SUNDAY IN GASTONIA CHURCHES

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES GATHERED HERE AND THERE FOR READERS OF THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Reach Your Hand to Me. With its heartiest wishes. Sometime there will come a day. To its present faithfulness. Sometime I may ask it again. For the touch of its again. When between us hand of sea. Holds it ever back from me.

Sometime I may need it so. Groping somewhere in the night. It will seem to me as though. Just a touch, however slight. Would make all the darkness day. And along some sunny way. Lead me through an April shower. Of my tears to this fair hour.

Oh, the present is too sweet. To go on forever thus. Round the corner of the street. Who can say what waits for us? Meeting, greeting, night and day. Faring each the self same way. Still somewhere the path must end. Neath your hand to me, my friend.

Jesus, a friend that sticketh closer than a brother, holds out His hand, pierced for our sins, to lead us ever on. Prince and Shepherd Boy. True friendship recognizes no caste of birth, inherited qualities or station in life. Noble and heroic deeds bind our hearts together in loyal and noble friendship and though but a stripling of a shepherd boy, David by his courage and valor, in overcoming the mighty giant, won the heart and lasting, loyal friendship of the prince and heir apparent, Jonathan. The crucial test of all friendship is sacrifice and Jonathan, full well knowing that David's great victory over the barbarian Goliath, meant the transference of the crown from his own to David's brow, submitted cheerfully and became the friend that David so much stood in need of.

Prayer Meeting Postponed. All ministers in Gaston county are urged to be present.

Holy Trinity Church. Rev. J. C. Dierz will conduct the usual services of the day at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church tomorrow.

RETURNED WAR VETERANS NOW MAKING GOOD ON FARM. (By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, July 9. A number of modest little farms operated by veterans of the world war who have recovered from shell shock, gas or wounds, now dot the states of New Jersey, Connecticut and New York. The owners of these farms, most of them graduates of the New York State School of Agriculture at Farmingdale, L. I., have been "rehabilitated" and are now making good as food producers with the same enthusiasm that took them "over the top" in France.

The transformation of most of these former soldiers who selected farming from among the subjects offered by the Federal Board for Vocational Training in many cases has been a complete metamorphosis of railroad brakemen, plumbers, policemen, mechanics and laborers. One recent graduate of the school was a bartender before the war and today he owns a thoroughly up-to-date place near Toms River, N. J.

According to A. A. Johnson, director of the school, there were 26 federal board men enrolled in June and a number of these have since graduated. Director Johnson was lavish in his praise of what the soldier farmers are accomplishing, declaring that not only were they doing their full share in the economic program of their country but "in a good many cases, considerably more than others less handicapped by wounds." He said they were about equally divided as farm tractor mechanics, general farmers, poultry raisers and hog breeders.

Archie A. Stone, former member of the Minnesota legislature, who is in charge of the work for the government, and has studied the results of the farm vocational training plan, said that it is producing results of a definite and permanent character. The students, may have both theory and practice at Farmingdale 265 days in the year.

Michael Laddy, who lost an arm at Chateau Thierry, is specializing in tractor work and with one hand and a steel hook, drives as straight a furrow, it is said, as any two-handed farm boy.

A year ago Charles Kupinski, another crippled soldier, had never even ridden in a motor car. Recently, according to Director Johnson, he repaired a cracked cylinder in a heavy farm tractor at a saving of nearly $200 to the school.

Other soldier graduates of Farmingdale who are operating farms are Harry F. Cruise at Holbrook, L. I.; Edison S. Smith, New Canaan, Conn.; Elmer E. Sturtz, Wellesburg, Pa.; Austin A. Sullivan, Ronkonkoma, L. I., and a number of others within 50 miles of New York.

KARL LEHMANN RETIRES FROM CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WORK. (By The Associated Press.) NEW ORLEANS, July 9. Karl Lehmann, nationally known because of his work during the last dozen years in the interest of the Christian Endeavor movement, and for the last five years general secretary of the organization in the southern states, retired today, announcing his intention of taking up farming in Lake County, Florida, and assisting in the work of an agricultural school at Montverde. Mr. Lehmann's final official act was to tender to the all-south Christian endeavor convention in session here, his report on the five-year campaign for Christian endeavor organization in the south.

The report showed the organization during that period of 2,500 new societies in the 12 southern states with 250,000 young people added to the roll and the establishment of a sectional organization periodical. Three field secretaries have been employed for work in the south and a field secretary for the endeavor societies in China, the southern young people supporting them on a budget of $8,000. The societies, in addition, have contributed $27,422 to denominational missions in the south.

Charles F. Evans, of Lexington, Ky., is expected to succeed Mr. Lehmann as general secretary during the next year. The employment of additional secretaries also was expected, Lawrence C. Little having been selected for work in Kentucky and Tennessee, Frank P. Wilson for Virginia and North Carolina and Samuel W. Denby for South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

DR. SHAW ON THE BOYS' SIDE

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the suffrage leader who died last year, had warm friends in the Tar Heel state, where her golden gifts of oratory were appreciated with expert valuation. In the hitherto unpublished photograph above she is shown surrounded by a men and boys' baseball team of Kansas City, Missouri.

