MR. HARDING IS ON WAY TO MARION (By The Associated Press.)

ON BOARD PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Feb. 28. With preparations for the launching of his administration about complete, President-elect Harding was on his way back to Marion today to receive a formal farewell from his home town before entering the white house.

The president-elect's special train, which left St. Augustine, Fla., last night, is to reach Cincinnati this evening and Marion tomorrow morning. A lay over of several hours is planned in Cincinnati, but Mr. and Mrs. Harding do not expect to leave their private car. They will be in Marion until late Wednesday.

Tanned by five weeks under the Florida sun, the president-elect is returning northward apparently in much better physical trim than he was when he left Ohio. Not only did he have two weeks of complete rest during his honeymoon trip, but he has since spent a part of practically every day on the golf links at St. Augustine, insisting on outdoor exercise even in the hottest period when his cabinet selections were reaching consummation.

Only a final revision of the inaugural address remains to complete Mr. Harding's pre-inauguration tasks. He worked on this today and expected to have it finalized by the time of his arrival in Marion.

The Harding residence in Marion has been leased, and the president-elect and his wife will make the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding, their headquarters during the visit.

FEELING RUNS HIGH AGAINST NIGHT RIDERS (By The Associated Press.)

HENNINGTON, Ala., Feb. 28.—John Beavers and John Brown, arrested Saturday and held in jail at Scottsboro, on charges of participating in night riding raids, were brought here today for safekeeping. Feeling is running high against the two about Scottsboro. Brown is out being from W. O. W. law enforcement officers charge were inflicted when he led a band of night riders in an attack last Thursday on the home of Harry McGowan.

Johnson county authorities and state law enforcement officers faced the unusual situation of dealing with possible mob violence from two sources. Local owners and non-members of the smaller "Fights" towns, are said to have common interest in defeat the objects of the mob and check night riding.

These forces threatened to march on the Scottsboro jail in an effort to break vengeance upon Beavers and Brown, according to reports reaching the authorities.

Another mob composed of members of the night rider band was reported forming with the object of liberating Beavers and Brown.

The two men were removed to Henryville under cover of darkness.

ON GUARD. SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Feb. 28.—Law enforcement officers remained on guard in the jail here today to prevent possible mob violence against two men charged with participation in night riding in this section during the past week. Citizens of Scottsboro, Ala., have appealed to the federal States marshal for action.

Night riders in Jackson county are said to have dragged men from their homes and whipped them. The victims included the authorities that the night riders had warned them to join the "Fights" town. Members of the union mob and part in the outrages.

John Beavers and John Brown, the two held here, are charged with being members of a band of fifteen men who raided the home of Harry McGowan Thursday night.

DEATH TOLL REACHES

not be located in the Chesterton morgue. Efforts of volunteer doctors and nurses from Michigan City and Gary to rush the injured to hospitals led to confusion in the check of railroad officials upon the list of casualties but it was believed the total would not exceed 35. The speed of the New York Central train, while fatal to passengers in the two death cars, saved the passengers in the rear coaches of both trains from worse than a severe jolting. Bodies of Engineer Claude Johnson, of Elkhart, Ind., and Fireman George Deland, of Elkhart, engine crew on the New York Central train, were recovered early today from beneath the tangled mass of iron to which their engine was reduced by the impact.

Engineer W. F. Long, of Jackson, Mich., and Fireman George Block, of Michigan City, Ind., were able to save themselves, their engine being far beyond the point of the collision. "I was not to blame," Townerman Cook told an Associated Press representative at his home in Chesterton, early today. "I threw the distant block against the Michigan Central train. I threw the block two miles back from the crossing. I do not know why they failed to catch the signal."

Representatives of the Indiana railroad commission were expected on the scene early today, to start the state's angle of the investigation. An official statement issued from the office of the chief dispatcher of the Michigan Central at Chicago also declared the Michigan Central engine crew apparently failed to observe that the crossing signal was set against them.

With the coming of daylight, officials in charge of the wrecking crews expected to be able to clear away the wreckage sufficiently to enable trains to operate on both tracks and to remove the last of the bodies still held down by timbers. Portions of at least six persons were visible beneath the heavy New York Central cars, members of the wrecking crew declared.

