GASTONIA, THE SOUTH'S CITY OF SPINDLES.

MONDAY, MAY 10, 1920.

AN AMERICAN PLATFORM.

From widely separated portions of this country are audible faint chirpings of many gentlemen of both parties, all in receptive mood in regard to the greatest, the gravest, the most responsible and most terrible job that any man can have on the earth today—the Presidency of the United States of America.

Our platform has four planks. These planks are: America, Law, Order, Work. Taken together, these spell no more than common sense. Taken together, they automatically will end hysteria.

Pray observe, there is no labor plank in this platform. There is a better word. It means much that "labor" does not mean today. It is a short word, but one of the biggest and best in our language—Work!

—Robert Quillen, of Fountain Inn, S. C., in Saturday Evening Post.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Gazette hopes that the revival of the movement for a Y. M. C. A. for Gastonia, mention of which was made Saturday, will not result in vain. This city is big enough in every way to support a Y. M. C. A., and its citizens are prosperous enough to build one, even without the handsome nucleus fund available.

A POLL OF THE WOMEN.

The Gaston county representatives in the General Assembly would like an expression of sentiment from the women of the county as to the suffrage amendment which will come up at the special session this summer.

We note that there is to be a similar poll conducted in Union county for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the women of that county.

The Gazette would be willing to conduct such a straw vote through the medium of this newspaper if such a procedure were acceptable to the women of the county.

GASTON'S CANDIDATE

Major Bulwinkle returned to the city Saturday from a week of campaigning in the mountains. He brings back encouraging reports from every corner of the mountains. Naturally, he would say this, but from other disinterested sources, the same information has trickled into Bulwinkle campaign headquarters here.

Major Bulwinkle has the lead on all of them. He was in the race some weeks before the others announced themselves. He has that advantage. Then, the withdrawal of Solicitor Wilson has aided Mr. Bulwinkle's candidacy. That there were two candidates from Gaston county in the race was disquieting to many who thought that the nomination ought to go to a Gaston county man. "But," said they, "if you can't agree among yourselves as to your candidate, neither can we. You are about as bad as Mecklenburg was a few years ago."

But, since the withdrawal of Wilson, the major's candidacy has been picking up right along. He has gone again this week to the western part of the district.

THE ORPHANAGE.

One of the most important matters that came up today in the final sessions of the A. R. P. Synod was the matter of the location of a big orphanage in the eastern bounds of the denomination's territory. Linwood college is favored above all the other locations offered for consideration.

THE A. R. P. SYNOD.

The A. R. P. Synod which has been in session in Gastonia for the past three or four days adjourned today. Their stay with us has been delightful. It has been a real pleasure to have these godly men in our midst.

THE WAY IT GOES.

The Gastonia Gazette announces that police authorities are giving notice that the law prohibiting the use of open cutouts and glaring headlights on the streets of Gastonia is to be strictly enforced. Good, but for how long? It is the common failing of towns in this State to develop spasms of law-enforcement of the kind, only to forget about it in a short time—and then the evil springs up again in aggravated form.

BELMONT BUDGET

BELMONT, May 10.—The following program was carried out Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when Rev. Dr. J. H. Henderlite, of Gastonia, preached the annual sermon to the graduating class of the Belmont high school at the school auditorium.

"Hark, Hark, My Soul," by the choir.

"Bless, O My Soul," by the congregation.

Prayer by Rev. J. T. Dendy.

"Somebody Knows," by the choir.

Scripture reading by Rev. J. E. Thompson.

"Jesus Calls," by the choir.

Announcements, by Superintendent Fitzgerald.

Sermon, by Dr. J. H. Henderlite.

Trio, "Nearer Thy Presence."

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" by the congregation.

Benediction, Rev. R. G. Mate.

In introducing Dr. Henderlite to the audience Superintendent Fitzgerald remarked that he was presenting not only an able preacher but a man.

In a few introductory remarks Dr. Henderlite expressed his pleasure at being in Belmont and complimented the Belmont schools on being among the best in the state.

Taking for his text the parable of the Good Samaritan, Luke 10:30-37, Dr. Henderlite gave a splendid and inspiring sermon, particularly appropriate for the young people, who will soon begin to choose which pathway they must take.

He characterized the journey of life as being composed of two sides—the "other" side taken by the Good Samaritan and "this" side taken by the Levite and the priest.

The "other" side is the side of service, self-sacrifice and love for one's fellowman. It is the side that demands hard work, is not always pleasant, some times expensive and not conducive to a long life, while "this" side, which is that of self-interest, has many pleasant features, is a very easy side, more comfortable, less expensive and gives longer life, as it is less strenuous.

However, the great thought about life is not the quantity but the quality of the life lived. The happiest man at Jericho was the Samaritan. Let the measure of your life be not what you take out of it but what you put into it. The true Samaritan is Christ, and the only way to walk with him is to be on the side of the Good Samaritan, for Christ Himself was always found helping the needy and distressed.

Telling the young people of the need of the world today for help and service and that the demand for it had never been so great, he stressed the necessity of their choosing which side they expected to travel. He ended with the plea that they choose the side of service and sacrifice, the side of Christ, and to so live their lives that after they had passed away they would leave an influence for good behind.

The choir, composed of members of the Belmont Glee club, rendered their part of the program beautifully. The trio, "Nearer Thy Presence," sung by Miss Lyda Rankin, Mrs. Robert Cox and Mr. R. H. Bennett, was especially enjoyable. There were no morning services in any of the churches of the town and the large school auditorium was filled to its capacity.

CLOVER CULLINGS.

Correspondence of The Daily Gazette.

CLOVER, S. C., May 10.—Mrs. Meuse of Carthage, N. C., is visiting the family of Mr. G. W. Pleasants.

The district meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held in York Friday. The president of the South Carolina division, Mrs. Lawton, of Charleston, was present and gave a most helpful talk. Miss Mary Williams was also on the program and spoke most interestingly of the work. A delicious luncheon was served by the York ladies in the McNeil Memorial building. The following ladies from Clover were in attendance: Mrs. J. E. Beauguard, president; Andrew Jackson chapter, Mrs. R. A. Jackson, Mrs. W. P. Grier, Mrs. W. H. Pursley, Mrs. W. M. Matthews, and Mrs. R. L. Wylie.

Mrs. James A. Page and Mrs. John M. Smith attended the A. R. P. Synod in Gastonia Friday. Mrs. Page went to Charlotte to attend the music festival.

Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work. I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head. I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties. I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me." Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right.
