

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

A Directory Showing Where Services Will Be Held Tomorrow In the Churches of the City and County of All Denominations, Together With News Items Concerning Religious Activities Of All Sorts In Gaston.

—Rev. George R. Gillespie, Editor.—

A Bible Treat for Gastonia.

All of next week, beginning Monday at 3:30 p. m., Gastonians will have the privilege of hearing twice daily three of America's foremost Bible expositors: the Rev. Drs. Riley, of Minneapolis; Lucas of Chicago, and Dr. Tucker, of Los Angeles. Full details of this great Bible Conference will be found in another column of today's issue of The Gazette.

Eastern Europe Relief.

On Wednesday, January 26, the proceeds of the entire day at the Gastonian Theater will be donated to the sufferers of Eastern Europe. A stirring patriotic and wonderful picture, "Friends of Fata," that has moved the hearts of thousands, will be shown. Rev. Dr. J. H. Headertite will speak at the theater at 3 p. m., and Rev. G. R. Gillespie will speak at 8 p. m. Messrs. Estridge and J. White Ware are responding to a call of Herbert Hoover on North Carolina moving picture theaters for a fund of $44,000.

Boy Scouts of Loray.

An inspiring sight was witnessed Thursday night when fifty-two boys responded to Boy Scout Roll Call at the Loray community house. Each patrol, consisting of eight boys, was given a program by their director, Rev. R. C. Long, and sent to different parts of the house to conduct their own meetings and report back. Each patrol made a splendid report and the enthusiasm and pep of the boys was an inspiration.

IN MEMORIAM.

CHARLES B. ARMSTRONG.
The Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church desires hereby to record its most profound sense of bereavement in the death of one of its most esteemed and valued members, Col. C. B. Armstrong.

Col. Armstrong, base from the beginning of the class one of its most regular and active members. He was always interested in its growth and prosperity, and only served his present post for a year but in many ways contributed to its success. He gave to it the weighty influence of his personal example in his regular presence on Sunday mornings and never lost an opportunity to induce others to attend. He would especially encourage young men who valued his sound and leadership to identify themselves nobly with the organization pointing out the numerous benefits that were thus to be gained and tools testifying to the need that he himself had experienced in serving a cause.

The strength of the class gave it the credit and the good that he deserved in the life of every boy who met him; they example and above commandingly be emulated. A large share of the accumulated influence that this class has in its long career of usefulness, welded for God and the church throughout this entire community belongs to him.

The class is indebted to Col. Armstrong for many favors and concessions. For a number of years he has placed the large social room of the Union Hall at the disposal of the class for annual dinners, and with it the use of the complete equipment of the kitchen and dining room.

He was a pleasure of his most agreeable work accepted by the class, and among the first and most frequent to go to any good cause that was presented for its benefit.

But beyond all these things, we shall miss him Sunday morning his pleasant smile for the day and whenever he greeted his friends with a hearty handshake, a young and old rich and poor, old and young, a friend and neighbor.

And we believe that he will be missed well and truly as a father figure in our midst, a man of sound and uprightness, a man upon whom we could rely in his life.

We close with a special word of thanks to Col. C. B. Armstrong for his services to the business life of the town. Truly we shall miss him much, if ever again we see such a man in our community.

NECESSITY FOR ARMAMENT MUST BE REMOVED—TAFT.

(By the Associated Press.)

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, Jan. 21.—Former President William H. Taft, who is spending a month here, said in an interview today that "the enormous burden of debt of every country makes it almost indispensable that the necessity for armament be removed. You can only do that by joint action and joint agreements and by promises of settling all differences without fighting."

They are about discussing serious in the United States an agreement for disarmament or the cutting of armament and setting it enough this comes in part because of the man who has been vigorous in his opposition to armament at all," he continued.

"I am very hopeful that under Mr. Harding we shall reach an conclusion with all the leading nations for an association in Europe which shall mark the advance to a great extent the way toward real disarmament, not for the avoidance of war, but for the avoidance of war and peace. This will involve the signing of a general convention of all important nations and will imply the taking of joint measures to compose differences and to restrain a return to the associations and bloody armament again."

Taft's talk was well received in Britain, where the attitude of the United States toward Great Britain. Of course the two sides consist of some 100 million people, while many different currents of thought are represented among them. Many different groupings too will be found in the various states of these groups, more or less independent of real public opinion, and even more confused by the fact that there is no single public opinion of the United States as a whole.