Because of the darkness, the shock of the catastrophe and the frenzied efforts of admirers, many names were first given out by railroad officials as among the dead who later were found not to have been injured.

A pathetic incident of the catastrophe was revealed in the death of Engineer Albert Van Riper, of the Michigan Central, whose mangled body was extracted from the wreckage. He was traveling on a pass and was to have been retired on a pension today after 50 years of service at the throttle, during which he had escaped even a scratch on the finger or a disabling burn.

ONLY 14 OUT OF 42 ARE POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED.

The death list of last night's railroad wreck here was today fixed by H. O. Schulz, coroner of Porter county, at 42. The morgue at Chesterton contained 36 bodies, some of them only fragmentary, four were still under the wreckage 15 hours after the accident, and two were at a hospital in Michigan City. Only 14 had been positively identified by relatives or friends, as follows:

- At Chesterton morgue: Howard Arney, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Emma Beyer, Augusta, Mich.; Mrs. Florence See, Michigan City, Ind.; Pearl May Cavanaugh, 8 years old, a orphaned daughter of Mrs. See; Mrs. Lillian Bach, Michigan City, Ind.; Arthur E. Eckmann, 2 year old nephew of Mrs. Buehr; Justin Collins, London, Ontario; Gordon Campbell, Revelstoke, B. C. student, Chicago; Carl Deland, fireman of New York Central train, of Elkhart, Ind.; W. G. Engler, traveling on pass from Chicago to Detroit; Claude Johnson, of Elkhart, Ind., engineer of the New York Central train; Peter Van, Regina, Sask.; Mrs. Barnhart Kramer, Michigan City, Ind.; At Michigan City Hospital: E. M. Giddings, from Kirby, Wyoming, to Augusta, Mich.

WHAT SOME ROTARIANS SAY ABOUT DR. BARKER

"The greatest service that International Rotary ever rendered our club was to permit Dr. Barker to stop off one day in Oakland and give his three addresses. It is to be hoped that International Rotary will be able to keep Dr. Barker on its staff for the rest of his natural life."—Mox Horwinski, president, Rotary Club of Oakland, Calif. "We have had many good things in the past, as have all Rotary Clubs, and I do not want to seem to wax over-enthusiastic about any one of our meetings, but I cannot refrain from telling you that Dr. Barker's day goes down in history of the Chicago Rotary Club as being the best from every standpoint that we ever had."—Wm. E. Kier, president, Chicago Rotary Club. "On Tuesday we had the great pleasure of hearing Dr. Barker. He is a wonderful man and speaker, and Rotary is doing its greatest service in making it possible for so many to hear his great message. We wish to thank the International for giving us the great privilege of meeting and hearing such a man."—H. W. Thomas, secretary, Rotary Club of Bakersfield, Calif.

CORRECTION OF A MISLEADING STATEMENT.

To the Editor of The Gazette: In giving the figures relative to the attendance of men receded by the Bible classes of our several churches on Sunday, February 29, the writer stated, in the church news column of Saturday's issue The Gazette, that 85 men were present at the Main Street Methodist church, not being aware of the fact that the number given represented the attendants figures of but one of three men's classes.

Being informed later of this fact and that the number of men in attendance at the three classes was one hundred and fifty or sixty, I take pleasure in making the correction, and trust that each one of the classes may record an attendance of 85 in the very near future. GEO. R. GILLESPIE.

KILLED YOUNG BROTHER TO PUT HIM OUT OF MISERY. PONTIAC, Mich., Feb. 28.—Warren Brantford, 11 years old, was detained by the police here today, pending investigation into the killing in a woods near Farmington yesterday of his nine-year-old brother, Clare. The older boy shot and killed his brother, "to put him out of his misery," he said, after having accidentally wounded him while demonstrating his skill with a revolver.

According to Warren's statement to the sheriff, he fired the first shot in an effort to see how close he could come to his brother without hitting him. The younger lad turned at the shot and was struck in the side. Warren then placed the muzzle against the prostrate child's head, and pulled the trigger, killing him instantly.

"I wanted to put him out of his misery; I didn't want to see him suffer," he said today.
