REVALUATION ACT AS AMENDED. EXPECTED TO SATISFY THE FARMERS

Boards of County Commissioners and County Boards of Appraisers to Meet in April As County Board of Review—General Assembly Will Adjourn Tomorrow.

(By Max Abernethy.)
RALEIGH, March 7.—Revaluation as amended by Representative Doughton and Senator Varner is expected to satisfy the farmers of the State who have with Josiah W. Bailey and Dr. H. Q. Alexander been making war upon the law.
The revision is made in the machinery act and is intended to correct inequalities that exist in the valuation of real and corporate property. The board of county commissioners and the county board of appraisers and review are directed to meet jointly in each county in the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April, 1921, as a county board of review. It is this board's duty to determine if value of real property appraised and assessed in the county as a whole is in excess of the fair value of property at the time the board meets.
If the board finds that the assessed value of property is in excess of the actual value it shall find the average percentage of such excess in the county as a whole and shall report not later than April 20, 1921, its findings to the State Tax Commission.
The work of revising and correcting the inequalities in the law as at present listed for taxation is to be done by the county officials the State Tax Commission has final jurisdiction. Application may be made to the board by any property holder who thinks his property has been listed for taxation in excess of a fair price.
Correcting the inequalities of the revaluation act is one of the most important matters that the legislature had to deal with. Should it appear that the amendment as written will correct the
