DEFENSE MAY SEEK

POSTPONEMENT OF TRIAL
ATLANTA, Ga., April 1.—Possibility that the defense would seek a postponement of the trial of John S. Williams at Covington, Ga., next week, was seen today in the announcement of Green F. Johnson, his counsel, that "it is very doubtful whether he will be ready for trial next week." Requests for a change of venue on grounds of possible violence to Williams has been withdrawn.
The plan of Solicitor General Brand at Covington is to place Williams on trial for the murder of each of the three negroes he is alleged to have taken into that county and threatened to hide alleged poison conditions on his plantation. The grand jury in Jasper county is to meet April 11 with a view to returning indictments in the case of eight more negroes whose bodies were recovered in Jasper county. Statements that two more negro bodies would be found were being investigated today by state officials as the result of a story attributed to a negro whose name they refused to disclose.

GOT HOT.
The mayor set a clean-up day.
To haul all trash and such away.
But Jones' trash stayed,
And swore he'd not
Each fold-er-dub,
The clean-up season came and went,
The mayor tremes and wagons wait,
But Jones' trash stayed,
And there it laid,
On fell destruction beat.

Said Peter, "I'm agin it.
For such thapsidole I'll not fall.
Remember, I'm not in it."
"Let's have a clean-up day," said Paul.
The time went by to clean the town,
With Peter still agin it.
Pat one day Peter's house burned down,
And Peter he was in it.

TORNADO TAKES TOLL

IN LIFE AND PROPERTY
Two Dead, Two Fatally Injured and Much Property Ruined by Storm That Swept Across Section of Georgia.

ALBANY, Ga., April 1.—Two dead, two probably fatally injured and several suffering minor injuries, and property damage variously estimated at from two hundred to three hundred thousand dollars, is the toll of the tornado that swept across the northern section of Albany yesterday afternoon.
The dead are John Wesley McCoy, a negro carpenter who was working on a new bungalow that was destroyed by the storm, and Jerry Dallas, a negro employee of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, whose immense plant was almost totally wrecked.

Lawton Shaw, a negro carpenter, was hurt in the destruction of the new bungalow, and Henry Bennett, a negro employee of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, are at a local hospital, both expected to die from their injuries.
Others injured were Mrs. J. C. Morgan, who was hurt when her husband's grocery store was blown down; Mrs. Anton Haber, who was injured as she was alighting from an automobile at the plant of the Anton Huber Lumber Company, which was practically demolished; and Grady Halstead, a white carpenter, who was among the workmen injured in the destruction of a new house on Second street. Al Johnson, white, was slightly hurt when a large shade tree fell on his automobile and wrecked it. C. H. Inman, young white man, who was sitting in the grandstand at the baseball park watching for baseball practice to begin, was slightly injured and his clothes were torn from him when the big grandstand was picked up and thrown down in ruins in a street nearby. H. W. Shine, a grocer, escaped unhurt when his store came tumbling about him. A negro employee of the Reynolds Brothers box and crate factory, was buried under the ruins of the boiler room of that plant, but crawled out unhurt.

The worst damage that was sustained by any one concern was at the plant of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, estimates of the loss here being $50,000. The loss at the Anton Haber Lumber Company is estimated at $20,000. The immense warehouse of the Shippers' Congress Company was badly damaged, but no estimate of the loss has been made. The plant of the Albany Canning Company was unroofed and otherwise damaged.

After leaving Albany the storm came down to earth again about 12 miles northeast of the city, in Worth county, three miles southwest of Oakfield, wrecking several homes and outhouses and uprooting trees. Two persons were injured. George Reynolds and his son, White, was severely but not fatally injured when their home was blown from the foundation and carried some distance. The residences of Thomas Howard, Rone Reynolds and Lee Prigett, all white, were also wrecked but all of the occupants escaped injury. Several negro houses were also demolished, their occupants receiving only slight injuries.

COMMENDS WORK OF COUNTY AGENT GOWAN

I. O. Schaub, of U. S. Department of Agriculture, Commends Terrace Work in Gaston County.

County Agent C. Lee Gowan has received the following letter from Mr. I. O. Schaub, chief of the State's relation service, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.:
Mr. C. L. Gowan,
Gastonia, N. C.

Dear Mr. Gowan:
I have just read with a great deal of interest your weekly field report for March 12th, regarding the terracing campaign which you put on in your county. This seems to me to have been the best organized campaign for terracing demonstrations that I have seen, and I wish to congratulate you on your success. I think so well of it that I am sending a description of it to the other states in my territory, with the hope that some of their agents may be able to profit by your experience. I am sure it is going to be very interesting for you to watch the results from this two week's work to see how rapidly the farmers of your county terrace the lands.
Very truly yours,
I. O. SCHAUB,
Acting Chief.

PARENTS AND TEACHERS DISCUSS PROBLEMS

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held at the Central school auditorium Thursday evening. The meeting was held under the direction of the child welfare committee. Mrs. J. H. Spunk, chairman, presided. The program was also designed to interest the fathers of school children and many fathers were present. Interesting papers were read by Miss Mary Mitchell, of the high school faculty, and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Miss Mitchell's paper emphasized the needs of proper home study and suitable environment for the child. Mrs. Johnson's talk dealt largely with the cooperation that should exist among the citizenship of a city when the interests of the boys and girls are at stake.