"I am very glad that the slightest consideration is given to the meaning of the term 'disarmament' for these two countries, which exist as world leaders. We know the strongest nation does not necessarily exist as the world leader. We know that the bold, strong, and wise forces by means of a strong and just administration. The United States cannot come out of a war between the two countries for they are now in their own country in dispute and it will be better for them to live in peace with people of other countries than to be at war with them where law and order prevail."

Speaking of business conditions in the United States, he said there were no advantages. "We are a very inefficient people and our fight must go on," he said, "but progress is continuing to help in the making of difficulties."

TESTS CONSTITUTIONALITY OF VOLSEAD ACT

(By the Associated Press.)

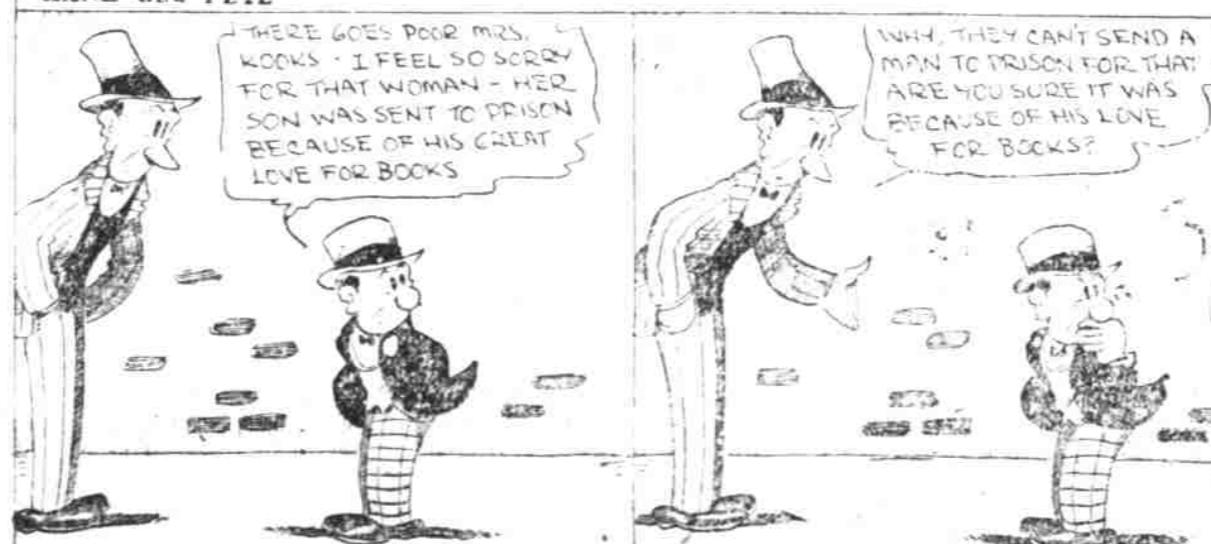

HIGH COURT, Jan. 21.—A suit to test the constitutionality of the recent congressional amendment of the Volstead act prohibiting manufacture of beer, was on file to-day in federal court at Boston by David D. Stansbury, an attorney, asserting that the government cannot collect both a revenue tax on home-made liquors and assess a fine for violation of a law for banning their manufacture.

More than four thousand individuals have been arrested for the law and the tax, according to Mr. Stansbury, on charges of selling beer containing more than the legal percentage alcohol.

Call 50 and The Gazette's ad man will come to see you promptly about that advertisement.

HANK and PETE*Constipation.

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

That Mighty Serviceable Truck

There is this about the Ford one-ton truck that keeps it growing in popularity, namely, the good reports which the owners of Ford trucks spread abroad among their friends and acquaintances.

There is no testimony of merit quite so strong as the testimony of personal experience. It is not long after a Ford one-ton truck is sold in a community until other sales of the same truck follow, because "its works do follow it."

Well, "there is a reason." Yes, there are many reasons. The Ford one-ton truck was built to serve and to satisfy. It carries all the Ford virtues: lightness in weight, simplicity in design, strength in construction, flexibility and durability—besides it has the lowest first cost and brings the lowest operating expense in the truck market.

It is just as useful; just as necessary on the farm as it is in the city. It is just as necessary to the tradesmen, manufacturers, commission men and others in the city as it is necessary for such concerns to have a place to do business in—in other words, the Ford truck is a general utility, and because of this fact and the further fact of its universal economy it is in a class by itself.

We will be glad to take your order for one or more Ford trucks and will give you fairly prompt delivery. You will likewise have the assurance of that reliable and economical after-service which is such a valuable factor in the service of Ford cars. Price, truck chassis $545.00, f. o. b. Detroit, including demountable rims and pneumatic tires.
