Senate Increases House Figures in Both Officers and Enlisted Men.

Senate Bill Fixes Size of Army way. at 12,530 Officers and 133,000 Men.

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 3. - A determined fight between the Senate and House before agreement is reached on the size of the army to be provided for in the appropriation bill for the next fiscal year, was in prospect today following its passage by the Senate with increases over the House figure in both enlisted and officer personnel.

As put through the Senate late yestaken up for the first time, the bill carfixes the size of the army for the next year at an average of 12,030 officers and the complement. 133,000 men, comparing with House figures of 11,000 and 115,000, respectively. Conference discussion of the differences is not expected to begin before next Tuesday.

The bill was passed by the Senate without a record vote, after its committee amendment providing for the increase in strength had been accepted by a test vote of 49 to 21, all other committee amendments having been previously approved. Nine Democrats voted with the Republican majority in uphold ing the increase, while six Republicans opposed it. The enlisted strength provided in the amendment falls between the House figure and the 150,000 sought by the War Department and is regarded as a compromise.
