TOBACCO MARKET OPENS NEXT WEEK

Dill Warehouse and Banner Warehouse Ready for the Season

All is ready for the opening of the New Bern tobacco market which will take place Wednesday, August the eighteenth. With the completion of the Banner Warehouse, which is one of the largest and finest in the State, New Bern has two of the best equipped tobacco warehouses to be found anywhere, and these are under the management of men who are thoroughly experienced in the tobacco business. The farmers may rest assured that if they sell at either of the local warehouses, the managers will see that they are paid the top-notch price for their product.

The stable capacity at the Dill warehouse has been increased one hundred per cent, and now the farmers will have no trouble in getting a place to keep their teams. Both the Dill and Banner warehouses are equipped with everything necessary for handling the weed to the best advantage. All of the principal tobacco companies will be represented on both floors as well as a number of smaller companies and independent buyers.

WARNING GIVEN TO ALL HUNTERS

"Laws Must Be Obeyed" Says U. S. Department of Agriculture

In order that there will be no misunderstanding next season the United States Department of Agriculture has issued a warning to sportsmen and pot-hunters that the Federal regulations for the protection of wild fowl must be observed:

The warning says: "With the approach of the open season for shooting wild fowl the United States Department of Agriculture is warning sportsmen that the Federal regulations as amended October 1, 1914, will be strictly enforced. Some misunderstanding has arisen from the fact that the various State laws do not always conform to the Federal regulations. This is regarded as unfortunate, but in such cases the department must insist upon the observance of the Federal regulations. "The department will consider any recommendations submitted in good faith for amendment of the regulations but will hold no public hearings thereon nor will it amend regulations made prior to October 5 1915. It is the purpose of the department to conform the regulations to the wishes of the majority of sportsmen so far as it can be done and at the same time give wild fowl the necessary protection."

"Federal regulations divide the United States into two zones. Zone No. 1, the breeding zone, includes the states of Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and all states north of them. Zone No. 2, the wintering zone includes all states south of those named. The regulations prescribe seasons as follows: Open season for migratory birds in 1915 under Federal regulations—Zone No. 2—Waterfowl, October 1 to January 16. Exception, Virginia, North Carolina, November 1 to February 1. South Carolina November 20 to February 16. Shore birds—Black-breasted and Golden Plover, Jacksnipe, Yellowlegs, September 1 to December 16. Exception, South Carolina. Insectivorous birds, protected indefinitely. Band-tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlew, and smaller shore birds protected until September 1, 1918. Shooting is prohibited between sunset and sunrise; or at any time on the Mississippi river between Minneapolis and Memphis, after January 1, 1915."

She went to the home of Pablo Arregola, in Piedras Negras, across the river from Eagle Pass, when she had recovered strength to travel. Senor Arregola was an old-time friend of her father. What the future has in store for her she does not know. Her parents and all of her near relatives were made victims of the blood lust of a band of brigands, led by the notorious "Pronto" Solva—"Quick" Solva, it would be in English. Solva murders, burns, tortures and robs men, women and children.

Tells of Miraculous Escape. It was at the home of Senor Arregola that Senorita Elina Lupeja told her story. Don Senor Pordento Lupeja, her father, was the owner of a vast landed estate and many rich mines. He and his family lived in feudal splendor just on the outskirts of the mining town of San Dimas. Elina was the only daughter. She was educated in the schools of Durango and the City of Mexico, finishing her higher course of learning in France, where she spent two years. The dark clouds were just beginning to gather over her native land when she returned from abroad.

"Sitting as we are, in the very heart of a rough mountain region, more than 100 miles from the nearest railroad point, we felt pretty secure for a time," said Senorita Elina. "We met with losses of property, to be sure, but all would have been fairly well with us, perhaps, had not the villain Solva come into San Dimas with his henchmen. His arrival was marked by a night of revelry in the cantinas or saloons of the town. Next day my father returned from his place of business with a sad face. To me he said that Solva had boasted that he would carry me off when he had finished his work of levying tribute upon the people of San Dimas."

MAKING PLANS FOR FEVER CAMPAIGN

Craven County Is to Wage Warfare Against Deadly Typhoid

Plans are being made for the anti-typhoid campaign which is to be waged in Craven county beginning the second week in September and lasting for two weeks, during which time it is expected that practically every person in the county will take the treatment. It will be well advertised throughout the county and judging from the interest that is already being taken in the campaign, it will be one of the most successful to be held in the State.

