

CLEMENCEAU TO PLACE WREATH ON THE TOMB OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Will Also Deliver a Brief Eulogy On Late President.

AT SPRINGFIELD, ILLS.

French Tiger Gets Another Ovation In New York.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—George Clemenceau, France's war time premier, prepared to take the road again today on his self-imposed mission of winning American support for France.

The next stop on his itinerary was Springfield, Ill., where he was scheduled to lay a wreath on Lincoln's tomb and deliver a brief eulogy this afternoon.

The Tiger arose early to board his private car, which was attached to a 10 o'clock train. He did not rise as early as his customary 4 o'clock, however.

Clémenceau was given a long ovation when he entered the Potter Palmer box at the end of the prologue to "The Snow Maiden."

A few minutes later the curtain, rising on the set for the first act, disclosing Edmund Cottrill, French basso, holding a big tri-color, and Cyrena Van Gordon, draped the Stars and Stripes, with the entire company behind them.

Then he settled down and became so interested in the opera that he stayed until the end of the third act—nearly half past 10 o'clock.

Before he went to bed he dictated a Thanksgiving message to America, declaring the reception he had received and the interest with which his message had been heard gave him much to be thankful for.

TECH-AUBURN GAME PROMISES TO BE FIERCE.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The "Golden Tornado" of Georgia Tech will attempt to twist the tail of the Auburn (Alabama) Polytechnic institute "Tiger" in their 24th annual Thanksgiving football game here this afternoon.

The teams perhaps are more evenly matched this year than they have been for many seasons. The Tigers arrived here yesterday with a clean record for the season and also with their promise to Coach Mike Donahue to "beat the out of Tech" made a few days ago when Donahue informed members of the squad he had tendered his resignation from Auburn.

Rod Barron, Tech's captain and outstanding star among the South's back field players of this year, with his well-balanced line made up largely of veterans and considered superior to that of Auburn's, will attempt to check the on-rushing backfield of the Tigers, which football experts say is fifty percent stronger than last year.

This afternoon's contest will also be Barron's last game. Tonight he will be married to Miss Alice House, of Washington, Ga. Al Stinton, Oscar Davis, Jack McDonough, Jim Brewster and Paul Lyman will also retire from the gridiron. Three Auburn stars will also participate in their last clash. They are: Captain John Shirey, Ed Shirring, and Scott.

Rev. Mr. Haywood Cited To Explain Himself

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Rev. Oscar Haywood, evangelist of Calvary Baptist church of this city who recently defied Mayor Hylan to prevent him from organizing a Ku Klux Klan in New York City, last night was ordered by his board of deacons to appear before it and explain himself.

The decision of the deacons, said S. Raymond Estey, chairman, meant that Rev. Haywood would be examined to ascertain whether, in his activities as a Klan organizer, he "violated the principles of the church or impaired his usefulness to it." The date for Rev. Haywood's appearance before the church board was not fixed.

NEW CONGRESS FAVORS SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

So Declares New York Times After Canvas of New Members of Congress—May Override President's Veto If Necessary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Passage of bonus indicated by poll of new congress is the heading of the New York Times, Nov. 18, over a tabulation of the standing of senators and representatives following a canvass of the recently-elected membership.

The Times states that "an overwhelming preponderance of new members of the house of representatives are in favor" of the adjusted compensation, "and nearly as great a preponderance of advocates among the new members of the United States senate."

The result of the poll, coupled with the record of votes of those who remain in congress, shows that adjusted compensation advocates in the house are in a position again to override a veto if President Harding finds the next bill no more satisfactory to him than the last.

Assuming that re-elected representatives will vote on another veto the same way they did the last time, and counting the expressions of those new representatives who replied to the Times' query, a tabulation of the result gives 292 for adjusted compensation and 53 votes against, with ninety members unrepresented, either because they are new members and did not reply to the query, or because they are old members and failed to vote on the question.

The Times says the situation in the senate is more closely balanced, if a vote on the veto comes up. The poll gives 33 senators for, and 27 against adjusted compensation, with three non-committal, one non-committal at present but likely to announce his position; one ill and one whose position is in question.

Under the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to override a veto, the supporters would have to obtain 64 votes in the senate, the Times points out, and adds: "On the face of the canvass, it would seem likely that the supporters might obtain the additional vote needed."

