

CALLAS DOTS

(By MRS. JOE GRIBBLE)

DALLAS, May 18.—Mrs. S. C. Cornwell and Mrs. Ed Shell were delegates to the annual missionary society of the Western N. C. Conference which convened at Lenoir the latter part of last week.

Thursday afternoon of the past week Miss Willie Webb, accompanied by Miss Lela Durham, hiked with the little folks of the third grade, of which Miss Webb was teacher the past year, to a beautiful spot near the home of Mr. Tom Rhyne and enjoyed fun and a delicious picnic supper.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jenkins, of Mt. Holly, returned to their home Saturday after a week's visit with their daughter, Mrs. P. M. Rhyne.

Mrs. M. E. Puett had as her guests at Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. F. Harlan and children, Mrs. Annie Bolton and daughter, Miss Emma, of Charlotte, and Mrs. Addie Williams, of Lowryville, S. C. Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Williams are remaining for a longer visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kendrick and baby spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hastings.

Miss Grace Lanier, a former resident of Dallas, but now of Randle, and when here a faithful member of the Tatapochon Camp Fire, visited friends during Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Julia Devine.

Misses Chloe Payne and Stella O'Brien, of Bessemer City, were week-end guests of Misses Fannie and Bessie Reinhardt. Miss Violet Knox left Monday for her home in Huntersville and Miss Louise Maynard for Apex, school having closed last Friday.

Importance of Sabbath day observance was stressed in a strong sermon delivered by Rev. W. S. Hamiter at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and facts stated that should awaken people as to their Christian duty and usefulness. Sunday night a joint service with the Methodist church was held in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. O. Ervin, who is conducting special services at High Shoals. This service was also preparatory to the ten-days meeting which begins there Sunday conducted by the pastor and his son, Mr. Clifford Ervin, who is home from college where he studied the past winter for the ministry.

Mrs. W. R. Thomas, of Gastonia, route four, is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. G. E. C. Passour, of Dallas, route one.

MT. HOLLY MATTERS

MT. HOLLY, N. C., May 18.—After spending several weeks visiting relatives and friends, Mrs. Stuart Clark has returned to her home in Knoxville. She took with her Mary Wilson, her oldest child, who will spend the summer with her mother.

Miss Louise Kendall, of Norwood, is visiting relatives in our vicinity and took in the commencement exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Spratt, of Chester, S. C., are visiting their son, Mr. Roy Spratt.

With the finishing of the school year of 1920-21, the teachers have returned to their homes to get ready to go to summer school.

Mr. Robert Hermes is in Crowe, Va., working at his trade, brick laying.

Mr. H. Sigmon, of Catawba county, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jacob Lutz, of Nimsville, and Mrs. George Propst, of Belmont.

Miss Bessie Biseh, of Belmont, during commencement has been visiting Miss Pauline Lutz.

One of the surprises of the month was the quiet marriage at York, S. C., of Miss Rita Fitzpatrick and Mr. Hester Baumgardner. It was a runaway affair and since Miss Fitzpatrick was in the graduating class of 1921, the marriage was kept a profound secret until the day of graduation. The couple are young in years and brave in heart. Miss Fitzpatrick is a native of Boston, Mass., and the daughter of Mr. T. B. Fitzpatrick, superintendent of the American Processing Co. Mr. Baumgardner is the manager of the Holly Movie and the son of Mr. E. D. Baumgardner, superintendent of the Globe Cotton Mills.

Last night saw the commencement exercises of the high school. Beginning with last Thursday night, a musical recital, a feast of good things and entertainment of high order marked each night. The attendance was record breaking, even when an admission was charged.

The exercises were of a high order and reflected credit upon the whole faculty. The following program was given Monday night:

CLASS EXERCISES.

- Literary Address—Hon. S. J. Durham.
- Welcome Address—Wade Spratt.
- History—Mae Springs.
- Statistics—Willie Linberger.
- Poem—Faith Kohn.
- Last Will and Testament—Guy Fisher.
- Giftorian—Clara Kale.
- Prophet—Beulah Taylor.
- Orator—James Ware.
- Mascot—Jo-Marie Thompson.

