DALLAS DOTS

Rev. W. E. Poovey, of Shelby, former pastor of the Dallas Methodist church, will, under the auspices of the Epworth League, give three nights of this week to illustrated Bible lectures at this church at 7:45 o'clock, beginning Wednesday and continuing through Friday night. Everybody is most cordially invited and welcome.

Baseball, Radio, Brass Band; Added Attractions and Amusements in Dallas.

A rather disgruntled bunch of fans was seen coming from the local diamond Saturday afternoon where Staley and Dallas wrangled out a nine inning game resulting 9 to 8 in favor of the home team. It seemed that all the players got up on the wrong side of the ball that day and nothing was satisfactory, especially the umpires, which will no doubt have to be made to order.

However, exciting times are anticipated on the local diamond Saturday, June 17, for Ranlo, the only team this year at whose hands Dallas has met defeat, will play, and from all reports both sides are strengthening for the combat. The local managers are expecting an overflow of fans and rooters for each side and a big crowd of spectators and onlookers. Come early for a grandstand seat.

If we can believe our ears the long talked of brass band for Dallas has become a reality and the citizens will soon be enjoying evening concerts in the town park by the municipal band. Instruments for the greater part of a twenty-piece band arrived Monday and both instruments and lungs are being thoroughly tested and the boys are very much determined and enthusiastic and upon arrival of the other instruments a teacher will be secured and practice begun in earnest. Messrs. L. W. Holland, A. V. Boyles, W. P. Lee and Beeler Lineberger are the organizers and all have had some experience along this musical line, which is a considerable advantage.

At the club house Tuesday evening will be an assemblage of Dallas citizens to enjoy their first radio concert. This outfit is being installed by Messrs. J. A. Featherstone and Percival Hall, of Lincolnton, upon approval, and if satisfactory will become town property.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. A. R. MARTIN

DALLAS, June 12. — The large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives who attended the unusually impressive funeral service Saturday afternoon at the Dallas Baptist church over the remains of Mrs. A. R. Martin, who passed away at her home here Friday at 4 o'clock, and the numerous and beautiful floral tributes bespoke the love and high esteem in which the deceased was held. The pastors of the city and several visiting pastors, formerly of Dallas who knew Mrs. Martin personally, took part in the service.

A few of the deceased's favorite passages of Scripture were read by Rev. C. J. Black, of Gastonia, and a most earnest and touching prayer offered by Rev. R. A. Taylor, of Gastonia, former pastor of the Dallas Methodist church. Rev. A. R. Beck, of Newton, former pastor of the Dallas Lutheran church, Rev. E. N. Joyner, retired minister of Dallas, Rev. C. N. Yount, pastor of the Lutheran church, read a few favorite clippings that were found among her keepsakes and by their meaning conveyed were, no doubt, helpful in her daily Christian life.

Rev. J. O. Ervin, pastor of the Methodist church, made a few touching remarks in regard to the last visit with the deceased and of her request that all the pastors pray if it be God's will that she might be spared to her children and husband, not for herself, but for their sakes.

"Where He Leads Me I Will Follow," was touchingly sung as a duet by Miss Carrie Dixon and Mrs. Latham Friday. Dr. J. L. Vipperman her pastor, spoke of the beautiful home life of this family and of how the deceased endeavored to make the home happy and of her lovely Christian life lived daily.

Messrs. R. S. Lewis, E. O. Webb, W. N. Rhyme, P. I. Thornburg, P. C. Thornburg and Waldo Beck, of Charlotte, were the active pall-bearers and the seven pastors honorary pall-bearers. Accompanying the bereaved family and the remains to Greenville, S. C., where interment takes place today, were Miss Fannie Little, Miss Ivy Rudisill, Messrs. J. R. Durham, Jr., J. F. Puett and Prof. J. B. Benson.

OUR AVOCATION. Vocation is what you do because you have to. Avocation is what you do because you like it. From this point of view our whole business of repairing tires and selling tires, tubes and accessories is an avocation, for we certainly like to do it. But we have a particular avocation just now—a thing we do with extraordinary enthusiasm—and that is selling McClaren Autocrat Cord Tires, the biggest advance in tire construction since the first pneumatic. McClaren Autocrat Cord Tires are supreme in strength and suppleness. They make the road smooth out ahead of you like a bolt of velvet on the dry goods counter. And, by the year, they save a lot of tire money, and cut down your fuel bill. They are the ball gown and gingham apron of tires, luxury and economical service combined. THE BRADFORD CO. 122 S. There's many a chance for a slip— between the oil well and the gasoline service station. It takes a whole lot more than the best of refining apparatus and crude oil to make a satisfactory gasoline. Skill and experience are the big factors in refining. It is largely the knowledge of men who have learned the refining business from the bottom up with this company that has made the improved "Standard" Gasoline possible. "Standard" is a uniform and dependable as the water supply of a great city—it is tested just as carefully. It is dependable under every condition because it is balanced, with the right proportion of light, intermediate and heavy fractions. You can't go wrong with "Standard."