Of the 18 new senators-elect canvassed, replies were received from 14. Nine declared in favor of adjusted compensation, some of them adding, "as advocated by the American Legion." One, Frank L. Greene, of Vermont, telegraphed that he is against it. Three others, Bayard of Delaware, Bruce of Maryland, and George of Georgia, declined to express an opinion.

The senate failed to pass the last adjusted compensation bill over the President's veto by a vote of 44 to 28 of members present. The house overrode the President's veto 252 to 54, with 72 paired, 43 absent and not paired and Speaker Gillett present but not voting.

KU KLUX KLAN BANS AFFILIATION WITH WOMEN

Imperial Klonoconvocation Comes to End in Atlanta—State Chiefs to Elect Imperial Wizard.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—The Imperial Klonoconvocation of the Knights of Ku Klux Klan came formally to a close here early today. A new constitution with a clause prohibiting the Klan affiliating with any women's organization and carrying a penalty of banishment from the invisible empire for any one who aids or abets such organization was adopted.

One of the most important features of the new constitution provides for the imperial wizard hereafter shall be elected by the grand dragons, or state chiefs of the order. There shall be no nominees for this position and each dragon will vote for any klansman in good standing whom he may select as his choice for the position. The voting strength will be regulated by the number of klansmen in each state. The term of office was fixed at four years.

Today on the grounds of the Great American university, the Klan's institution, a school of instruction for exalted cyclopes, grand dragons, and king kliegals will be held. Those officers will be instructed in the kloranic and scientific divisions of the order.

VIRGINIA-CAROLINA GAME IS CLASSIC IN SOUTHERN FOOTBALL

Tar Heels From Carolina Will Grapple With Old Dominion Boys.

CHAMPIONSHIP HINGES

Indications Are That 10,000 People Will See the Game Today.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 30.—The eyes of Southern football fans are trained upon Charlottesville, the historic battleground of the "Old Dominion" boys and the "Tar Heels" from Carolina way, where the old rivals will attempt to settle their ancient gridiron disputes in a contest which gives promise of being a battle to the death.

There is more at stake between the two eleven than a mere football game. The South Atlantic championship may hinge upon the result, for if Virginia should defeat North Carolina, today the Tar Heels would be out of the running unless the Cadets of the Virginia Military institute do the unexpected and defeat the Virginia Polytechnic institute in their game at Roanoke.

Both teams wound up their training yesterday with light workouts and the coaches expressed satisfaction with the condition of their warriors. Both contestants were confident today as they made ready to enter the fray and a stubborn contest seemed assured.

The whistle will sound its shrill summons at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. It will be the signals of the Virginia and the athletes from the Old North State to clash in their annual effort to settle a gridiron dispute which dates from 1892, when the two colleges had their first over their pigskin. Indications are that 10,000 people will witness the game.

SALVATION ARMY FUND IS ONE-FOURTH SUBSCRIBED

Expect That Remainder Will Be Secured—Drive to Begin Again Friday—Mills Have Helped By Large Contributions.

The quarter mark in the campaign for the Salvation army was passed by the canvassers yesterday, and the total will reach over $1,000. Seven cotton mills thru Reverend J. W. C. Johnson and Mr. Wilkins contributed yesterday causing the total to rise majestically from $800 the sum reported at the first meeting.

C. W. Gunter and his assistants were a thirteenth over their efforts but reported they had several parties yet to be seen. All teams have been asked by the Campaign Directors E. B. Denny, J. Y. Todd, and Mr. Radisill to re-canvass their territories until every prospective donor has had a chance to make a donation to this worthy cause.

Professor Joe S. Wray assisted by Mrs. Holmes finished their territory yesterday, bringing their grand total to the top of the list. Professor Wray reported favorable reception everywhere for the movement.

All canvassers have been requested to make reports by noon Friday at the Chamber of Commerce so that a list of all those who have not made donations may be made up for a committee especially organized to do clean up work.

Report reached headquarters of the campaign that one cotton mill had subscribed nearly 100 percent, meaning that the corporation, executives and employees had made donations. Blanks have been supplied all mills it was stated and these are to be returned to J. Y. Todd or W. T. Love in the First National Bank building when all have entered their subscriptions.