The open forum discussion brought out several interesting facts to teachers and parents. R. C. Patrick, secretary and treasurer of the city school board, presented in tabular form, answers to a series of questions that had been asked as to school finances, expenses, etc. Answering certain questions that had been directed at the domestic science department, Miss Hunsbaw, head of the home economics department, presented the work of the department, showing that the cost per pupil per day was 1.35 cents.

Supt. Joe S. Wray, Miss Ella Bradley and Miss Edith Mason, representing the teachers of the schools, made short speeches in defense of the teachers' position. The question of supervised study for the school children came in for a spirited discussion. Mrs. T. E. Summerow and Dr. T. C. Quickel leading in the debate.

R. Grady Rankin spoke for a few minutes on the general improvement and growth that had taken place in the city schools since he was a pupil there. He begged that Gastonians give consideration to the needs of a new high school building, and that there should be no decrease in teachers' salaries, now that they had been raised to a decent standard.

It had generally been expected that this meeting would result in the announcement of several women for the school board.

The inquiry is preparatory to ordering the usual board of investigation, which probably will not be designated until Secretary Denby returns from Guantanamo April 5.

Preparation.
Justest — Don't bother about getting ready. Come home to dinner with me just as you are.
Obdurate — It won't take me long. I just want to run to my room and down a can of beans for a little filling before I start. — Houston Post.

WANTS TO CULTIVATE TRADE WITH ASHEVILLE

City Manager Alexander Visits Asheville Board of Trade—Gastonia Boosters May Visit Asheville.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 1.—W. J. Alexander, city manager of Gastonia, is in town today visiting his wife, who has been here for several months.
Mr. Alexander states that the business men of Gastonia are making booster trips to nearby territory, and expect to come to Asheville with the Gastonia Pythian lodge and a hundred automobiles loaded with their leading citizens and their ladies.

At the Board of Trade this morning Mr. Alexander stated that one or two of these booster trips had been made and found exceedingly valuable to the business men of the city; and that they are anxious to cultivate a closer relationship with Asheville. He said that he had noticed reference to trade trips now being planned by the Asheville Board of Trade, and expressed the hope that the Asheville business men would make one of their future trips long enough to take in Gastonia, where they would be given a cordial welcome.

FIGHTING BETWEEN GREEKS AND TURKS IS SPREADING.

(By The Associated Press.)
ATHENS, April 1.—Fighting between the Greeks and Turkish nationalists has spread along the line in Asia Minor until the northern end of the active zone is within 50 miles of Ismid. An official statement issued here tells of the 11th division of the Greek army occupying the northern entrance of Geveh pass, south of Adabazar, and pushing forward into the defile more than six miles. Severe fighting occurred during this operation.
In the capture of Avghin, further south, the Greeks were forced to contend with strong enemy forces, who defended their positions with machine guns and hand grenades. A Turkish flag and several machine guns were captured by the Greeks, the statement says.
The assault which resulted in the capture of Kovalitz, on the right flank of the Greek army, was preceded by heavy artillery fire for the purpose of destroying redoubts and barbed wire entanglements. The fire began there on March 29, and the Turks rushed reinforcements into the struggle, but before noon on March 30 the town was taken.

LOOK AT ME NOW - I'M 40 POUNDS HEAVIER-TAKING GARREN'S TONIC

Nervous Indigestion—Loss of Sleep and Appetite Brings Jacksonville Business Man to Verge of Break-down—Garren's Tonic Restores Health, Strength and Weight, From 135 to 175 Pounds.

"I weighed less than 136 lbs. and was on the verge of a nervous break-down in 1914, suffering from indigestion and started taking Garren's Tonic. After taking four bottles I felt, like a new man, my weight increased to 185 lbs., and it has not been below 175 lbs. since," said Mr. John P. Couch, Secretary and General Manager of the Florida Help Supply Company, Jacksonville, Fla.

"There is absolutely no question," continued Mr. Couch, "about Garren's Tonic being a wonderful medicine, prompt in its action and always helpful. I was absolutely conscious that I was being greatly benefited after using only one bottle and if anybody, anywhere wants my personal opinion of Garren's Tonic and its effect upon my case, I will be glad to write anyone who will enclose a stamp for reply."

have received too much good from Garren's Tonic to even hesitate in recommending this Tonic to people who suffer from indigestion, nervousness or stomach trouble of any nature. I do not believe that anyone can render a better service to such people, for I am now assured that Garren's Tonic will relieve the most obstinate case."

The above statements are identical with those made by thousands of people who have been relieved from their suffering from the use of this wonderful Back-to-Nature Remedy. The digestive organs of the body are the most vital ones to the health of mankind. Without food man starves to death and with food improperly digested he is in a worse condition. Garren's Tonic is composed of herbs and roots which deal exclusively with the digestive organs, giving additional gastric juices, proper elimination of waste matter and strength to the body by supplying it with an abundance of red blood.
