

HERE TO LIVE AND DIE The REVOLUTION

ELLIS ISLAND, July 4 .- Hans Quintin, 13, will shoot his first firecrackers this Fourth of July. "Then I'll be a real American boy," he told the Ellis Island authorities, his eyes sparkling, f'just as I've dreamed of being for a long, long time."

Hans passed the "Island" bound from Bernburg, Germany, for Rome, N. Y.

Alone.

His mother died when he was a baby. He lived with his father.

"One day, he said, "my papa was taken to the war, I never saw him ogain.

"My grandma took me. She was good, but I hated the country. It took my papa away from me. My aunt askme to come to America. I was getting ready-when this country went into the war, too. I was so disappointed. But I kept on reading about America. I rend about George Washington, I liked him because he was a regular boy, chopping down trees and having fun. Look what he grew up to be! And I read about Huck Finn.

"Now, at last, I'm here. I'm so glad. I'll shoot fireernekers. I'll play. I'll go to school. And when I'm a man I'm going to make automobiles and be a regular American."

Hans has been adopted by his aunt, Mrs. Gus Schieve, at Rome,
