UNION, Aug. 30.—On last Thursday evening the Christian Endeavor Society gave an entertainment in the school house. It was just a get-together meeting of the members themselves. There were a number of tables and at each table a different game was played, the guests progressing from one to the other. One game was "Old Maid," played with the most charmingly quaint "Alice in Wonderland" cards. Then one game was popping bags, another sewing on buttons, but this was not exactly fair, as the girls are so much more adept at the art than men. But before all these games were played, the whistle called a halt, and refreshments were served. Plenty of assorted sandwiches, and iced tea. Some of the members live in town, and they had come out for the occasion.

On Sunday Messrs. George and Evans Sparrow, of Charlotte, were at home. Shakespeare thinks a rose by any other name would be the same sweet rose, but we all like our own names, and so I wish to make a correction, as I gave the wrong name to the charming bride who was married at the manse a few evenings ago, Mrs. H. K. Davis. She was Miss Hester Jackson and not Miss Helen Jackson. A friend gave me the wrong name.

TENNESSEE'S GROWTH HAS BEEN VERY SMALL

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Tennessee, the population of which was announced today by the census bureau, as 2,337,459, had the smallest numerical increase in the last 10 years of any decade since 1870 while its rate of growth was the smallest in its history. Its numerical increase was 152,670 and its rate of growth is 7.0 per cent in the ten years.

Tennessee ranked as 17th most populous state ten years ago. Of the six states of which the 1920 population has been announced Tennessee shows next to the smallest rate of growth, New Hampshire has shown the smallest, 2.9 per cent. Oregon has shown the highest rate, 16.4 per cent; Rhode Island next with 11.4; Georgia third with 10.9 and Indiana fourth with 8.5.

New Bern, N. C., (revised), 12,198, increase 2,237, or 22.5 per cent. Previously announced 10,003.

State of Tennessee 2,337,459, increase 152,670, or 7.0 per cent.

Shelby county, Tennessee, containing Memphis, 223,216, increase 31,777, or 16.1 per cent.

The revised census for New Bern, N. C., resulted from an error in the original count of the census bureau.

The increase of 2,195 over the previous announcement, resulted from the complaint of the district supervision that the original figures were incomplete.

MAJOR GREGORY SUCCEEDS HULVEY AT STATE COLLEGE

Special to The Daily Gazette.

WEST RALEIGH, Aug. 30.—Major Daniel D. Gregory, U. S. Army, retired, has been appointed commandant and professor of Military Science and Tactics at State College to succeed Major Charles N. Hulvey, who has filled this position for the past two years. First Lieutenant Nathaniel L. Simmonds succeeds Major G. B. Rodney as assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics.

In addition to the commissioned personnel, the following regular army non-commissioned officers have been assigned to the college as instructors in the R. O. T. C.: Sgt. Major H. C. Thomas, Sgt. Thornton, Sgt. J. E. Baker, and Sgt. A. P. Hammonds.

Major Gregory, the new commanding officer, is a native of Illinois, but entered the Military Academy at West Point from Missouri, being graduated in 1901. During the world war he was overseas as a lieutenant colonel with the Third Division. He was awarded the Croix de Guerre with palm by the French government. Until recently Major Gregory has been in the office of the Military Intelligence Division, General Staff, Washington.

Major and Mrs. Gregory are not exactly strangers to North Carolina. Mrs. Gregory is a relative of Senator A. M. Seales, of Greensboro.

TWELVE PRINCIPLES OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

North Carolina Organizations Endorse Principles by Referendum of The Chamber of Commerce of The United States.

Special to The Daily Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Six commercial and industrial organizations in the State of North Carolina have gone on record in support of a declaration of twelve principles of industrial relations designed to establish a basis on which employers and employes may work out employment problems.

The vote was taken on the report of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States submitted to a country-wide referendum of business associations. The principles received the overwhelming approval of the organizations voting in every state in the union.

The organizations voting were: Hardware Association of the Carolinas, Charlotte; Chamber of Commerce, Fayetteville; Chamber of Commerce, Greensboro; Chamber of Commerce, Hickory; Heating and Piping Contractors, North Charlotte; Wilkes Commercial Club, North Wilkesboro.

