

ARMENIAN FAMILIES ARE BEING REUNITED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 12.—Hundreds of Armenian families are being reunited monthly through the efforts of the members of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East who are scattered throughout the leading cities of Asia Minor with headquarters in this city. In the deportations of the last four years Armenians have been shuttled about the world various military movements with the result that nearly every family is searching for news of missing members.

Levon Shamlan, a young Armenian is now a successful merchant at Balikeshir, recently located his mother and young sister, through an advertisement printed in a local paper by Miss Caris E. Mills, of Princeton, N. J., who is directing the American movement to unite Armenian families. Shamlan is preparing a home for them in Balikeshir.

The history of the Shamlan family is typical of the experiences Armenians suffered at the hands of the Turks. They lived in Bitlis, in the far eastern part of Asia Minor. Levon Shamlan and his family were separated from the rest of the family by the Turks and Levon was forced to go into the Turkish army and has never heard from his father. His grandmother and grandfather were killed. His mother was taken as a maid servant by Kurds. The mother and daughter came upon each other unexpectedly in the American refuge at Aintab, both having walked hundreds of miles and suffered terrible hunger and hardship in their search for relatives and safety.

Lists of orphans will also be printed in Armenian papers in America in the hope of finding homes for thousands of homeless children who may have friends or relatives in America. The American committee had nearly 30,000 orphans in the Constantinople district alone, and nearly twice that number in the Beirut area.

RATIFICATION DOUBTFUL.

Statesville Landmark.

It is apparent that neither the Delaware nor the Louisiana Legislature will ratify the suffrage amendment to its constitution, and thus "the hook" is passed to the North Carolina Assembly which at its special session soon to convene will have the opportunity and the privilege of completing the ratification. It has been a matter of serious doubt whether the North Carolina solons would ratify the amendment in any event, and the prospect of favorable action would appear more doubtful still in the event North Carolina is to have the final say whether the women shall participate in the fall elections. If Delaware or Louisiana should ratify North Carolina might add one for good measure and seek to take credit accordingly. But if North Carolina's refusal will stand the whole business off until after the November elections. The Landmark, knowing something of the sentiment that controls North Carolina politics, inclines to the opinion that the amendment will meet the fate it seems to have met in Delaware and Louisiana; and the fact that organized opposition to ratification is becoming vocal in the State is additional evidence on which to base this opinion.

"There is no element of chance in revival work, if we meet the conditions."

An aerial police force is not new. For centuries crops have been protected from insects by flying squadrons of bird policemen.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly . . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three . . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children . . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.
