Three hundred baseball fans gathered at Raulo ball park Saturday and saw Raulo's ball club accept its first defeat this season. The game was a very close one and was well played by both teams.

At this juncture of the game the Raulo boys put on the screws and the fighting qualities and pep for which they are noted came into action. A real ball game was on. In the third and fourth innings Raulo evened up the score which they had allowed in the second inning by error at third base.

Now the fighting became more intense. Chief Costner cleaned up in his effectiveness and the heavy hitters of Clover ate from his famous left hand. But Cook for Clover was just as effective and the game developed into a youth pitchers' battle which, it seemed, would continue indefinitely. But in the ninth inning, when two men were down, Clover, by the smallest kind of margin, put across the winning run. The score was 3 to 2 in favor of Clover.

Batteries: Raulo, Costner and Hamberger. Clover, Cook and Barrett. These clubs meet for a second contest Saturday, June 18. Raulo goes to Concord Saturday, June 4.

CANVAS THEATER TONIGHT. The "Broadway Higgins" company, with Eddie Rags as the feature comedian, arrived in Gastonia yesterday evening, and will open their engagement at the canvas theater tonight, presenting for the first time here one of New York's latest and most successful comedies, "Broadway Higgins."

There are fifteen people in the company, and judging from the reports from other towns, such as Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro, Wilmington, Danville and Salisbury, the Gastonia theater goes will have an opportunity to see and hear one of the best organizations traveling today. Each principal is a star in his or her line, and the management pride themselves upon having the best chorus ever appearing here. The girls are all very pretty and properly gowned, have beautiful costumes and know how to wear them. There is not an objectionable moment during the entire evening, the music is all new and original, being written expressly for "Broadway Higgins" by Mr. Rags, the story is one of youth, beauty and romance, with bright, witty dialogue between the novel musical numbers which come thick and fast.

The company passed the board of censorship at Asheville, Charlotte and Danville, Va., and the management guarantees a good, clean, moral entertainment in every detail. The performance will start at 8:20 o'clock.—Adv.

HILLINGS, Mont., May 25.—With United States cavalrymen and members of the American Legion taking the part of General Custer's ill-fated forces and Crow and Cheyenne Indians representing the Sioux, the battle of the Little Big Horn is to be reenacted on the forty-fifth anniversary of the Custer massacre, June 25.

Where is Thy Sting? Aunt Sallie was paying a visit to the family for the first time in years and had told them how mad she thought little Willie was. In similar complimentary vein, the family told her just how much Willie resembled her. But the edge was taken out of the compliment when all of them heard Willie say, as he went out into the dark hall on his way to bed:

"Go on, grab me, ol' hogen man. I don't care. They say I look just like Aunt Sallie."

PRINTING!

READ THIS? MR. BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MAN AND WEEP FOR JOY

There's no reason for crying about the high price of printing now. You can get that job you have been holding for months waiting for prices to come down. Of course, you will marvel at this drastic cut, but listen and I'll tell you the story.

Did you ever go snipe hunting? If you have, no doubt, you held the sack while the rest of the crowd beat it home and retired peacefully to their nocturnal quietude, leaving you innocently holding the sack, waiting for the game to come down into your cunning trap. How did you feel when you realized what had happened? That's us exactly, brothers. We have been holding the sack waiting for all those nice jobs to come rolling in, while the other fellows eased around, cut prices and landed the work, leaving us to hold the sack. We have awakened now and we are going to show the people of Gastonia who use printing just what we can do. We are told that the salesman for an out-of-town firm carried away over $1200 worth of printing last week in one day. This firm formerly sent a solicitor around each month but we were holding the sack so innocently that the said solicitor now makes a trip weekly.

THIS IS GOING TO STOP

We have cut the heart out of prices, and while we will be "cussed" on every side, we don't care. We know our business and we pay our own expenses and feel that we have a right to run our business as we see fit.

The same Richards "QUALITY" and "SERVICE" will go into every job we turn out and the best guarantee we can give is this:
If we don't give you what we say we will, good printing, good paper, prompt service, and rock bottom price, don't pay for the job.

This is our specialty list. Look these prices over and see if they don't beat anything you have ever heard of, even before the war:
