

BRITISH SOLDIERS HAVE BEEN LANDED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

ARRIVAL OF ENGLAND'S TROOPS BRINGS HOPE AND JOY TO MANY THOUSANDS UNDER WAR SHADOW

Sight Of British Troops Landing Put New Heart Into Vast Throngs Of Greeks And Armenians Who Immediately Abandon Efforts To Get Away—Danger Of Uprising Grows Less As More Thousands Of English Fighters Land.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Large forces of British infantry have been landed here from the trans-Atlantic liner Glenborg Castle.

When the Glenborg Castle entered the Golden Horn and the masses of infantrymen became visible from the city the immense gatherings of the Greeks and Armenians seeking visas outside the inter-alied passport bureau quickly melted away.

The arrival of these several thousand additional British troops has encouraged the Greeks and the Armenians here to discard their Turkish fezzes and resume conventional western headgear.

The continued arrival of British war units has lessened the danger of an uprising within the city and checked the panicky flight of Christians to neighboring countries.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha's requirement that the British withdraw their troops from Asia Minor as a condition precedent to a limited retreat of the Ottoman forces from the neutral zone of the straits is looked upon by local military opinion as closing the door to pacific settlement of the present dispute.

Whether this is the final view of the responsible military heads does not appear. Huge responsibility rests with the latter and their political colleagues.

Former Naval Secretary Reviews Failure Of Republicans And Predicts Their Defeat In Fall Elections.

HICKORY, Sept. 29.—Speaking to an audience that filled Hickory's handsome and commodious auditorium, Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, opened the democratic campaign in Catawba with an address that was heard enthusiastically and that would help, according to local democrats, in bringing this close county back into the ranks of the party.

Mr. Daniels was presented in a short vigorous speech by Mayor J. H. Young, after County Chairman Chas. W. Bagby, who presided, had expressed his conviction that the county would go democratic in November.

Argument and Anecdote. Mr. Daniels mixed argument and anecdote in a manner to catch and hold the crowd, and his reference to Vice Admiral Andrew T. Long, native of Catawba, brought a loud cheer.

Mr. Daniels in his speech declared that the republicans were in 1920 because they were all things to all men, went into the campaign without a program and rallied to their support all elements of discord.

Mr. Daniels asserted that if Roosevelt or Wilson had been president, the extra tax that the country is now paying would not have been imposed.

Republican Performance. Mr. Daniels said: "How has performance tallied with promise? The Harding administration has consistently pursued the same course in office it pursued in the campaign. It cannot be charged with having ceased the policy of wobble and wobble when it so successfully practiced in 1920. It has not gone into the League of Nations, nor has it made any effort to let the world stagger and permit chaos to rule. It did nothing to stabilize Europe. It did take action

SENTIMENT IN COUNTY FAVORS A CREAMERY

Whole Milk Instead Of Sour Milk Proposition Is Favored — Total Of 1,230 Cows Is Reported — 25 Out Of 28 Members Present At Meeting.

Indicating that sentiment in the county is opposed to a sour cream plant but favors a whole milk proposition, complete tabulation of the recent survey on the creamery proposition was made at a meeting of the general committee at the Chamber of Commerce Friday night.

While certain areas of the county were not reported the survey reports submitted showed a total number of 1,230 dairy cows. Had all reported, some declining to sign up in some instances, it was estimated that the number would go away over two thousand.

ANOTHER INCIDENT IN THE STORY OF JOSEPH KEMP

T. J. Kemp, Well-to-Do Brother of Unfortunate Man, Is Prosperous Farmer of Florida—Remembers Murder 44 Years Ago—Will Go On His Brother's Bond to Extent of $20,000.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Sept. 30.—Another incident in the story of Joseph B. Kemp, apprehended for the killing of Daniel McNeill at Red Springs, N. C., forty-four years ago, came with the visit here of T. J. Kemp, prosperous brother of the man who acknowledges the deed that over forty years ago made him an outcast and wanderer over the face of the earth.

