Gastonia, The South's City of Spindles

THE CLIQUE.

What is "The Clique"? "It is a body of men.
Who attend every meeting, not just now and then;
Who don't miss a meeting unless they are sick;
These are the men that the ground calls
"The Clique."
Who don't make a farce of the sacred word "brother";
Who believe in the motto to help one another;
Who never resort to a dishonest trick; These are the men that some call "The Clique."
The men who are seldom behind in their dues;
And who from the meetings do not carry news;
Who attend to their duties and visit the sick;
These are the men that the crank calls
"The Clique."

But there are some people who always find fault;
And many of this kind are not worth their salt;
They like to start trouble, but seldom will stick;
They like to put all of the work on "The Clique."

OUR BAND.

Speaking of the booster trip taken last week by Gastonia merchants, the Lincoln County News remarks that the Lincolnton people enjoyed the concerts given by the band that accompanied the boosters.

"Gastonia, or the Pythians, who are a part of that city have a corking good band, which is a credit to that city. No town should be without a brass band," adds the Lincoln paper.

The organization, of which our neighbor speaks so commendably, is a real credit to Gastonia, and the city is proud of it. Funny thing, though, that outsiders have heard more concerts by the band than Gastonians. Every time the boys schedule a public concert in the park, something breaks it up. When they get to going regularly Gastonians have some rare treats in store for these summer evenings.

THE SUMMER HALF-HOLIDAY.

It is understood that the Gastonia merchants have up for settlement and disposition tonight the question of the Wednesday half holiday for the summer months. Today's weather is an added reminder that the time is now at hand to think of these things. Of course, the merchants know how to run their business and we don't for a moment dare to presume to tell them how, but it would appear that this custom has come to be of such long standing in Gastonia and to have met with such universal approval that there could be no question as to its continuance.

The public generally has become educated to the fact that one half day during the week ought to be set aside for the rest and recreation of the store people, and they have accepted the move.
Of course, there is no question of the attitude of the clerks and sales forces toward the half holiday.

HARVEST TIME.

This is the weather farmers have been looking for. Young crops are getting anywhere with the cool damp wetter of the past two weeks prevailing.
Cotton was not coming up to any extent.
That which managed to push up out of the cold ground was pale and sickly and soon died. None of the truck and garden crops were growing as they should.
It's May weather and harvest time is coming. Already early grain crops are beginning to turn yellow and soon the noise of the blower will be heard clattering away throughout the country side.
Then it is that the country boy realizes that summer time has really come. For of all the hard work on the farm that of handling and stacking the heavy, prickly shocks of wheat and oats on a hot summer day, is of the worst sort.

Grain crops throughout Gastonia county are only fairly good. The late spring and cool weather of the past month having had a retarding influence on the maturing of crops.

'SQUIRE BRADLEY.

In the depth of "Squire Bradley" was two counts less one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens. For years, Squire Bradley has been a familiar and trusted figure in the streets of Gastonia.
A venerable and dignified old man with a flowing white beard, smiling to his appointed home of the patriarchal than was but from a more modest of years, he has been a loyal and trusted citizen of this community. His services and counsel have always been sought and eagerly followed.

Squire Bradley was held in high respect by the people among whom he lived.
He has served as county commissioner for several terms, as mayor of the city and as postmaster. These honors coming to him despite the fact that he was of a political faith opposite to the majority in the county, are a distinct tribute to his ability and the impartiality of his dealings for the common weal.

His passing removes one of the best marks of Gastonia county, for he has seen started every enterprise belonging to this community.

HARVEY.

Clinton W. Harvey, writing from Washington to the Greensboro News, thinks that Col. Harvey was speaking for the administration in his speech in London Thursday. He says that Col.
Harvey was the President's special representative and that the President had chosen him apparently as the vehicle for telling Europe flatly that the league of nations is impossible from the point of view of the United States.

Editorially, the News thinks that Harvey did not represent the President. It says:

"Senator Hitchcock, doubt whether President Harding authorized the London speech. It seems to the Daily News an unwarranted reflection upon the President even to suggest that Harvey was speaking by express commission. If he was, no reproach could of course attach to him for his utterances. He is in England to represent the Washington administration, and if he cannot represent it has no business there. But there is also lately nothing in the public record of Warren G. Harding that would warrant the assumption that he would send Garvey, as ambassador to England, or upon any other mission, to say some of the things that Harvey said in the way that he said them."

WEAR A POPPY.

It is a beautiful idea that the American War Mothers are trying to implement by the suggestion that we all should wear a poppy on May 30 in honor of the American dead. These poppies are made by French and Belgian widows and orphans and are beautiful specimens of the fine needlecraft for which the women of these countries are famous. Experts continue that these war-stricken women realize from the sale of these flowers will be used in a way far more helpful than many American dimes are used.

From local items in today's paper one can get an idea of the activity of the Gastonia Chamber of Commerce through its committee work. At least three important committees are holding meetings within the next day or two. All these meetings will be held for the purpose of discussing affairs of moment to the city and county.

Advertising pays the ministers as well as the merchants. As the result of a clerked in Saturday's paper a Gastonia minister reports that his Sunday school attendance yesterday went up from 202 last Sunday to 262, and that the attendance on the Men's Bible class was 15 extra.

RED MEN "RAISE" GREAT SACHEM

Inauguration of John G. Carpenter Is Preceded by Parade With Torches.
(Charlotte News.)

With a pale moon casting an Indian light over the Queen City Saturday night, several hundred gaily robed warriors of the Red Men of North Carolina marched along the city's streets with red torches. The occasion was the inauguration of John G. Carpenter, of Gastonia, to great sachem of the tribe.

