PENALTY IMPOSED FOR KEEPING RATS OR MICE (By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A body discovered harboring a rat or a mouse in his house is liable to a penalty of five pounds under a law recently enacted by parliament.

Londoner Alfred E. Moore astonished a London audience by making these statements in a lecture on "Rats," which he delivered the other day. The reason why so few prosecutions had yet taken place under the "rats law," as it was termed, was because the board of agriculture was waiting until the public had become more familiar with it.