An appropriation of four hundred dollars was made by the Board of County Commissioners at their August meeting, for the purpose of carrying on this work. The serum will be furnished by the State Board of Health, without cost to the county, and the entire four hundred dollars, or as much as is necessary, will be spent for advertising and to pay the doctors who will administer the treatment. Dr. J. F. Rhem, county physician and Dr. J. F. Patterson, port physician have used their influence in making this campaign possible, and to their efforts, the fact that one is to be waged in this county, is largely due.

MEXICAN GIRL IS FINALLY RESCUED, SAW PARENTS SHOT

Daughter of Rich Rancher Taken from Rio Grande on American Side

Eagle Pass, Tex., Aug. 14.—Of all the heartrending cases that have come to the attention of border officials since the reign of terror began in Mexico, that of Senorita Elina Lupeja takes first rank. That this heroine should come through the thrilling experience and hardships alive and finally gain refuge on the Texas side of the Rio Grande is a matter of wonder. It was during the siesta period of the midday heat of a blistering summer sun that a Mexican goat herder on the river ranch of Frank Paddox, above Eagle Pass, heard the weak, feminine cries of some one in distress. The herder rushed to the near-by bank of the Rio Grande. In the murky water a young woman was struggling to reach the American shore. The herder brought her safely to this side. In a short time she had recovered her strength sufficiently to be taken to the ranchhouse.

She went to the home of Pablo Arregola, in Piedras Negras, across the river from Eagle Pass, when she had recovered strength to travel. Senor Arregola was an old-time friend of her father. What the future has in store for her she does not know. Her parents and all of her near relatives were made victims of the blood lust of a band of brigands, led by the notorious "Pronto" Solva—"Quick" Solva, it would be in English. Solva murders, burns, tortures and robs men, women and children.

SOLICIT AID FOR FIRE SUFFERERS

Two Bridgeton Ladies Devote Their Time to the Work

Bridgeton, Aug. 14.—Two of our good ladies have reported the results of their efforts to help some of the sufferers by the recent fire. Mrs. A. S. Johnson and Mrs. Eliza Taylor have been soliciting help for E. V. Foy and Mr. Ike Brinkley who are among those who lost a large part of their household goods and without any insurance at all. The cash collected was very little but the appreciation is very great just the same. The cash amounted to $5.45 which was collected from promiscuous sources and was about equally divided between these two parties. We wish to thank all who contributed and also for the clothing and shoes which were given by S. Coplon and Son, J. J. Baxter and Mrs. B. Allen. Mr. Foy and his family lost a part of their clothing and shoes and at Mr. Isaac Brinkley's all attention and efforts were taken and directed toward carefully removing Mr. Bud Barrington who had been so ill with typhoid fever for a long while, to a safe place, therefore he had but little time to devote to saving his goods and suffered a greater loss than he might have otherwise done. The help was therefore in good time and worthily bestowed in each case. We again thank the good ladies who took up the contributions and also all who contributed. Let us hear from others that we may report them and offer our thanks in a worthy way.

The petition that has been made by voluntary efforts for the appointment of Miss Belle Stapleford to the postmistresship of Bridgeton has been signed by a large majority of the people of the town and it seems to indicate that if she will take the examination that she will have no trouble to get the office if she wants it. Misses Ruby Adams and Rosie Garrison and Mr. Lonnie Adams of Grifton, N. C., are guests of Mrs. M. F. Pugh. Mr. L. D. CONFERENCE CHANGED
North Carolina Methodists to Assemble First of December
Not only local Methodism, but Methodists throughout the State will be interested to know that a change in date from November 17th to December 1st, has been made in the time for the holding of the annual North Carolina Conference in Wilmington. Recently at the District Conference at Rose Hill the postponement of the date for the annual conference was recommended and preceding elders of other districts in North Carolina were asked as to the change, with the result that it is said to have met with unanimous approval, the consent of the Bishop to the change having readily been given. The change will give all the churches and districts practically two months longer to complete their annual reports to conference and in many other ways the later date is said to be preferable. Bishop John C. Kilgo will preside at the Wilmington conference and between 400 and 500 ministers, delegates and others will be there for the session. As usual the visitors will be entertained in the homes of Wilmington people and arrangements for the entertainment will soon be undertaken by committees of the several Methodist churches in Wilmington.

Mrs. Battle McMillan of Lenoir is in the city, a guest of Miss Daise Edwards at No. 174 Middle street. Mrs. McMillan, who is a former New Bernian, has been spending some time at Beaufort and is now enroute to her home.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, aches, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century. Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