The parade started at 8 o'clock at South Tryon and West First Streets. It proceeded up Tryon street to East Trade to College, thence around by Seventh street to North Tryon and Sixth street. Here the parade disbanded and participants entered the wigwam of the Catawba and Piedmont tribes, over the Tryon drug store. It was here that the exercises attending the inauguration of Great Sachem Carpenter took place.

Past Great Sachem J. R. Anderson was master of ceremonies. The hall was packed with Red Men and visitors. Assisting in the ceremonies were Past Great Sachems D. E. Henderson and J. T. Anthony, two of the oldest Red Men in the state, and the first great sachems in the state. Fifteen tribes were represented at the occasion, coming from Kings Mountain, from two tribes in Gastonia, Dallas, McAdenville, Pineville, Kannap-olis, Concord, Lowell, Salisbury, China Grove, Albemarle, and the three tribes from Charlotte.

At the ceremonies Col. J. T. Anthony delivered an address of welcome to the visiting Red Men in behalf of the city of Charlotte, and in behalf of Mayor James O. Walker, who could not be present. Plummer Stewart made a response in behalf of the Red Men.
One of the features of the demonstration was the rendering of an Indian song and dance by Past Great Sachem J. H.

QUILLEN'S SAYINGS

Flashes of Wit and Humor From the Pen of Great Pagrapher.

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

After all, the world is so small that you don't register it.

Well, the next time it rains, it rains on the American continent.

Apparently John Bull can handle a beast as well as his own kind.

The cost of living has been reduced considerably, but people who don't want more.

The motto of some of the world's great men is to be on the safe side, and not to be on the left.

The railroad will see through when they discover that I am not a member of the board.

It is not our intention that the world should be a better place than it is.

There is no such thing as a free lunch,
and if there is, it is a very expensive one.

Philosophy enables you to think in advance, but it doesn't enable you to think in the future.

When a statesman says the highest principle is to do what is right, he is telling the truth.

There is no such thing as a free lunch,
and if there is, it is a very expensive
one.

We respect the wise savings of the fathers, but they probably wouldn't be so wise if they lived in this day.

Uncle Sam may be something handsome for a clown, but he isn't a wounded and crippled soldier.

If they abolish Mother Goose, who will teach children the lesson of the fables?

A religiousist thinks it wicked for me to fight with gloves on, but says I must join the fray when they fight with their fists.

This is the first time in history that two great nations have been able to stand on a plane as small as a soap bubble.

Citizens of the old world in Europe need not worry about the fall of their throne. They will look just as important in long and short.

Justice Harding, of London, says that women can't be broken to feel a double business. It's because they have too much sense to do so.

The radical doesn't tell us when an employer is most wicked when he pays the labor of wage slaves, or when he closes down and won't give them jobs.

The poison gas other nations are making need not worry Uncle Sam. In the course of wars France will make as poison against any kind of poison.

Patterson. The noted nations of the dance held the spectacles in its spell.

In his inauguration address Great Sachem Carpenter stressed the pleasure he experienced in the honor bestowed upon him, and made a stirring appeal for the support of the 8000 Red Men in North Carolina in carrying the order to even further success than it has previously attained. He expressed the desire that everything possible be done to help the widows and orphans of deceased Red Men. He also expressed his confidence in the growth of the order in the past few months.

The degree given at the initiation of No. 29 was presented a silver cup which was awarded at the meeting in Kannapolis the first Saturday in April. The cup is presented at each session of the eighth district of Red Men, the next session being at Kings Mountain the first Saturday in the approaching August.

OUR CITIZEN'S DEMANDS

Fully Complied With—A Gastonia Resident Furnished It.

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Gastonia people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Gastonia and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully:

E. A. Smith, grower, W. Franklin Ave., Gastonia, says: "I have had some trouble in the past with my back and kidneys. My back ached a good deal and I felt tired out and run down. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them. Doan's made me feel like a different person. The aches and pains left me and I was entirely cured."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith

COUNTESS WHO OFFERED TO REPLACE A STRIKING
AQUATANIA STEWARDESS.

From London comes the news that Marguerite, Countess of Suffolk, daughter of the late Levi Leiter, of Chicago and Washington, volunteered to become a stewardess on the Aquatania, bound for New York, to replace one of the striking stewardesses. Scores of other notables also enlisted. The Countess is a leader in society in England.

"I was in the line being with my do it for the day, and then to yield an account so I returned to my home, the ent in the year."

Come—Take a Fresh Grip

America and the world now face sterner necessities of constructive effort in distribution than in any previous period of business history.

Marketing is in a state of flux. New ways are crowding out the old. Fresh ideas are replacing yesterday's customs. Plan and precision are triumphing over rule o' thumb.

The advertising prizes of a changing business day will gravitate to thinking, studious men. That is why men who sell things, and who make things which must be sold, plan to attend the Great Business Class Room of 1921—the Seventeenth Annual Convention Associated Advertising Clubs of the World Atlanta, June 12-16

There advertising men will take fresh grip on the business fundamentals—Faith, Integrity and Industry. They will exchange views, discuss ideas, inspire others, even while they themselves absorb inspiration.

This advertising meeting promises worth-while values to serious-minded business men. They will turn to it for guidance and counsel; they will find in it relaxation and fellowship. Join them in June.

Exhibits of Domestic and Foreign Advertising, demonstrating the use of practically all recognized mediums, and arranged solely with a view to helping the convention delegate, will be a special feature.
This alone makes the trip worth while.

In June, Atlanta is at its best. High on a ridge between the Gulf and the Atlantic, fanned by cooling breezes and clad in gay summer attire, it is, as proved by United States Weather Bureau reports, a delightful place in June
