested audience, proceeded to tell them just what kind of rude, uncivil animals they were. Then she dipped back down in the water and stayed there for several minutes. Meantime the crowd was thickening, and the men on the shore who were not fortunate enough to be in bathing costumes were approaching perilously close to the water's edge, in an effort to see what was going on.

At this juncture, a life guard in a boat, rowed up and attempted to disperse the crowd. He couldn't do it. That was beyond mortal power. He then ordered the girl to go to the bath house. With a disdainful toss of her head, she started for the shore, and the mob followed her.

After she disappeared inside the bath house it was some time before the atmosphere cleared completely. Soon, however, the excitement died down, and in twenty minutes, listlessness had again seized the crowd, and the men resumed their indolent dozing in the sand, awaiting the sight of another "Venus rising from the seething foam."

BRUTAL HUSBAND MUTILATES WIFE

Shot Her in Both Legs While She Begged Mercy

Dunn, July 13.—Mrs. Luella Messer lies in a precarious condition in a local hospital as the result of gunshot wounds in both legs, said to have been inflicted by her husband, James Messer, at their home two miles west of here this morning.

The wounded woman is young, attractive and the mother of three small children. As she tells the story, her husband had been in bad temper all day. About 11 o'clock he came to her with a double barrel shotgun and when within 10 feet of her he fired, striking her left leg. She begged him not to shoot again, she alleged, but her remonstrance was futile. He fired the other load into her right leg.

She then started toward town for medical attention. A neighbor home she fell fainting in the roadway, where shortly afterwards she was discovered by a mail carrier, Tyrus Thornton, and brought here. She ascribes no reason for her husband's action. Messer had not been apprehended.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO KILL BRITISH AMBASSADOR

New York, July 13.—Government agents are investigating reports of an attempt to assassinate British Ambassador Spring-Rice. It is known that secret service men have been advised that the British diplomat has been threatened with bodily harm.

26 FREIGHT CARS ARE WRECKED

Rocky Mount, July 13.—Probably the worst freight wreck in the history of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad occurred near Hope Mills, N. C., late yesterday, when a train ran over coupling beams that had been thrown upon the track and 26 cars were piled up in a mass of wreckage.

Following close behind the freight was a refrigerator train. It collided with the first wreck and thirty more cars were added to the mass.

Several trainmen were slightly injured, but no one seriously.

Wrecking trains were sent out from Rocky Mount, Wilmington, Fayetteville, and Florence. Traffic all over the system felt the effects of the big wreck, and some through trains were delayed for more than 15 hours. The damage has not been estimated.

COM. H. L. GIBBS IS A BUSY MAN

State Fish Commissioner H. L. Gibbs, of Oriental, is a very busy man these days and practically all of his time is taken up with the work that he has to do in connection with his office. Several meetings of the commission have been held during the past few weeks and a number of rules and regulations for the guidance of the fishermen in Eastern North Carolina have been made. Mr. Gibbs' task now is to see that these are made known to the fishermen and that they are observed. This is somewhat of a task but Mr. Gibbs is equal to the occasion and is doing the work well. He is very enthusiastic over the conservation of North Carolina's fishing interests and talks interestingly of the subject at all times.

W. C. White, of New Bern, R. F. D., spent yesterday in the city attending to business.

BATHING SUITS DRAWING CROWD

Some of Those Seen at Morehead City Are Rather Risky

Visitors to the bathing beaches near Morehead City are this season being regaled with something new in the line of bathing suits and, according to the version of some, that is one reason that such large crowds are flocking to that watering place. Staid old Morehead City is copying after the more fashionable places, such as Atlantic City, Coney Island and other resorts and in consequence the raiment of some of the fair bathers would make Solomon in all his glory turn green with envy. One young woman a few days ago appeared on the beach in a salmon colored creation made of silk. Now silk doesn't act very well after being wet and while the young woman attracted considerable attention before taking a dip in the briny, it is said that there was a regular riot after she had made two or three plunges beneath the waves and returned to the beach for a sun bath. However, there is a line drawn at too much immodesty and those who go there with the intention of shocking anyone would do well to beware before making the start.

A LIVELY SCRAP AT COURT HOUSE

Willard-Johnson Exhibition Not in Class With This Bout

County Commissioner Thomas Holton gave a very realistic exhibition of his fistie prowess yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Craven county Board of Equalization when he resented an assertion made by Joseph Tingle that he was walking in the footsteps of Old man Ananias. The trouble started when Mr. Tingle complained about the high rate of valuation placed on a certain piece of property. Commissioner Holton took up the discussion and this waxed warmer and warmer until the two came to blows. Mr. Holton made several passes that would have done credit to Jess Willard, and presumably had his sparring partner at a disadvantage when they were parted. Sheriff Lane arrived on the scene and took both men into custody, and they were a short time later arraigned before Magistrate Charles Hancock on a charge of engaging in an affray. They were found guilty and taxed with the cost, which was equally divided between them.

MYSTIC SHRINERS ARE NOW IN SESSION

Seattle, Washington, July 13.—The question of creating new temples at Knoxville, Tenn., Houston, Texas, Roanoke, Va., and Manila, I., and the report of the Masonic war relief association of the United States were two of the most important matters pending at the opening today of the 41st annual session of the Imperial Council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The report of war relief association shows that $65,000 has been collected by Masons for the families of brothers killed or wounded in the countries at war in Europe.

TO SPEED UP PRODUCTION OF WAR MUNITIONS

Rome, July 13.—King Victor Emanuel, at the headquarters of General Cadorna, has signed a decree establishing a committee with supreme powers to speed up the production of war munitions. General Cadorna has ordered that under no circumstances should civilians on Austrian territory be harmed.

SCOW OVERTURNS; CARGO IS LOST

Five Hundred Tons of Rock Dumped at the Wrong Spot

Between four and five hundred tons of stone and a large snow worth several thousand dollars, went to the bottom two miles off Cape Lookout yesterday afternoon when the craft, which was carrying the stone to the Harbor of Refuge where it was intended for use in the construction of the breakwater, ran foul of a squall and turned turtle, sinking without any waiting. The scow was the property of D. L. Taylor & Company, who have the contract for the building of the breakwater, and will probably be saved, but the rock, worth quite a neat sum, is gone where it will never be seen again. There was no one on the vessel at the time of the accident and hence there was no one injured.