GUARDING AGAINST THE THREATS OF VIGILANTES

ELDORADO, Ark., Nov. 30.—Threats of "vigilantes," who Tuesday night visited Onechita City, in the Smackover oil field near here, and raided a number of objectionable resorts, killing one man, tarred and feathering several others, and driving out a considerable number of alleged obnoxious persons, to visit Smackover and other settlements in the oil fields, caused officials of two counties to send posses to the threatened section late last night, according to reports reaching here today.

No further trouble developed during the night, and according to the sheriff of Onechita county, no more is looked for, as he declares, most of the persons wanted have left the section, and are not expected to return.

No arrests have been made, and so far as can be learned, none are expected as a result of the raids Tuesday night. The coroner's jury which investigated the death of a man known as "John Few Clothes," who was shot to death in the raids, returned a verdict that he came to his death from shots "fired by persons unknown."

The raids were over, and the "antis" and disappeared before the arrival of deputy sheriffs at Onechita City. Several resorts are said to have been chopped down with axes by the raiders, while another report says several were burned.

FASHION HAS AGAIN RAIDED THE BARNYARD

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Fashion in her ever insistent search for novelty, again has invaded the barnyard. Rooster feathers have come back. They are the latest thing on smart Paris hats, and even on evening gowns. All colors are used, and when the rooster can't supply the shade, the dyer does. However, natural white and black are the most popular colors.

Rooster feathers probably are about as cheap material as can be found, but their use on chic hats has not lowered the price of bonnets. One little hat shop is displaying these "simple but smart" things at 750 francs, while other stores ask 500 and 600 francs.

FARM PRICES HAVE SHOWN BIG ADVANCES

North Carolina Is Better Off Than Most Any State In the Union, Says Frank Parker, Agricultural Statistician.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 30.—Prices of farm products have shown an advance during the past two months and today North Carolina "is economically and financially better off" than most any other state in the Union, according to a statement issued today by Frank Parker, agricultural statistician of the North Carolina and United States departments of agriculture.

The reasonable prices for cotton and tobacco and the "fairly good" yields of these two crops have been largely responsible for the favorable conditions, he stated. Another reason given was that North Carolina "is not as nearly a crop state as might be supposed, or even as much so as Iowa, Illinois or Texas which outrank her."

"Salesmen and bankers often comment on the good financial condition of the state as shown by their loans, sales and collections," said Mr. Parker. "This does not mean that the state is flushed, or that farmers are even able to pay all their debts, but that they are more nearly able to do so than those of other states."

"Prices of farm products have advanced somewhat during the past two months after a steady decline which resulted in the farmers' products having a purchasing power of less than two-thirds of other commodities on a par value basis. The steady advance in manufactured products was bound to react on crop prices, even if belated."

"The November 15 prices paid to farmers show as follows: Live hogs, $10.25, or the best price in 18 months; beef cattle $5.15, the highest in 15 months; lambs, $8.20; milk $0.51 per gallon is steady; apples $3.61 per barrel, an increase due to the better grades for commercial selling; sweet potatoes at $0.85 are on the toboggan downward; cabbage are quite cheap in the western fall-producing hill counties; loose hay is averaging about $27, or a slight recent improvement; cotton seed at $45 per ton is naturally upward, as is tobacco at 32 cents a pound; eggs have climbed to 43 cents; chickens 22 and turkeys 31 cents a pound."

"This state's corn crop makes up more than 34 percent of the total land cultivated; cotton 16 percent; wheat 7.3; oats 5; tobacco 5; hay 7; coopses 3.6; soy beans almost 3; clover 3, and other crops lesser percentages. This indicates a creditable diversification and home supply."

"Things are not bad in North Carolina, and they are becoming better," he said.

THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer tonight; Friday, cloudy and warmer with local showers; moderate variable winds.

Iowa Woman Gets a Life Sentence

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Nov. 29.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Katharine Shurtz, charged with the murder of her husband, J. V. Shurtz, returned late today a verdict of guilty of first degree murder, carrying with it a sentence in the penitentiary for life.

The state's principal witness, Leroy Spees, of Indianapolis, Ind., testified that he killed Shurtz after he and Mrs. Shurtz planned the murder. He was to have married Mrs. Shurtz, he testified, "after Shurtz was out of the way."

Mrs. Shurtz was indicted with Spees in connection with the murder. It was indicated that Spees will be tried later.