It was taken just before her death upon the occasion of her visit to the Boys Hotel. She had a vigorous talk with these young men just starting on their business lives. Some were newsboys, some were office boys, some factory hands, all were young, all had been left totally on their own resources.

The boys liked Dr. Shaw so much that they asked her to be their baseball mascot. If you knew her, you know that she said yes. Whereupon one slim youth opined: "Why fellows now we got the Doctor on our side we sure can lick any team in town."

POLITICAL EQUALITY AND SOCIAL EQUALITY

"You did not wait for woman suffrage," the late Dr. Anna H. Shaw, once argued to the men of the South, "but disfranchised both your black and white women, thus making them politically equal." This she said in answer to the men of Louisiana when she was asked to answer from a New Orleans platform the following objection to giving women the vote: "If you give the ballot to women, won't you make the black and white woman equal politically and therefore lay the foundation for a future claim of social equality?"

"If political equality is the basis of social equality, and if by granting political equality you lay the foundation for a claim of social equality, you have already laid that claim," was her answer. "But you have done more than that. You have put the ballot into the hands of your black men, thus making them the political superiors of your white women. Never before in the history of the world have men made former slaves the political masters of their former mistresses."

WHO WILL GET THE CREDIT? The Case for the Parties.

Of the 35 states that have ratified the Federal Suffrage Amendment, as shown by the map below, 29 have Republican Legislatures. Republican leaders, angling for the woman vote in November, have made much of the larger proportion of ratifications assured by the Republican party. "Which would be a logical argument," says Miss Gertrude Weil, president of the North Carolina Equal Suffrage League, "if the relative proportion between Republicans and Democrats were the essential thing. But it isn't. The essential thing is the thirty-sixth vote. What good does it do for Republicans to give 29 states, what good for them to give 35, without the thirty-sixth?"

"It is the thirty-sixth state that counts. It is the chance to be the thirty-sixth state that makes North Carolina the pivot of responsibility in the Democratic prospect in the 1920 elections. If North Carolina ratifies, if the Democratic party has to come to the rescue at the thirty-sixth hour and save the day for the amendment after the Republican party has brought it to the very gates of success, only to ditch it there, why, the whole advantage swings to the Democratic side. It will be the Democrats, not the Republicans, who will have the vital claim on the women's vote."

WOMEN VOTERS OF THE U. S. A.

Ratification or No Ratification.

Ratification or none, the women of thirty states are going to vote for the next President of the United States. North Carolina is one of eighteen states whose women are barred from the November Presidential elections. Here are some tabulated figures of timely merit.

In the fifteen states listed as "full suffrage" women vote on exactly the same terms as men. In nine states women have Presidential suffrage only. In the four where they have Presidential, plus municipal, they will vote for President, and for all municipal offices, but not for state offices, in general, though there are a few state offices in particular that they will vote for. In other words, they will vote for offices that are not created by the state constitution.

Table with 2 columns: State, Women 21 years and over. Lists 15 full suffrage states including Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

Thirteen Presidential or Presidential Plus Municipal Suffrage States.

Table with 2 columns: State, Women 21 years and over. Lists 13 states including Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Kentucky.

(Those starred have both.) Vermont women have state-wide municipal suffrage. They cannot vote for president or for congressmen. In none of the presidential and presidential plus municipal suffrage can women vote for congressmen.

Two Primary Suffrage States.

The chance to help choose the Democratic candidates at the Primary is the only choice any voter can effectively exercise in the states of the South. Ohio women also have primary suffrage.

Table with 2 columns: State, Women 21 years and over. Lists Arkansas and Texas.

Making a grand total for the thirty States, women 21 years and over, 17,467,397.

WOULD PROHIBIT DIVORCE BY AMENDING CONSTITUTION

(By the Associated Press.) NEW YORK, July 9.—Inauguration of a campaign for federal constitutional amendment making divorce impossible was announced today by the Rev. Dr. Walter Gwynne, general secretary of the society for the upholding the sanctity of marriage. Vigorous propaganda will be carried on, said Dr. Gwynne, to extend the membership of the organization to every Christian denomination in the country, and ministers of every creed will be urged to refuse to perform the marriage ceremony for any person that has been divorced. Leaders of the movement say it is endorsed by Episcopal clergymen of New York and by numerous judges throughout the country.

DENIED THAT CUBANS OFFERED SUGAR FOR SALE

(By The Associated Press.) HAVANNA, July 9.—Reports that the Cuban sugar sales committee had offered sugar for sale were denied by Salvador Delvalle, a member of the committee, here last night. Offers of 19 1/4 cents per pound have been refused. Present prices would be ruinous, he said, because liquidation with cane growers had been made on a higher basis. Sales of the remainder of the Cuban crop at 20 cents per pound would make the average for the entire crop but 11 cents, he asserted.

ENTERTAINING AND EDUCATIVE.

Among the many beautiful, rare, entertaining and educational books added to the exhibit in the Armington Lobby, are splendid de luxe editions of: Rippath's Library of Universal Literature, 25 vols.