Summarized, the twelve principles are as follows:

1. Every person has the right to engage in any lawful occupation and to enter individually or collectively into any lawful contract of employment, either as employer or employee.

2. The right of open-shop operation, that is, the right of employer and employee to determine the conditions of employment relations with each other, is an essential part of the individual right of contract possessed by each of the parties.

3. All men possess the equal right to associate voluntarily for the accomplishment of lawful purposes by lawful means but such association confers no authority over, and must not deny any right of, those who do not desire to act or deal with them.

4. Associations or combinations of employers or employees, or both, must be legally responsible for their conduct and that of their agent.

5. The restriction of productive effort or of output by either employer or employee for the purpose of creating an artificial scarcity of the product or of labor is an injury to society.

6. The wage of labor must come out of the product of industry and must be earned and measured by its contribution thereto. It is the duty of management to cooperate with the worker to secure continuous employment.

7. The number of hours in the work day or week in which the maximum output, consistent with the health and well-being of the individual, can be maintained in a given industry should be ascertained by careful study and never should be exceeded except in case of emergency, and one day of rest should be provided. Reduction in working hours below such economic limit, in order to secure greater leisure for the individual, should be made only with understanding and acceptance of the fact that it involves a commensurate loss in the earning power of the workers, a limitation of output and an increase in the cost of the product.

8. Adequate means satisfactory both to the employer and his employees, and voluntarily agreed to by them, should be provided for discussion and adjustment of employment relations.

9. When the employer and his employees do not deal individually, but by mutual consent through representatives, representatives should not be chosen or controlled by or represent any outside group or interest.

10. The greatest measure of reward and well-being for both employer and employee and the full social value of their service must be sought in the successful conduct and full development of the particular industrial establishment in which they are associated.

11. While the right of government employees to secure just treatment must be amply safeguarded the community welfare demands that no combination to prevent or impair the operation of government or of any government function shall be permitted.

12. The power of regulation and protection exercised by the State over the corporation should properly extend to the employees in so far as may be necessary to assure unimpaired operation of public-utility service.

MAY FIND OIL ON CALDWELL FARM

Peculiar Outcropping on Farm of J. L. Clay, Near Granite Falls — Oily Substance Rises on Low Place in Field; Smells Like Oil.

Lenoir News Topic, 27th.

What is believed to be indications of oil deposits have been found on the farm of Mr. J. L. Clay, five miles east of Granite Falls. Mr. Clay's farm is located on what is known as Mills creek. The indications have cropped out at two places on Mr. Clay's farm, which places are about fifty yards apart, and cover only about ten or fifteen feet square. These two places are low spots in a field and surrounding these places is a red clay soil. These two spots are black and smutty looking, and in dry weather the soil when handled will leave the hands in a greasy condition. This oil deposit or outcropping will readily burn when set on fire.

During the past few weeks rain water has collected in the low places and an oily scum shows on top of the water. Mr. Clay is much concerned over this appearance, and has had a number of people to look at it. He believes that the appearance of this oily substance may be the outcropping of oil deposits lower down. Mr. Clay is deeply interested over the possibility of a discovery of oil on his place, and is anxious to have further investigations made.

U. S. TAX EXPERTS AT WORK IN ENGLAND

Britishers Surprised that Treasury Department Sends Tax Accountants Overseas to Examine Books of Insurance and Shipping Concerns.

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 12.—At first some surprise was expressed among British insurance and shipping companies transacting business in the United States, when it was learned that United States Treasury officials were coming to this country to investigate their books in connection with taxation, says a Times article. However, any favorable feeling that may have been aroused at first has been overcome by the personality of the officials who were commissioned for the purpose and by an appreciation of the attitude of the United States Treasury officials toward taxation assessments.

