WAKE FOREST ALUMNI IN COUNTY ORGANIZE

Will Hold Spring Banquet With Member of Faculty as Speaker — Association Will Boost State's Baptist College For Men.

The former students of Wake Forest College now residing in Gaston county held a meeting Thursday night for the purpose of organization. After a discussion of the problem essential to an efficient and successful club, the election of officers was entered upon.

C. M. Austin was chosen as president, T. H. King, vice president, and W. C. Bivens, secretary and treasurer. Other officers will be elected when it shall appear that such are necessary for the welfare of the organization.

Matters of vital concern to the development and promotion of the club were then considered and discussed. Plans were made for the enrollment of every man in the county who has attended Wake Forest. It was noted that, in accordance with the policy of similar organizations of other institutions in this county, a spring banquet should be held at which time it was suggested, a member of the college faculty be invited to deliver an address. This motion was unanimously endorsed by those present and arrangements are already under way for the preparation of this occasion. The attendance of the initial gathering of the Wake Forest Alumni in Gaston county was quite satisfactory and the results of the meeting were entirely pleasing. Through this organization it is intended to give the Baptist college of this state the publicity and advertisement that it has long deserved but which it has never had.

TEAM MANAGERS GIVE MORE TIME TO ATHLETICS THAN DO THE PLAYERS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 16. — Sports at Harvard University exact more time from team managers and their assistants than from the players. They resist and have a more serious effect on their scholastic standing, according to a report of a special committee of the faculty of Arts and Sciences, to President Lowell.

Its report, which was made after the most thorough study of athletic conditions ever undertaken at Harvard, said the players on the athletic teams had a fairly good average record in scholarship and attendance, but that the team managers and candidates for manager ships not only gave to athletics twice as much time as the players, but had a much lower scholarship standard and cut their classes offener.

The committee was appointed to investigate the question "whether the present methods of conducting certain athletic sports make unreasonable demands upon the time of the students."

ENGINEERS DISCUSS ELIMINATION OF WASTE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16. Elimination of waste in industry and other questions of economic, social and political importance were discussed here today at a meeting of the new American Engineering Council of the Federated Engineering Societies.

The committee on elimination of waste in industry, appointed by Secretary Hoover reported that it had investigated petroleum and mining, building trades, transportation, men's ready made clothing, printing, paper, metal trades, textiles, shoes and haberdashery.

L. W. Wallace, vice chairman of the committee, said the committee's findings were expected to have an important influence in bringing about better industrial conditions, especially improved relations between capital and labor.

Yorkville Enquirer: Two unknown men held up and robbed Dr. V. M. Roberts, physician of Blacksburg, Sunday night on a lonely road while he was returning to the village from a visit to a patient. The things took his watch and a sum of money. Dr. Roberts says that his assailants were white men and that they were both armed with pistols. He was traveling in his car at the time of the hold-up, the highwaymen forcing him to stop and threatened him with death if he attempted any resistance. Detectives are working on the case.

Two white men, Bevel Beach and C. P. Gordon, were brought to the police station shortly after noon today with knife wounds on head and ears. The men were found in the 8th-street section drunk. Negroes living in that section phoned in to police headquarters that the two men were drunk and down. One of the men had a purse containing $5.55. Whether the two men themselves were fighting or whether their injuries were inflicted by a third party or parties is not known. Neither was in any condition to give a coherent account of the affair. They were lodged in the city jail to sober up.

HEAVY CRIMINAL DOCKET FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Two Hundred Cases for Trial at Two Weeks Term of Criminal Court Which Begins Monday — Rumored That McGinnas Will Show Up.

Gaston Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases will convene Monday morning with Judge W. P. Harding, of Charlotte, presiding. Following a one week regular term of court there will be a second week of criminal court commencing the 27th, this having been ordered by the board of county commissioners in permission of the governor in order that the congested criminal docket might be cleared up. It is possible that this two weeks term of criminal court may be followed by a two weeks special term of civil court. A request for this has been made to Governor Morrison, but he is at present in New York in the interest of the road fund and the request has not been acted upon. The reason for a request being made for a special term of civil court is found in the fact that the last regular term was omitted because Judge Harding was tied up in the long-drawn-out case of McNinch vs. American Trust Co. in their late.

There were 135 cases on the criminal docket this morning and this number will probably be increased to more than 200 by Monday. Thirty-one new cases were docketed. There is an unusually large number of liquor cases on the docket and, as these cases are usually contested, every indication is that the full two weeks will be required to clear the docket.

The case which will in all probability prove the one of largest interest on the docket is the one of the State vs. Charles McGinnas for kidnaping. McGinnas is still at large, but there are rumors around the court house today to the effect that he will be on hand Monday. He is under a bond of $25,000, which would be forfeited in case of his non appearance. However, warrants are out standing against him for a similar offense alleged to have been committed recently and it is understood that he will be promptly arrested on this new charge if he puts in his appearance.

POLISH DIET RATIFIES TREATY OF PEACE

WARSAW, April 16. Ratification of the treaty of peace between Poland, Soviet Russia and Ukraine has been voted by the Polish diet. This action, which took place yesterday, completes Poland's obligation to have the convention approved within 30 days after the pact was signed, on March 18. The bolshevik government ratified it on March 22, but similar action on the part of the Ukraian has not as yet been reported.

