MAKE APPEAL FOR ORPHANS OF STATE

One Day for Orphans' Movement Will Be Used Again.

The publicity committee of the North Carolina Orphan Association has issued its appeal to the people of the State to contribute during the coming Thanksgiving season something to the support and maintenance of the orphans of the State.

The "One Day for the Orphans" movement was inaugurated several years ago and it has been a wonderfully successful means of bringing to the attention of the citizens of the State the duty they owe the wards of society.

In order that more adequate equipment and support might be provided for the fatherless and motherless children of the State, the "One Day for the Orphans" movement was started, calling upon all our people to add to the stream of regular contributions a special Thanksgiving offering equal to a day's income.

This is a reasonable request, for anyone can share with the orphans the earnings of one day out of 365. It is practicable, for rich and poor alike can participate in it. It entitles our people of all creeds and classes in beautiful co-operation for the support of a needed civic and Christian philanthropy.

Orphanage treasuries, it also deepens and enriches the life of our people.

The cry of the orphan—who can hear it unmoved? And whose heart does not thrill with joy at the thought of the twenty-one orphanages in North Carolina housing many hundreds of dependent children and training them into individual efficiency and good citizenship? Yet every one of the splendid institutions needs better equipment and larger support, and every one of them is besieged by applicants for admission, which must not be denied for lack of means.

Make your offering on or about Thanksgiving Day. Make it on the basis of your earning capacity for a single day—more, if you will; less if you can do no better. Make it through your church or lodge. Make it with the prayer that our orphan children may be led into the larger life here and the life eternal hereafter.

The Pythians of Gastonia Lodge No. 53 have appointed Mr. W. E. Todd as a committee of one and requested him to see every member of his lodge and friends of the Orphans, and to raise as large a sum as possible.

This is an opportunity for real service and it is earnestly hoped that every member of the lodge and all others interested will call on Mr. Todd at once and make a liberal contribution for this most worthy cause.

W. SPRATT HANKS.

Sketch of Prominent Belmont Citizen Who Passed Away Saturday Morning.

Correspondence of The Daily Gazette.

BELMONT, Nov. 15 — All of Belmont, and indeed this whole section of Gaston county, feels a distinct loss in the passing of Mr. Spratt Hanks, for no one in the community had more friends than he and if he had an enemy in the world, no one ever knew it. Of a kind and gentle disposition, he was ever ready to lend a helping hand to his fellowman. His devotion to his family was one of his marked characteristics, and his nieces and nephews were equally wrapped up in him. He was never married, but made his home with his only sister, Mrs. John Tate. Mr. Hanks was very fond of all young people and the young folks of the community looked upon him as their staunchest friend.

Born in South Point, July 15, 1861, he has always resided in this community and for a number of years has stayed in Belmont. Upon the organization of the Belmont Presbyterian church he became one of its charter members, and has also been a member of the choir since it was organized. He was the son of G. W. and Adeline Stowe Hanks, and the grandson of Larkin Stowe, who was one of the most prominent men in Gaston county in his day.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Sunie Hanks Tate, and two brothers, G. P. Hanks, of Belmont, and E. Lee Hanks, of Gastonia, also five great nieces and nephews and 19 nieces and nephews.

The funeral which was held at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was the largest ever held in Belmont. The entire church and Sunday school room were filled, while many stood in the aisles and vestibule and others could go no further than the yard, so many were the friends who came to pay their last respects to the departed one.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Dendy, his pastor assisted by Rev. J. E. Thompson of the Methodist church. Mr. Dendy paid a beautiful tribute to his church life, saying that he was a man of high moral and Christian character. Of pleasant genial manners, he was universally beloved and esteemed and the large congregation assembled testified to the fact that he had done his work well. Continuing, Mr. Dendy said, "This life illustrated the adage: 'An honest man is the greatest work of God's creation,' and this vacant seat in the church choir reminds us that he now occupies a place in the choir of heaven."

The choir rendered two hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," Mr. Hanks' favorite, and "My Jesus, as Thou Wilt." His vacant seat in the choir was draped in black.

The floral offerings, which were unusually numerous and beautiful, were carried by six young women, Misses Edith Lineberger, Annie Lewis, Ethel Foster, Zoe Ward and Ella Dixon, of Lowell. The pall bearers were: Active, G. G. Dixon, J. K. and G. M. Bowen, W. R. Stowe, J. F. Jenkins and T. C. T. fifth, Honorary, R. L. and S. P. Stowe, W. B. Puett, Dr. W. W. Davis, G. W. and J. W. Stowe, J. C. Cox, of Lowell, and A. J. Rankin, of Gastonia.

Mr. Hanks was laid to rest in the family plot at the Belmont cemetery beside the grave of his mother, to whom he was particularly devoted. Many people from the surrounding towns and counties were here for the funeral. Among those from Charlotte were Mrs. Charles P. Moody, Mrs. W. R. Chapman, Mrs. J. H. Wooley, Mr. F. H. Andrews, and Mr. R. H. Stowe, from Mecklenburg; all cousins of the deceased, also Mrs. Eda Suggs and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ferris, of York, S. C.; Mr. A. J. Rankin, Miss Edna Rankin, Mrs. S. S. Shuford, Mr. A. A. Armstrong, Mr. Oscar Armstrong, Mr. Robert Ratchford and family, Mr. J. Ross Ratchford, Mrs. E. J. Rankin, Miss O. M. Boyd, Mrs. H. P. Stowe, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Rankin, were among the Gastonia friends here. A number were also present from Lowell and other nearby towns.

BEFORE you buy oil for your car, consider the Five Essentials of Automobile Lubrication:

- 1. Your oil should reduce friction to the minimum.
2. It should leave your engine in a clean condition.
3. It should act as a compression-seal to conserve power.
4. It should not contain, or form any substance injurious to the engine.
5. It should be economical in use.

No one oil can perform these five functions for all Motors. Each motor requires an oil to suit its structure and its degree of wear.