T. J. Kemp is a well-to-do turpentine man, with large interests around Ocala, Fla., and owner of a turpentine tract at Hurds, in this county (St. Johns). He had been in North Carolina visiting relatives and motored back to Florida, which state he has made his home for over twenty years, and he was at Hurds inspecting his property and saw a Friday morning paper relating the story of his brother's arrest.

He immediately came to St. Augustine, and although he had not seen his brother for forty-four years, stated he would go his bond to the extent of twenty or thirty thousand dollars, if that would do any good, adding he supposed there was nothing left now for Joe to do but go back and face the music.

T. J. Kemp said that his brother lingered around the old home in Bladen county, North Carolina, for about three months after the killing, the old sheriff, long since dead, and his deputies closing their eyes to his comings and goings, and that at the end of that time he was permitted to leave unmolested.

He traveled a familiarity with the McNeill killing which brought him under suspicion, Kemp expressed the belief that things would not go badly with his brother back in North Carolina on the old charge, as Daniel McNeill, he said, in dying exonerated him by saying the quarrel which ended so fatally was of his own (McNeill's) making.

Kemp substantiated his brother's statement that McNeill made the first attack with a hatchet as a weapon, the second being fatal. Sheriff Lewis, of Robeson county, left today for Red Springs with his sixty-two year old prisoner.

JUAREZ SCENE OF REVOLT BY MEXICAN GARRISON

American Troops Ordered To El Paso To Guard International Bridge Between That Town And Juarez Where Revolutionists Seem To Be In Entire Control—Prisoners Freed—Several Persons Wounded.

EL PASO, TEX., Sept. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Juarez garrison revolted at 2 o'clock this morning. Led by Captain Val Verde, of the 143d battalion, the 150 soldiers stationed in the Mexican city released all prisoners from the city jail, imprisoned their officers and took possession of the town.

Immediately after United States army officials were notified early today that the Mexican garrison in Juarez, Chihuahua, across the Rio Grande from here, had revolted, preparations were taken to send troop reinforcements to the American side of the international bridge.

Colonel Espinoza, commanding officer of the battalion which revolted, was prisoner of the rebels in his own quarters. All other officers of the organization were held by the revolutionists under heavy guard.

Several persons had been wounded in desultory firing by the insurrectionists, it was reported. Police and customs guards at Juarez, stunned by the sudden rebellion, offered no assistance to the soldiers and released prisoners.

The prisoners, among whom were a dozen men held on murder charges, had obtained rifles and ammunition. Their first act was to break into a saloon and seize bottles of tequila.

It was reported that the police were being disarmed by the rebels as fast as they were taken into custody. J. Mendoza, commander of the garrison, was cut off from the telegraph office in Juarez by the rebels.

His messages contained a request that loyal troops be sent to the border town. Among the prisoners released from the three men who were under legal sentences on charges of murder.

A dozen American women and men were also set free. The revolt came with a suddenness that dazed Juarez residents, accustomed as they were to revolts in their city.

Until after midnight last night the city was thronged with American tourists and pleasure seekers. There was no hint of impending trouble.

General McManis said at 3 o'clock this morning that Captain Val Verde, leader of the rebellion, had been looked on with suspicion by local officers for some time.

The general said: "I was awakened about 8 a. m. by a telephone call from one of my officers at the jail, who said that the prison guard was showing trouble. I telephoned the barracks of the 143d battalion and ordered twenty men under an officer to relieve the detail on duty at the jail."

"Captain Val Verde was given the command of the relief detail. On the way to the jail he persuaded the men to revolt. When they arrived there they urged their companions to join them. They did. The prisoners were released and the officers were made prisoners."

There are two undisputed facts in this case. First that there was a baby boy born on the 28th day of November, 1921. Second, that the retractor, Augusta Tiernan, is the mother thereof. The remainder of the material facts are in direct conflict. The testimony is of such a nature that the court will not set out only that part that is necessary to enable the court to explain how the final conclusion was reached under the conflicting testimony.