Under the terms of the convention over 300,000 square kilometers of Poland, Russia and Ukraine turned over to the Ukraian front. Russia and Ukraine agreed to pay to Poland within a year following ratification of the treaty 200,000,000 gold rubles, and to release Poland from being liable for any share of the debts of the former Russian empire. Amnesty for political crimes was provided for, and all parties agreed to abstain from propaganda against each other.

DENTON MERCHANT IS DROWNED AT CHANDLER

LEXINGTON, April 15.—Wade Hill, prominent young merchant of Denton, was drowned late yesterday in the Berlin lake at Chandler, in the southern end of this county, according to news reaching here today. A boat captized and Hill found a place of safety, but later tried to swim to the bank before a boat arrived to rescue him and sank before reaching shore. Another member of the fishing party is reported to have narrowly escaped drowning while making a desperate effort to rescue the drowning man. The body was recovered some six hours later.

Mr. Hill was manager of the mercantile firm of Hill and Son, at Denton. He was about 28 years old, married and had two children.

JUDGE LINDSAY CITED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

DENVER, Colo., April 16.—Judge Ben R. Lindsay was to appear in court for the fourth time today for sentence for contempt of court following his refusal to reveal in county court the confidential story of a young boy, whose mother was being tried for murder six years ago.

Postponement of execution of sentence of $500 fine or a jail term was made three times. District Attorney Van Cise announced last night that the stage was all set for Lindsay's sentence today. Except for a previous statement that he would rather go to jail than betray the confidence of a child, the judge has not indicated his position. He has refused numerous offers to pay the fine.

SAM L. ROGERS QUILTS POST AFTER SIX YEARS

His Voluntary Resignation Accepted by Harding—Office Is in Fine Shape—All Statistics in Connection With the Last Census Are Far Advanced.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Sam L. Rogers, director of the census, today turned over his office to the assistant director, William M. Stewart, and quit the public service in which he was engaged since March 18, 1915.

Mr. Rogers' resignation was accepted by President Harding and Secretary Hoover. He will not return immediately to his home in Franklin, N. C. His children are in school in Washington, and he will await the end of the term before going back to the state. Meanwhile he will dispose of the property he owns in Washington.

The resignation of Director Rogers was voluntary. He said tonight that he felt it was only fair to the new administration that he, a Democrat, should relinquish office as soon as convenient to all parties interested.

Mr. Rogers leaves the work of the census bureau in excellent shape; in fact, it is more progressed than at any previous census. All the tabulations of population by states and minor civil divisions have been made and published. The statistics covering races, occupations and similar details will all be finished within a short time. Every detail of the 1920 census promises to be behind the census bureau by the end of this calendar year, in all probability, and at the farthest by the end of the next fiscal year.

Director Rogers has made a record in another way. He has actually turned money back into the treasury after making an official estimate. The estimate was $20,000,000, and he thinks there will be turned back at least $300,000 and possibly $1,000,000. Heretofore census directors have had to come back to congress for deficit appropriations.

Hoover Expresses Appreciation

In accepting the resignation of Director Rogers Secretary Hoover expressed appreciation of his "devotion to the work and the public duty." President Harding wrote in similar strain, acknowledging receipt of the resignation as transmitted by Mr. Hoover.

At the height of the census taking work Director Rogers was the chief of 30,000 employees. Of these 7,000 were employed in Washington and the remainder were field agents. When he left office the census work had become so nearly complete that the Washington employees of the census bureau number only 2,000.

It had been expected that Director Rogers would hold his position until the end of the present fiscal year, but he decided to quit immediately.

"I felt that with a new administration in," said Mr. Rogers, "they were entitled to have my resignation so they might fill the office from their own party. I have the satisfaction of knowing the work is exceptionally well advanced and my successor will have little trouble in winding up the job. I appreciate what the President and Secretary Hoover have said about my service."

In quitting office the Tar Heel director has the satisfaction of knowing that his census figures have been accepted and approved by the various statistical organizations of the country.

It is expected that Mr. Rogers will return to business pursuits in North Carolina, but he does not plan to leave Washington until summer.

Secrets of GOOD ADVERTISING

A DEFINITE PURPOSE.

The first step in writing a good advertisement is to decide definitely upon the duty which it is expected to perform.

An advertisement written at random to fill a certain amount of space cannot be expected to bring profitable returns.

The successful advertiser knows just what purpose he wishes to accomplish with every advertisement before he prepares it. Then he can write his message intelligently and expect it to be read with interest.

Sometimes he may wish to announce the arrival of a new line of merchandise. Another time he may decide to offer reduced prices on certain articles.

But whatever the purpose of the announcement, the successful advertiser has that purpose in mind throughout the entire preparation of the advertisement. His display lines, illustrations and text all reflect the message he wishes to send.

After all, the object of most advertisements is to induce you to visit the advertiser's store. And just as there are different reasons why you might wish to go there, so are there different purposes for which advertisements might be prepared.
