Clothes

Dr. W. L. Pate, president of Wake Forest College, has been appointed a member of the board of trustees of the colored A. and M. College at Greensboro.

Mrs. Helen Coyle, representing The Farmer's Wife, a farm journal of national circulation, has been sent by the publishers from Minnesota to North Carolina to find out at first hand what makes the North Carolina board of health famous and to write the story about it for that paper. She is in Raleigh now.

POPPY DAY.
(Zoe Kincaid Brockman.)
Little red poppy that came from France,
Bringing a breath of Flanders fields,
Telling a tale of courage old,
Of dauntless will that never yields,
Shall we pass you by with a careless glance—
Little red poppy of Flanders!

Little red poppy a-bloom today,
Hidden deep in the heart of you
Is something that thrills us with poignant pain,
Is something that touches our eyes with dew,
And we see the graves that are bright
today
With the brave red poppies of Flanders.

Royal red flower of fire and dew,
Above our hearts as a badge of pride
We will wear your gallant bloom today
For a gallant host who bravely died,
For a matchless legion, strong and true,
Who sleep beneath the poppies of Flanders.

LADIES NIGHT WITH KIWANIS CLUB

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock the Kiwanis Club will hold a Ladies' Night banquet in the hall at the rear of the Armory. The affair will be in the nature of an old-fashioned turkey party and every man and woman who attends is asked to wear an appropriate costume. The names of any lady guests other than the wives of the members should be planned very promptly to the club secretary, Mr. George B. Mason.

ATTENDED U. D. C. MEETING TOMORROW.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. T. W. Wilson, Mrs. Frank L. Wilson and Miss Lowry Shuford motored to Hickory for an all-day meeting of district number 2 of the N. C. Division, U. D. C. The Abel Shuford Chapter of Hickory was the hostess chapter and Mrs. T. W. Wilson, as State president, was the honor guest and delivered the principal address of the day. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. K. C. Lind say and at 1 o'clock the delegates and visitors were guests at an elegant sweet pea luncheon served at Mrs. Lindsay's home.

U. D. C. DISTRICT MEETING TOMORROW.

Any member of the Zeta Vance Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, is eligible to attend the district meeting at Cleveland Springs tomorrow as a delegate from the chapter, provided his mother will accompany him and carry a picnic lunch. The chapter leader, Mrs. W. T. Love, and the district director Miss Lowry Shuford, are very anxious that a large delegation from Gastonia shall attend this meeting. The program has been carefully prepared and will be very interesting and Cleveland Springs is an ideal place for an all-day meeting.

MRS. C. D. WELCH HONORED.

The following from the society column of the Sunday issue of The Charlotte Observer will be of interest in the city:
Mrs. Douglas Welch and children, of Mayworth, who have been spending a few days in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eddie E. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy returned home yesterday afternoon.
Mrs. Kennedy entertained delightful ly at two tables of bridge yesterday morning in honor of her cousin and guest, Mrs. Welch.
Mrs. Thomas C. Hayes won the prize for the top score, Mrs. David Clark of the consolation prize and Mrs. Welch received the honor prize.

IN HONOR OF MRS. RICHARDSON.

Mrs. W. E. Haynes entertained Saturday morning at two tables of bridge in compliment to Mrs. Irene Wheat Richardson, the guest of Miss Marie Torrence Zinnias, frilled lolly looks and other bright flowers were used in the reception room. The high score prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. George B. Mason, and the honor guest was presented with a dainty piece of lingerie. At the close of the game Mrs. Haynes served a molded salad accompanied by a variety of sandwiches, lobster patties, hot tea and grape fruit ice.
Mrs. Richardson returned Saturday afternoon to her home in Gaffney.

THOUGHT IT WAS CHRISTMAS.

Saturday morning at her home on South street Mrs. W. D. Anderson entertained about 35 small folks in celebration of the fourth anniversary of her son, William Deal Anderson, Jr. Delightful plans had been made for the entertainment of the young folks and a very pleasant morning was spent. The dining room was charming with a profusion of sweet peas and daisies, carrying out a color scheme of pink and white. The table was laid with lace mats and at each place was a miniature bouquet of daisies tied with pink ribbon. Ice cream, cookies, sea foam candy, and pink and white mints were served. The small host had never been told that one of the joys of a birthday party is the gifts that one receives. When one ribbon-tied package after another had been presented to him by his guests he said, "Oh, mother, its Christmas and where are my presents to give to them?"

AT THE THEATRES

The Gastonian Theater presents three excellent pictures this week. Monday and Tuesday, Charles Ray in "Nineteen and Phyllis"; Wednesday, Viola Dana in "Puppets of Fate"; Thursday and Friday, Pola Negri and 5000 people in "Fanny".

The Ideal Theater offers today "Fighting Fate"; "Among Counterfeiters"; a Nick Carter detective story, and "Fickle Fanny," a two-reel comedy.

The Canvas theater offers all this week Eddie Raye in "Broadway Higgins," a musical play with a plot.

AN ORIGINAL STORY.

"Nineteen and Phyllis" Is Not an Adaptation.

That Charles Ray is absolutely impartial as to the merits of the original story compared with those of successful stage plays and books for screen use is demonstrated by his latest production, "Nineteen and Phyllis," which will be the attraction at the Gastonian Theater today and Tuesday. "Nineteen and Phyllis" is an original story from the pen of Frederick Stowers, and the film which has been made from it is declared to be one of the very best in which Ray is starred. "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" and "Peaceful Valley," Ray's two preceding vehicles, were adaptations of famous plays. "Whether a screen story is an original or an adaptation does not matter," says Ray. "The main consideration is that it must have those qualities which are essential to the production of a good photoplay."

In Madison Superior Court at Marshall Saturday Dr. O. V. Burnett was found not guilty of the murder of Henry Pace, whom he killed last December.
