LOCAL POST AMERICAN LEGION TO SEND FIVE DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

State Convention American Legion in Wilmington Will Be Attended by Messrs. Doherty, Cherry, Query, Gaston and Grigg.

RALEIGH, Aug. 31.—Arrangements for the second annual convention of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion have been completed and the department adjutant, Cale K. Burgess, of Raleigh, has announced the program that will carry to Wilmington on September 3 and 4, representatives from 112 cities and towns in the State.

Department Commander John Beasley, of Monroe, will call his comrades to order at one o'clock on Friday and ask Rev. J. M. Roberson, department chaplain, to pronounce the invocation. Thereupon Cyrus Hogue, of the Wilmington Post, will speak words of welcome to the convention, and Allen Adams, of Greensboro, will make response. Next in line will be the address of Commander Beasley, followed by brief addresses by R. G. Cholmeley-Jones, director of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C., and C. G. Schulte, director of Vocational Training, Atlanta, Ga. Also at the Friday afternoon session, the appointment and announcement of all convention committees will be made so that the interested parties can have the entire evening and night to scrap and wrangle before the different committees make their reports to the second session of the convention early Saturday morning, concerning the Fordney additional compensation bill which will in all probability make its appearance in the next session of congress, universal military training, education, good roads and many other vital problems, as well as recommendations for department officers, department delegates to national convention which will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, September 7, date and place for third annual department convention and numerous other issues concerning the life of the Legion in this State. The principal address for the convention will be made at the Saturday morning session by Dr. E. C. Brooks, State superintendent of public instruction, who will speak on the subject, "The American Legion and Its Opportunity and Duty in North Carolina."

Adjutant Burgess says: "I earnestly urge that every local post send high-minded, patriotic, fighting representatives to the convention, and see that these delegates arrive in Wilmington before 'zero hour,' one o'clock, Friday, September 3, Friday until the finish on Saturday afternoon, the firing will be rapid, and the call will be for many vigorous men with good heads, good hearts and the courage of their convictions."

In less than twelve months the Legion has more than doubled in the number of posts in this State and today it has a paid-up membership of 6,000, composed of former soldiers, sailors, marines and army nurses.

The present officers of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion are: Commander, John Beasley, of Monroe; Walter Clark, Jr., Vice Commander, Charlotte, N. C.; Adjutant and Finance Officer, Cale K. Burgess, of Raleigh; Publicity Officer, Daniel W. Terry, of Raleigh; Historian, P. O. Clarkson, of Charlotte; and Chaplain, Rev. J. M. TREND MOSTLY DOWNWARD ON WALL STREET TODAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Further confusion of sentiment on the part of traders was indicated by the uncertain trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Rails were the only shares to reflect a consistent tone, Pacifics and some of the grain carriers extending their recent advances with New Haven and Erie. Oils and motors were irregularly lower while secondary stocks and equipments and shipping also inclined downward.

Work has been started on the excavation being made on the plant of the Flint Manufacturing Company No. 2. Mr. Parks Huffsteter has the contract. Huffsteter and Ginn also have the contract for the grading of eleven miles of top-surface road in Rutherford county near Green Hill. This stretch of road facilities the famous mudhole where so many cars have been stuck lately.

The Gastonian Theater presents today Ethel Clayton in "A Lady in Love," also a good one-act comedy.

Teachage Being Made Ready for Teachers

The overhauling and rearranging of the teachage at the Belmont High School is nearing completion. It has been so arranged this year as to have a dining room and kitchen and the young ladies can thus run their own dining room. On the first floor is the living room, dining room, kitchen, one bedroom and the apartment of the superintendent, Prof. H. C. Sisk. On the second floor will be nine bedrooms and the baths. It will thus afford accommodations for twenty teachers, as most of the rooms are unusually large. This assures the out-of-town teachers pleasant accommodations and obviates the necessity of searching for a boarding place. They hope to have the work completed this week.