The graduating class numbered twelve, seven girls and five boys. The diplomas were delivered by the principal, Mr. U. E. Rozzell, who prefaced the delivery of diplomas with some appropriate remarks. We are looking for an increase in students next year and a year of faithful work.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. R. L. Jenkins at her home, between the hours of 4 and 6. Mrs. Jenkins received in honor of Mrs. Arthur McDaniels, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Stuart Clark, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. James Holland, of Rutherfordton, N. C.; Mrs. C. L. Jenkins, of Greensboro, N. C.; and Mrs. Karl Keller, of Norfolk, Va. Her home was tastefully decorated with sweet peas and snapdragons. The guests were met by Miss Ida Rankin and were

STANLEY HAPPENINGS

STANLEY, May 17.—Mount Holly and Stanley ball teams (not the high school teams) played here last Saturday afternoon. The playing was right well done and was 3 to 7 in favor of Mount Holly.

Rev. Albert Sherrill preached the memorial sermon at Unity Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon for the pastor, Rev. F. B. Rankin. There was a large crowd and it was a great day.

Herbert and Eugene, young sons of Mr. L. D. Clemmer, are right ill with colitis, seemingly the after-effects of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goodwin and children spent a few days recently with Mrs. M. B. Peterson.

Miss Mary Sherrill, who has been in school at Rutherford College, came home Thursday where she will spend her vacation.

Miss Frederick, of Lenoirville, was a weekend visitor at Mr. T. F. Cannon's.

Mr. R. E. Craig, superintendent of the mills here, returned recently from a visit to New York and other northern cities, in the interest of his mills.

The new town administration held its first business meeting last night. They re-elected Mr. Arthur Lay as police man and Mr. R. I. Abernathy as town clerk. Mr. Lay has also been appointed a deputy by the sheriff of the county. At this meeting they also passed ordinances requiring all meat dealers to have town license, increasing the fine for the violation of the 15-mile speed limit from $5 to $50; closing all stores on Sunday, only for the sale of necessary medicines, and closing all gasoline tanks, only allowing emergency sales.

Miss Frances Moore, whose marriage has been announced for next Thursday, at 6 o'clock has been ill with measles, but will be sufficiently recovered to have the marriage solemnized at the hour designated.

Rev. W. W. Rimmer, who has been attending the Baptist convention at Chattanooga, Tenn., returned today, and goes away this afternoon to Charlotte to lead the singing in a meeting there.

Mr. Will McGinnis has discontinued his lunch counter and has taken out license to operate a meat market.

Mr. W. F. Sherrill, brother of Rev. Albert Sherrill, and his daughter, Mrs. Walter Mayhew, he of Kannapolis, and she of Mooresville, will be weekend visitors at the parsonage this week.

directed to the reception hall, where Mrs. T. A. Bell and Miss Grace Kohn served ice cream and cakes.

Miss Annie Bell received in the music room, where Mrs. Helen Jones presided by Misses Rankin, Bailey and Jenkins, poured coffee.

About fifty guests called during the afternoon to enjoy Mrs. Jenkins' hospitality and to meet her guests.

THOMAS JEFFERSON HIMSELF

APPEARED IN PERSON

(By The Associated Press.)

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., May 18.—While citizens in many cities were celebrating the 178th anniversary April 13 of Thomas Jefferson's birth, Jefferson himself made an appearance and was seen chatting with visitors on the broad verandas of his beloved Monticello.

The Marquis de Lafayette and other gentlemen in powdered periwigs were along the callers, and after showing them about the grounds and offering them refreshment in tall, mint covered tumblers, Jefferson invited his guests to step into a colonial stage coach which immediately lumbered away toward the University of Virginia.

This unusual ceremony was part of the University's Founder's Day celebration. Jefferson founded the historic old institution at Charlottesville one hundred years ago and its officials decided that April 13 was the most appropriate time to reveal the activities of their father and sponsor in moving picture films.

William I. Morton, secretary of the Charlottesville and Albemarle Railway Company took the part of Jefferson and Dr. William H. Goodyen, associate professor of surgery of the university's department of medicine, portrayed Lafayette.

The sight of Colonial gentry in tall hats, fern fitting doublets and satin knee breeches came as a surprise to several hundred Virginians who make an annual pilgrimage to Monticello to deprecate Jefferson's grave.

Notable features who chipped away large portions of the original tomb stone fashioned under the direction of Jefferson, himself, have again been busy and the new stone erected by the government is beginning to show signs of their vandalism. Frank M. Randolph, of Keswick, a member of the Jefferson Association, and one of Jefferson's oldest living descendants, placed a wreath of roses and green bay leaves at the grave.

Some folks figgins dey's hurtin' de church when dey gets mad and quits, but dey's wrong 'bout dat — hit don't nevah hurt de tree fur de rotten apples t' fall off!
