

YORK AND YORKVILLE

The Enquirer.
Warning found posted on the gin house door of R. Campbell Caveny at Ogden, several days ago against operating his ginners under a period of thirty days was only a joke, according to information obtained last Sunday by a reporter for The Yorkville Enquirer.
Rumors were on the streets in Yorkville last week that notice not to operate his ginners had been found by Mr. Caveny; but the rumors could not be verified.
It now develops that several of Mr. Caveny's neighbors posted such a notice on the ginners, the notice stating in effect that if the ginners was operated under thirty days, dire consequences would result. A picture of a bug was drawn at the bottom of the notice and there was also some reference to matches and ashes.
Mr. Caveny was inclined to take the matter seriously at first; but a short time later when neighbors and friends informed him that it was their work and that it had been done by them as a joke, he proceeded to gin cotton as usual.

Despite his 77 years Mr. A. E. Gettys, of Filbert No. 1, continues to be unusually active. "I sawed 29 cuts from a big piece of timber with a hand saw one day recently," said Mr. Gettys, who was in Yorkville last Saturday. "It didn't tire me very badly. I can't pick cotton any more to do any good, because of the fact that it is hard for me to stoop. In fact I never was much at picking cotton."

Rock Hill Car Smashed.
"I don't know whose car it was or anything about it; but I noticed a Chevrolet touring car lying smashed to smithereens just off the first railway crossing out of Kings Mountain, N. C., toward Grover, N. C., last Sunday," said yesterday Mr. J. H. B. Jenkins, Jr. "I don't think I ever saw a more complete wreck of a car than that was. The car bore a Rock Hill, S. C., license plate."

"Many textile operatives over the country are getting very restless over the fact that many of the cotton mills are either running part time or closing down altogether," said the other day a secret service man to whom Views and Interviews was talking. "Many of them to whom I have talked recently say that they are going to do their best to get into some business that will afford them regular employment all the year round. I notice also considerable restlessness on the part of labor of all kinds—labor being afraid that the price of labor is fixing for a fall, while the necessities of life are not going to fall in proportion to the drop in wages."
A Studebaker automobile, said to be the property of Henry Baber, of Rock Hill, and to have been operated at a high rate of speed, was wrecked about 10 o'clock

Sunday night at the corner of North Congress and Kings Mountain streets, the car completely jumping the street and alighting on the cement sidewalk with the rear end in the yard of W. L. Williams. The four wheels of the machine were smashed to kindling wood; but otherwise it was not damaged. The driver, it is said, was unhurt. The accident is said to have occurred when the driver, riding alone, was coming down North Congress and preparing to turn into Kings Mountain street en route toward Gastonia. Either underestimating his distance in taking the curve or else traveling at such a rate of speed that it was impossible to slow up, the car struck the concrete curb and hopped over into the sidewalk, the front facing the street with the back in the yard. How the driver escaped serious injury was a mystery to an expert automobile driver who inspected the place yesterday morning. No arrest was made. It is estimated that the damage to the machine is about $250.

MAY QUARANTINE FRUIT COMING FROM INDIES

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A public hearing will be held December 20 by the federal horticultural board to consider the advisability of placing a quarantine on fruit and vegetables from Cuba, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Canal Zone, Costa Rica, India, the Philippines, Ceylon, and Java, in an effort to prevent the spread of the citrus fly to the United States.

Any restrictions that may be placed on the movement of fruits and vegetables from those countries to the United States would not necessarily be an embargo, said an announcement today by the department of agriculture, as provision would be made for the entry of these products at designated ports, where inspection would be held to determine whether disinfecting was necessary.

Cleaning of all railway cars and other means of transport from Cuba also will be considered at the hearing.