MR. DEAVERS GOES TO VIEW BODY OF YOUNG MAN

Several Persons Apply to Chief of Police Orr for Information Regarding Identity of Young Man Found Dead in Greensboro.

Following the publication in yesterday's Gazette of the story of the body of a young man having been found dead in the railroad yards at Greensboro, no less than four people called at the office of Chief of Police Orr, at the police station, inquiring as to the identity of the youth. All were apprehensive lest the young man be some one of their kin. It happened that every one of the four inquirers had a son or some member of the family away from home. Naturally, on hearing of the death of an unknown man, each thought that the unfortunate one might be the missing one from his family.

Mr. J. E. Deavers mentioned below in the Greensboro dispatch was among those seeking information from Chief Orr. The names of the others were not secured by Mr. Orr, as he had no means of finding the name of the dead man from the Greensboro undertaker. His advice to all was that each board a train to Greensboro and view the body for himself. Mr. Deavers did this, although it is not yet known whether the body was that of his son or not. The special from Greensboro to The Observer says:

"Identification of the body of the young white man who was found dead by the side of the Southern railway main line about four miles south of here Sunday morning, has not yet been made, although there is a promising clue. Hinton, Teague and Amole, the undertakers who have the body, today received a telegram from J. E. Deaver, of Gastonia, stating that his son had left home three weeks ago and notifying the undertakers that he would come to Greensboro tonight to see the body. His description of his son tallies somewhat with the body of the dead youth. Mr. Deaver stated in his telegram that his son had a small scar on his neck just below the chin, and the undertakers found a scar on the young man's neck. On account of the mangled condition of the body, evidently hit by a train, identification is difficult.

"The body looks to be that of a young man about 17 years old, weighs about 140 pounds, height about five feet eight inches, blue eyes, dark hair. The clothing consisted of a dark suit of clothes, striped shirt, soft collar, tan shoes and soft brown hat."

MCADENVILLE MATTERS.

Correspondence of The Daily Gazette.

McADENVILLE, Aug. 30.—A few days ago Mr. Maud Strickland, of Lowell, and Miss Ollie Foster, one of our McAdenville young ladies, took their friends quite by surprise by driving to Lowell and getting married.

The remains of Mr. Earl Johnson, formerly of this place, who was drowned while going over to France two years ago, were brought back last week and buried at Lowell cemetery. The body was brought to the church by the Red Men, and the services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Campbell and Rev. C. A. Caldwell. The body was then taken to the cemetery by members of the American Legion and buried with military honors.

Mrs. William Roberts is at the bedside of her niece, one of Mr. Hugh Roberts' daughters, at Long Shoals, who is quite dangerously ill. Mr. A. J. Sanders and family returned last Wednesday from an extended visit to relatives at Spartanburg and Central, S. C.

Miss Katie Ime, of Greensboro, is spending the week here with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nipper have both been very sick, but are now able to be up.

Several local Red Men attended the district meeting held at Dallas Saturday. Prof. J. L. Webb's singing school at Bethel Baptist church, three miles above Lineolnton, will close Saturday night of this week with a candle light procession.

Mr. Vance Thornburg and family, of Thrift, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poole.

GERMANY MARKING EXPORTS WRONG TO FOOL BUYERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Germany is dumping its surplus of inferior goods in the United States and England and is marking its exports to Great Britain "Made in America" and its exports to the United States "Made in England" official advices received here today stated. German exporters are following this practice, the advices said, in an effort to regain their former foreign trade and to realize quickly large sums on manufactured articles which otherwise might be unsold because of popular prejudice.

G. O. P. NATIONAL TREASURER, FRED W. UPHAM, GIVES LIST CONTRIBUTIONS FROM STATES

75,000 WOMEN MAY VOTE IN NORTH CAROLINA

(By The Associated Press.)

RALEIGH, Aug. 30.—There will be at least 75,000 women voters in the November elections, in the opinion of Attorney General J. S. Manning, who believes the county boards of elections should begin immediately working on plans for the registration of this large number of women who will cast their ballots for the first time. The attorney general believes the precincts should be divided in the larger communities, the cities and towns and suburban districts where the present precincts carry a pretty large number of voters on the books at the present time.

