Proposals of Marriage Pour in on "Cinderella of Roxbury"

Many Are Anxious to Help Former Maid Dispose of Her Inheritance of $250,000.

Boston.—Proposals of marriage from all sections of the country have been pouring in on Miss Agnes Jane McNevin, where she now resides in the great house which is a part of the $250,000 awarded to her from the estate of her former mistress, Mrs. Mary C. McKnight.

Charitable organizations and other systems for parting her from portions of her new estate have also besieged Miss McNevin in efforts to help her spend her fortune.

While Miss McNevin says she expects to do some good with the money bequeathed her by Mrs. McKnight, she said that she does not need the assistance of outsiders to work out her plans.

The "Cinderella of Roxbury," as Miss McNevin is known by those living in the locality, learned of her bequest several months ago and she is now residing in the house where she served her benefactor as maid for 25 years.

Twenty-five years ago she came to the door of the house which is now her own home, seeking the position of maid. A gruff appearing butler made known her request and conducted the girl into the presence of the late Mrs. McKnight, who showed her liking by promptly engaging her.

The young woman did her work faithfully and gradually assumed additional responsibilities until she finally became manager of the household. Upon the death of Mrs. McKnight she was "remembered" by her mistress to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars.

She says she is very happy in her good fortune, but that she would be happier still if Mrs. McKnight were still with her.

TWO ACROBATIC DOGS

INTERNATIONAL

"Jack" and "Jill" are two acrobatic dogs, owned by a New York man, that do the most difficult acrobatic feats without coaching. Their owner taught them to do the stunts and now they delight in performing for visitors. Their owner trained them for his own amusement and has built a complete set of apparatus for their use.

Says Water Drinking Shortened Pilgrims' Lives

Boston.—"Much drinking of water," was considered by Gov. William Bradford of Plymouth a contributory cause of the ravages of disease and the shortness of life that afflicted the Pilgrims in the early days. Horace H. Morse, head of the historical department at Mount Hermon school, told the Bostonian society.

He also pointed out as a fact of curious historic interest that Pastor John Robinson, who led the Pilgrims into Holland but did not accompany them to New England, had twice remitted on one-half a case of beer a month and one husband of wine every three months because he held a professorship in the University of Leyden.

Smoking Room for Women in Theater

New York.—Not to be outdone by men in a quiet smoke between acts, women patrons of the new Apollo theater, in New York city, will find a room fitted for their accommodation during the performance.

Rising to an Emergency. Cincinnati.—After firemen had carried Lillian Barker, aged ten, ill of diphtheria, from a burning room, the little girl asked them to save her dollies. The firemen responded nobly.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—After the "year of trouble" prediction, that is of the Federal Government, W. H. Auden, of the National League based in New York Street, says that he is entirely satisfied with results in this city. Mr. Auden doesn't go so far as to opine that it is really dry here, he admits here are a good many little leaks and waters in the town where, with proper attention, or without, fairly straight measures may be obtained. He does believe, however, that "considering everything," affairs are in just about as good a state as could be expected. "No definite prediction in general, anything, has been made because of this most peculiar event in the history of the world, that is something."

The most beautiful royal personage in his world, is expected to arrive in New York sometime within the next few months on a visit to America. It is of course Queen Marie, of Roumania, one of the few monarchs of the present time who has been able to carry along with a crown the satisfaction of being known as a beauty.

A New Yorker interested in an investigation of the coal problem desired to gather all possible data on the subject. He went to a clipping bureau and explained his very specific interest. "Give me every clipping you can find on the subject of coal," he demanded. "I don't matter what phase it's about, just so it deals with coal," he repeated. Later he received his first clip, it concerned a wife who had been brought to court for running her husband on his international horse with a large team of draft-horses.

There was a time in the early days of the coal problem, that a man named Mr. Morse, came over to New York to see that his son, who had been in school in England, Mr. Morse got a divorce from the British lady, a few years ago, and married Clara. "That's something over a year ago, he said, his husband died, and she and her first husband are business partners. Their business is expected to take place some time in the near future, and they both profess to be happy all along their paths."

A good many people with a considerable amount of money, first began starting long check books, officers, that is, take a few lines and cut's and hold them for some time it was. When a man in business has preference to keep his money "use with him," it was not until the middle of the year that business was "tightened." And that just in it a little that the things had to be checked whether or no. So I was interested the other day to see a new development in a downtown restaurant. A man came in with a particularly handsome and long with fire, and bestowed upon the check for a good quarter for the privilege of keeping it safely with him while he ate.

The latest news is that Julia Arthur is to return to the stage. Several years ago, when she married someone with lots of money, Miss Arthur retired. She had always been such a strenuous and active actress that she probably was pretty well tired out and thought she would like a change of scene. Then in 1915, she filed for divorce. Her husband had been in New York for some time. Now she has been announced to play Lady Macbeth with Lionel Barrymore when he opens in the Shakespearean society next month. It is interesting that Miss Arthur played the same part opposite Maurice Bretnore, Lionel's father, many years ago.

New York has become more or less garlanded by the thought of bombs. With stories scattering the front pages, all a man's guarding of public buildings and private homes against a rumored plot to destroy or demolish the city, the city was much more concerned with the fact that the only really distinguished literary day of the winter, so far, was upon it. It was not intended to get me excited about either the guests or the strings of, indeed, the fact that, if by chance, they do come. Only one scene over the matter developed in the whole long city. A package was delivered to the home of E. W. Kress, who is no one known to have anything to do, and the housekeeper had a slight attack of nerves over it and called the bureau of your last block. It turned out to be some heraldic change that had been on her mind and forgotten. And that was the only crisis which anyone heard about.

Maria is the result of the latter part of the fact, Maria is the result of it. It is a young girl, she is a girl, she is a girl. Whatever her name is, it is interesting to see the number of forty-year old women of the same smart who have clipped their hair at the same time. It falls over the ears in short locks. It certainly brings an impression of youth with it. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney looked like a demure, the three might with her hair hanging in soft waves. It is a girl of her own, and so did several other mothers of married or marriageable daughters.

WOULD MAKE LANDLORDS ADMIT CHILDREN TO HOMES

(By The Associated Press.) LANSING, Mich., Jan. 25.—A bill making refusal of a landlord to rent his property to families with children, a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 and ninety days' imprisonment, was introduced in the lower house of the Michigan legislature today.

Ernest Thompson Seton says, notwithstanding no relation to dress, but what is worrying the radicals is that women don't seem to, either. Philadelphia North American.