The cause of the retractor or the state of Indiana, must either stand or fall on the testimony of the retractor and it might be well for me to say at this time that court, in substance or in general, believes the testimony of the retractor relating all the facts and circumstances and the relations of the families incident thereto and surrounding this case her story in reference to the conduct between Harry Poulin and herself, is the most reasonable to believe, and no woman or witness could take the stand and unfold and portray to this court a story as told by Mrs. Tiernan, and be wholly unbelievable.

The case had held the attention of the city court for eight days after having been buffeted among the justice courts on charges of error, following the arrest of Harry Poulin in that region.

Charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan With Being Father Of Her Third Child—Judge Ducomb Expresses Regret At Publicity Given The Case—"Not Guilty" In Strict Sense Of The Word.

SOUTH BEND, IND., Sept. 30.—Harry Poulin, local haberdasher, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with being the father of her third child, was found not guilty in city court here today.

Judge C. L. Ducomb made it plain in his comment that he found the defendant "not guilty" in the strict sense of the word. He said he believed there had been intimate relations between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin. The fact, however, that Professor Tiernan had lived with his wife throughout the entire affair created the reasonable doubt that made it legally compulsory to find for the defendant.

Prosecutor Floyd Jellison and Professor Tiernan announced after Judge Ducomb had rendered his opinion that the case would be appealed and carried to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary. "The decision was a great surprise to me," declared Professor Tiernan. "It swept me completely off my feet."

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS WITH THE PROSPECT OF HARDFIGHT CONTESTS

Biggest Interest Manifested In Centre-Clemson Game At Clemson.

ARE WELL MATCHED.

N. C. Faces Wake Forest; To Meet Yale Next Saturday.

ATLANTA, Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The eyes of the South turned today to a South Carolina football field where Centre and Clemson drew probably the largest attendance of any of the early season games.

The Centre College "Colonels" were promoted stiffer opposition than any other of the leading teams, more than a dozen of whom were facing preliminary contests in preparation for the grueling contests to come.

Making way for football enthusiasts of their state to watch the Centre-Clemson contest, the leading South Carolina eleven advanced their games a day and played yesterday.

In today's principal contests, North Carolina University in preparation for its Yale game of next Saturday, faced Wake Forest, which the Tar Heels defeated 21 to 0 last season, and Georgia took on Mercer as a final practice before its contest a week hence with Chicago University.

Alabama faced Marion, V. P. I. was scheduled with King College, Auburn against Howard, North Carolina University against Wake Forest, Tennessee against Carson-Newman, Vanderbilt against Tennessee Normal, Georgia Tech against Oglethorpe and Kentucky against Marshall in other important contests of the day.

Virginia University was preparing to use George Washington University as a final "trial horse" before going against Princeton next week, having rolled up a 25 to 0 score against the George Washington eleven a year ago.

There are two views by which to consider the case. One is of "immorality," and the other is "Harry Poulin the father of the unfortunate child." The public is looking upon this case purely from an immoral standpoint and is endeavoring to place the blame either upon the mother or the defendant for the notoriety and shame that has befallen the families of the parties and our community.

It might be well to say at this time that the court is of the opinion that the only real incident in the case is the mysterious baby and who has been foremost in the mind of the court during the entire trial, but in the clamor and cries of the public the child has almost been forgotten.

After the man was put to work as a helper, union workers, members of various crafts recently on strike, are reported to have quit work for a short time. Through the representative of the craft a formal complaint is said to have been made to the Southern Railway officials with a demand that the new man be removed.

SPENCER, Sept. 29.—The employment of a non-union helper, said to be a relative of one of the high officials of the Southern Railway, is said to have caused a new strike of the shopmen at Spencer today.

After work hours a mass meeting was held when a number of labor leaders spoke and it was agreed work will be continued.