The county boards of election have the right to do this without any authority from the state board of elections or any other election authority, for the matter of precincts and their distribution is left entirely in the hands of the county boards. An investigation of the situation that will probably result from the increase in the number of voters by approximately 50 per cent should be made in the near future and the machinery set up for the registration of the women. Judge Manning believes that no precinct should have more than 450 voters because of the handicap which the larger number presents to the judges of election when they begin to count up the votes.

There is usually a hesitancy on the part of election boards to change precinct lines because of the confusion of registrations, but this may be avoided in part by transcribing from the old books all names thereon to the new books for the new precinct. Judge Manning says this is entirely legal and would insure all people who are registered at the present time being on the books of the newly created precincts.

The passage of the election machinery bill, while not absolutely necessary, says the attorney general, will save the judges and registrars a great deal of trouble in that it makes clear the intention of the law regarding the registration of women. Judge Manning does not think the women would have had to pay a capitation tax under the present law, for they would have been in the same position as the young voter, just reaching his majority, who has not been required to pay poll tax before the election: The women would not have had to pay the tax, but the scales bill makes this proposition of the law clear and leaves no room for interpretation, and saves the election boards the necessity of sending out numerous letters of instructions.

SCENES OF WILD DISORDER MARK BELFAST RIOTING

(By The Associated Press.)

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Nine persons are dead as a result of yesterday's rioting in this city, another man being killed last night and two of those wounded in yesterday's disorders dying. Revised reports as to casualties show that since the rioting began last Wednesday 20 have been killed.

Knots of soldiers held strategic points in the affected areas during the night and it was stated this morning that troops occupy virtually all the police barracks in the city.

Ominous signs of further trouble ushered in the new day in riot torn Belfast, but the only actual outbreak reported this forenoon was the stoning of employes of Mackie's Foundry in the notorious Kashmir road.

Never in the history of Belfast was there such disorder as prevailed yesterday. Mobs fought with wild fury in different sections of the town, women mingling with the men in the melees that developed wherever the opposing factions met. Girl workers fought like wild cats in one clash yesterday morning, parties attacking each other as they were going to work. Unionist women charged on a number of nationalist girls in Cork street while the nationalists made an attack on unionists in the Falls road district.

The district was placed under the curfew ordinance last night and there were rumors that martial law would be declared, but nothing definite was done by the authorities.

REACTIONARY, SAYS LAUCK.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The award of the anthracite coal commission, approved by President Wilson yesterday, is characterized as "The most reactionary decision that has been made by an industrial tribunal during the reconstruction period," by W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist for the United Mine Workers, in a statement made public today predicting "Trouble in the anthracite field" as a result of the findings.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The republican national committee received $1,017,255.22 in contributions for both national and state campaigns between June 14 and August 26, Fred W. Upham, republican national treasurer, told the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

Of this sum, he said, $618,013.54 was for the national campaign and $399,241.72 for state purposes. In his report Mr. Upham presented the committee the names of 12,589 contributors who had donated to the fund and fixed their average contribution at $82.11.

Mr. Upham also presented a budget showing the committee had planned to spend $3,079,037.20.

A sheet read into the record by Mr. Upham showed, he said, the amount collected in each state for state and national campaigns, with the state totals.

Treasurers of the republican and democratic national committees today followed up the committee chairman in answering the queries of the senate committee about campaign contributions and expenditures.

Chairman George S. White, of the democratic national committee, was on hand today to supplement the information given the committee yesterday by former Chairman Homer S. Cummings. Democratic contributions to date total only $67,000, Mr. White said he would tell the committee.

"Actually the democratic committee is so poor I almost hate to confess," Mr. White said. "We have already spent practically all the $67,000 subscribed. I have stepped into my place so recently that I have no final campaign cost estimate to present."

Wilbur W. Marsh, democratic national treasurer, and Frederick W. Upham, republican national treasurer of the republicans, were today's chief witnesses before the committee.