British business men have learned that the work of chartered accountants has hardly the same standing in the United States as it has in this country. Here the certificates of a first-class firm of chartered accountants attached to a balance-sheet means that the figures of profit are accepted as stated, without question. It seems that there is not always the same unquestioned acceptance of figures so certified in the United States and that the United States Treasury maintains quite a large field staff of inspectors whose business it is to examine the books of companies.

Appreciation of this fact, coupled with an assurance that officials of the Treasury never disclose to other government departments the results of the insight they may gain into the conduct of companies' affairs has done much to reconcile British business men to a procedure which struck them at first as being strange.

GREENSBORO JITNEY DRIVERS REQUIRED TO GIVE BOND

Must Put up $500 as Guarantee That Laws Will be Obeyed — Ordinance Won Over Strong Opposition.

Greensboro News, 28th.

Commissioner Donavant's ordinance requiring taxicab drivers to furnish bond to the city, which seemed doomed Thursday when Mayor Stafford said he thought this the wrong time of the year for its adoption, was offered again yesterday and passed after City Attorney Hines made some slight changes in it and explained in detail its provisions. The most important change was that the amount of bond to be required was made $500, instead of $1,000, as at first suggested by the commissioner of public safety. The ordinance becomes effective 20 days from yesterday.

The condition of the bond is such that if the ear driver shall "faithfully observe all laws of the state and ordinances of the city relating to vehicles for hire, traffic and automobiles, and shall pay all damages occasioned to person or property on account of any violations of such laws or ordinances, then this obligation shall be null and void; otherwise, to be in full force and effect."

It is also provided that "any person violating this ordinance shall be subject to a penalty of $50, and each day's violation hereof shall be a separate offense." The sureties offered by the driver are to be passed on by the mayor.

Commissioner Donavant said he had in mind protection for the public and the bringing about of a proper respect of the law by public ear drivers when he had the ordinance prepared. City Attorney Hines gave it as his opinion that the city could sue and collect on the bond if a driver is found guilty in court of hauling whiskey. The commissioner was pleased to hear his opinion, as was Chief of Police Isley, who was present when the board of commissioners passed the ordinance.

In addition to the bond, the taxi men must furnish satisfactory proof of good character before the chief of police will give them a certificate permitting them to operate.

Drivers of public cars in the city, 75 or more in number, will be notified right away of the ordinance passed yesterday. They have 20 days in which to arrange for their bonds.

PRaises FRIENDLY RELATIONS OF UNITED STATES AND CANADA

(By The Associated Press.)

TORONTO, Canada, Aug. 28.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, was the chief speaker today at the opening of the Canadian national exhibition here. He declared that Canada has a great opportunity of interpreting Great Britain to America and America to Great Britain. Sir Auckland summarized the friendly relations of Canada and the United States, saying:

"You are such close neighbors as to be almost economically interdependent, while your ideals and ambitions run on paths so closely parallel that even the watchman on the tower cannot see any reason why, with prudence and statecraft on both sides, they should ever clash."

Declaring that not yet and not for a long time would the spirit of peace be re-established in the hearts of men, Sir Auckland said the British empire could not hope to remain in "splendid isolation."

"We cannot insulate ourselves from the thought currents of humanity," said the ambassador. "Whether we will it or not, whether we like it or no, we must be prepared to meet every jar and to endure every shock and every blow which angry men, disappointed men, mad men can deliver to the frame-work of society. To meet them, to endure them without flinching, is an affair of the spirit made strong by faith in some great ideal—the ideal of ordered freedom. But to meet and endure them without failure is required not only spiritual fortitude, but material preparation."

"I see you, Canada, with your vast natural, unwasted wealth, as the sheet anchor now of the empire that we love."

Within a century you will be numbering your population not by millions, but by tens, perhaps, by hundreds of millions."

In addition to its other mineral wealth Spitzbergen has been found to contain petroleum deposits.

"Rat-Snap Beats the Best Trap Ever Made," Mrs. Emily Shaw Says.

"My husband bought $2 trap. I bought a 50c box of RAT-SNAP. The trap only caught 3 rats but RAT-SNAP killed 12 in a week. I'm never without RAT-SNAP. Reckon I couldn't raise chicks without it."
