RANLO NEWS

(Correspondence of The Daily Gazette.)

RANLO, Oct. 9.—Now that the new teaching is to be ready for occupancy in a very few days, and since quite a number of small articles would be necessary for the equipment of the dining-room and kitchen, the idea of a dining room and kitchen shower was advanced by one of the practical members of the faculty. The plan was at once adopted, and immediately attractive posters were on display in the stores, shops, offices, etc., announcing a musical program in the school auditorium on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, admission being one kitchen utensil or a dime. Accordingly the following program was splendidly rendered to quite a large audience:

Selection, by the Ranlo Mill Concert Club.

Reading—High Culture—Miss Mary Willie Tate.

Piano Solo—Miss Faye Sherrill.

Reading—Bobby Shafto—Miss Ruth Sills.

Quintette—Sweet and Low—Misses Alma Clark, Beatrice Holtzclaw, Minnie Towell, Cecil Bell, and Wales Cox, accompanied by Miss Edith Pickens at the piano.

Piano Solo—Miss Davis Reid.

Kitchen Symphony—By sixteen high school girls and boys with various kitchen utensils, comically directed by Clarence Holtzclaw with his pun-encrusted banter, accompanied by Miss Edith Pickens at the piano.

Recitation—I'm tired of Being Boss—Roger McArver.

Vocal Solo—Miss Alma Clark, accompanied by Miss Edith Pickens with the violin, and Davis Reid at the piano.

Selection by the orchestra, directed by Mr. M. C. Coffey, director of the Ranlo Mill Concert Band and school orchestra.

Among the many useful gifts received at the door were: a large aluminum pitcher, two roasters, one double-boiler, two sauce pans, one large dishpan, two large kitchen spoons and forks, four cake tins, five towels, two embroidered tea towels, three dish towels, one tablecloth, one pickle dish, one cream pitcher, one butter dish, one cake plate, two salad plates, one box hot dish, one salt and pepper, also tooth-pick holder, one silver sugar shell, and one half dozen tea spoons, in addition to seventeen dollars in silver, and a written statement signed by Mr. Perry, manager of the Rex Laundry most generously offering to keep the tea service table linen "spik-and-span" free of charge during the entire school year, for all of which, each member of the faculty wishes to thank publicly each individual who so generously contributed to the great success of the evening.

FALLS ENTERTAINED

Falls entertained most delightfully at their attractive home here Friday evening from 8 to 1 o'clock.

The music room, reception hall, and dining room, all thrown into one, were made even more attractive by artistically arranged baskets of fall flowers and potted plants.

During the evening several selections on the Edison were enjoyed, also several well rendered selections on the piano by Miss Alma Clark, music supervisor of the school. Progressive conversation proved quite an interesting game. Also a Spelling Contest afforded much amusement, ten bottles daintily dressed in yellow crepe paper dresses, each containing a common liquid being numbered and guessed from the odor of it. The prize, a box of bon bons, was tied for by Messrs. C. C. Harmon and Richard Davenport, finally going by drawing to Mr. W. J. Bowen, of the Priscilla Construction Company, this prize being a small bottle of Hoyt's Perfume.

Following the games delicious block ice cream and cake was served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Edith Pickens, Bess Costner and Hattie Nell; also delicious home-made chocolate fudge was served on a large silver tray.

The evening passed all too quickly and unknowingly the guests found themselves lingering quite a bit longer than their hostess had previously designated on the cards issued, thus attesting to the genuine hospitality and the delightful evening afforded by Mr. and Mrs. McFalls.

Among those present besides Mr. and Mrs. McFalls were Misses Ollie May Rhyne, Pearl Cox, Janie Stroupe, Hattie Nell, Faye Davenport, Elizabeth Smith, Edith Pickens, Mary Willie Tate, Lois Carter, Bessie Stuart, Bertha Hipp, Carrie Potts, Bess Costner, Essie Hemphill, Blanche Robinson, and Alma Clark; Messrs. F. L. Smith, C. C. Harmon, Charlie Ross, W. J. Bowen, Harry Cobb, Beattie Price, Charles Stroupe, Harry Farris, Leland Alexander, R. K. Davenport, Jr., O. W. McFalls, and J. B. Tabor, Jr.

DALLAS DOTS

(By MRS. JOE GRIBBLE)

DALLAS, Oct. 10.—Every farmer in Dallas township is urged to be at the Dallas city hall on next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, October 14, to discuss and adopt measures whereby the partridges will have absolute protection. All others interested in the same cause are welcome.

Beginning last Friday the farmers can now sell their cotton on the Dallas market to Mr. A. B. Martin representing the Gastonia Cotton Co. or to Messrs. J. W. Summey and D. S. Thornburg, of the Farmer's Supply Co., representing the North State Cotton Co. The Robinson gun was a busy place Saturday.

Dallas real estate the past few weeks has at least experienced a change of hands. On last Saturday Mr. C. E. Clemmer exchanged his home on Franconia Heights, consisting of a six-room house on a one-acre lot, for a twenty-nine and one-half acre farm one-half mile southwest of Dallas, known as "Seven Pines."

The deal was made by Mr. E. N. Shell for the firm of Shell, Rhyne & Puett for $200 and other considerations. Mr. G. H. Logan, who came from Gastonia two or three months ago and has occupied a home of the Puett estate, purchased the Clemmer home and will move there upon the immediate completion of a new modern bungalow home for Mr. Clemmer at "Seven Pines."

Miss Alena Rhyne, of the Belmont school faculty, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Rhyne. Miss Rhyne speaks delightfully of Belmont.

Mr. Marshall Brown will have charge of the Tar Heel Mixing Plant booth at the fair this week.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Yount for the week-end were the former's sister, Miss Claudia Yount, of Hickory, and a brother, Mr. Worth Yount, of Granite Falls.
