"THE NAUGHTY WIFE."

A Great Big Hit At The Canvas Theater Monday Night.

A full tent greeted the United Southern Stock Company Monday night and witnessed one of the most pleasing comedies ever seen in Gastonia. The company is far above the usual popular price stock companies and each and every one is entitled to mention for excellence of their work.

"The Naughty Wife" will be repeated again tonight and Wednesday. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with a special matinee, "Cappy Ricks" a character comedy by Peter B. Kyme. The following is from the Pensacola News of November 19, 1920: (Under the head, "Cappy Ricks A Wonderful Play.")

"Too much can not be said in praise for "Cappy Ricks" now playing at the Pastime theatre. It is without a doubt the best show that has been produced by the United Southern Stock Co., and positively the best and most pleasing play that has ever been seen in Pensacola.

As the curtain dropped at the end of the last act Manager Williams was heard to say, "I'll take my hat off to Ed Lawrence—he belongs on Broadway—he is the whole show—that's what I call a real show if anybody is dissatisfied after seeing "Cappy Ricks" they can have their money back.

If the Pastime Theatre continues to offer plays like "Cappy Ricks" their proposed new theater with 2,000 seats won't be half large enough to accommodate the crowds."—Adv.

Frost in Spartanburg.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 12.—There was light frost in this section this morning and thin ice formed in exposed places. Early vegetables were killed but it is not thought the fruit crop was damaged, as the leaves were large enough to protect the tender buds. The lowest temperature was 39.

The Stags have come to stay.

WALTERS BARBER SHOP.

—By Rendrag.

There are several barber shops in town. That will shave you while you're lying down.

But, the one I mention is nice and clean. It's Walters' shop, is it, one I mean.

The one on the first chair up in front. Is not very tall but he is no runt. For you know if you've got a shave in his chair.

His arm is strong and his razor fair. The one in the next his name is Rockett. He never has nothing but holes in his pocket.

He talks a heap but he don't say much. Just talks about women and 'Gals' and such.

The next on the list I believe is Worth. He's been a barber from the day of his birth. He'll shave you clean if you can stand the pull.

And the talk he spreads, some calls it "Ball."

Harvey is next along the line. With the razor and brush he thinks he's fine.

And when you watch him it can be seen That he came from down below "Bowling Green."

Now we come to plain old Ike. He smokes cigarettes called "Lucky Strike."

Rides in his little Ford Coupe. And picks you up if you're goin' his way.

Spargo in his corner sure looks immense. He don't want a job for twenty cents. If a man's hard to shave shows up on the floor.

He's got business at Adams' Drug Store. And poor old Bishop. He shines the shoes, Drinks shoe polish and calls it booze; Goes to church on Sunday Shoots craps at night.

Has several girls And thinks it's right. —adv.

The Mission Study Circle of Main Street Methodist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Albert G. Myers as hostess at her home on West Fourth avenue. In the absence of the leader, Mrs. A. A. Armstrong, Mrs. T. E. Summerow had charge of the meeting. The class is now studying an extremely interesting new book, "The Church and the Community," by Ralph D. Fendler, stressing the community service idea and showing the part a church may play in a community service program. At the close of the afternoon's study Mrs. Myers, assisted by her mother, Mrs. S. R. Nalley, of Charlotte, served a delightful fruit salad course with hot tea and other accessories.

CALHOUN-CARSON WEDDING.

A marriage of much interest to friends throughout the town and county was that of Miss Florence Carson and Mr. Eddie Calhoun, which took place Saturday evening at nine o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas F. Carson on West Airline Ave. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Kate Hanna, the young couple entered the living room unattended. The living room was very tastefully decorated with dogwood blossoms and potted plants.

In the presence of only a few friends and relatives the ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. C. Galloway, the ring ceremony being used, during which "A Perfect Day" was very softly rendered.

The bride never looked more beautiful. Her wedding gown was white dullest satin with pearl trimmings and accessories to match, her corsage was Killarney roses intermingled with fern.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. Carson. She has lived here all her life and has a host of friends.

Mr. Calhoun is the youngest son of Mr. D. A. Calhoun, of Tallabart, Georgia. He is a civil engineer, and has been making this his headquarters for some time.

Amid showers of rice—of good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun left for Maiden, from there they will go to Georgia to visit.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Summey and children of Shelby.

YORK AND YORKVILLE

The Enquirer.

Following the April meeting of Messrs. Stewart Post of the American Legion Wednesday evening the new club rooms were thrown open to the members, who are now enjoying the benefits of the handsome new apartments. Plans are under way for exercises in connection with the formal opening of the club rooms at which time people of the town will be invited to inspect them in the near future.

It's coming back—the old game of horse-shoes that has been dead in Yorkville for several years. Coming of spring, it is said, causes a restless feeling and a sort of desire to do something different. Baseball doesn't exactly satisfy in all cases—so yesterday some of the young fellows procured a quantity of horse-shoes and drove a couple of pegs the right distance in the lot behind W. E. Ferguson's store. Pitching horseshoes at the old wooden peg is great sport they say.

Mr. V. Q. Hambright, for more than a year past cashier of the First National Bank of Clover has decided to tender his resignation and move next week, together with his family for Rock Hill. Mr. Mr. Hambright will probably enter the lumber business in Rock Hill in partnership with his brother, although he has not decided definitely upon his future plans. His successor as cashier of the Clover bank has not been selected.

"You know," said a lady this morning "I think that at this time of the year Yorkville is most beautiful on account of the trees. I have been in all the towns of the state—rather most all of them and I don't know any town or hamlet as beautiful as Yorkville just now. I remember that when I went to school in the fifth grade geography was a geographic sketch of the state and the different towns of the state were mentioned. I recall that Yorkville was noted among other things for her beautiful shade trees. She is still so noted. When the trees let out their foliage and the birds of spring come it is indeed a pretty place and I am glad that I live here."

That is a commendable move on the part of the people of Fort Mill to continue the concrete road that runs from Winthrop College to Catawba river on to Fort Lawn. The road between the river and Fort Mill is bad and it will probably never be much better until it is rebuilt in concrete.

A Yorkville business man a few days ago requested the Yorkville Enquirer to ascertain the amount of tonnage handled by the C. & N. W. Railroad during the year 1920. Here are the figures: For the whole line: 636,126 tons. Yorkville received 15,662 tons and forwarded 3,633 tons. Clover received 11,800 tons and forwarded 3,336 tons. The bulk

"A starved rat will eat anything from a strip of lead pipe to an old boot. Rat poisoning campaigns often fail because the rats are not given a sufficient variety of edibles."—J. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Stags will have up-to-date club rooms.