NEGRO WHO ROBBED THE TANENHAUS STORE CAUGHT

Was Escaped Convict From State Penitentiary, Serving Life Term—Was Captured By Lee Hallman, Union County White Man.

Thomas Johnson, the negro who robbed Tanenhaus Bros. store here two weeks ago of several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise, was captured Wednesday afternoon at Mt. Holly by Lee Hallman, a trustee of the state convict camp at Mountain Island. Johnson, who was an escaped life-tormentor from the state penitentiary, was recognized on the streets of Mt. Holly by Hallman, who had known him at the state prison. He was identified as the negro who broke into Tanenhaus store for the clothes he was wearing, and also for the finding of other garments in the room he had occupied in a local negro boarding house.

It will be remembered that the negro entered the store Saturday night, November 18, and made his haul, leaving an entrance open so that he might go in again Sunday. Store employees and officers lay in wait for him but he got away from them after a scuffle in the dark. The following dispatch from Raleigh to the Charlotte Observer tells of the capture as it was reported to George R. Poy, prison superintendent:

Hallman, "honor man" of the state prison system, a former army lieutenant, serving 15 years on an criminal as a result of a charge, captured a negro life-tormentor who had escaped, it was made known in telegrams received this afternoon by Prison Superintendent George Ross Poy.

Thomas Johnson, hefty six-footer, sent up for life on a murder charge, made his escape from the prison here last September 12. Lee Hallman, Union county white man, a member of the prison force at work on the South-east Power Company's Mountain Island development, espied Johnson at Mt. Holly this afternoon, and after a short scuffle made him a prisoner.

Hallman had worked with Johnson at the prison farm for several months and knew him by sight. When he saw the negro walking the streets of Mount Holly this afternoon he knew something was wrong. After he had made the capture, he sent a telegram to Superintendent Poy and then turned the negro over to the guards at Mountain Island.

Hallman was sent up a little over a year ago. Superintendent Poy made him an honor man several months ago, a recognition as reward for a good record.

Hallman had gone to Mount Holly on business for the Mountain Island camp. Superintendent Poy was gratified over his honor man's good piece of work, and pointed to it as evidence of a high standard of manhood.

Hallman is five-foot eight inches tall and weighs about 140 pounds. His negro captive is six feet one inch tall and weighs 200 pounds.

It will be remembered that Hallman, a prominent Union county young man, was sent up a year ago for criminally assaulting Miss Tolbert, a Chatham county young lady, who was teaching in Union county near Marshville.

Local officers went to Mt. Holly today, but it is presumed that the negro will be returned to the state prison to serve out his term.

STATE OFFICERS ENTER WET FIGHT AT TULSA

County Attorney Resents Interference and Says Whole Inquiry Is a "Big Joke."

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 30.—Bucked by the state and federal governments, Clifford W. King, assistant state attorney general, arrived here today to investigate the dismissal of liquor cases by County Attorney W. F. Seaver, who takes the stand that "the people don't want prohibition so there is no use trying to force it on them."

Upon his arrival from Oklahoma City, the assistant attorney general was greeted with the published announcement of the 74-year-old county attorney, "that the whole attorney general's force can come down here and see what they can do about it."

NO END TO DEMOCRATIC FILIBUSTER AS SENATE ADJOURNS FOR TODAY

May Continue Until Extra Session Adjourns Sine Die Saturday.

CONGRESS TAKES REST

President Harding Will Spend Thanksgiving Quietly at Home.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Congress, with the house having passed the shipping bill and the senate still in the quandaries of a democratic filibuster on the Dyer anti-lynching bill, had suspended activities with other branches of the federal government here today over Thanksgiving Day. At the white house also, President Harding had planned to do only a little work during the day and to spend the remainder quietly after having dinner with Mrs. Harding in her sick room, whose condition now permits her to spend part of such day in an easy chair.

The house took an adjournment over the holiday immediately after passing the administration shipping bill yesterday by a vote of 208 to 184, with 69 republicans joining the opposition and four democrats voting for the bill. The senate fight over the bill, which faces threats to delay if not prevented its passage there, is expected to get under way next week, the senate committee getting the measure Monday and planning to report it as passed by the house.

There was no end of the democratic filibuster in sight when the senate adjourned yesterday over Thanksgiving and the situation was declared by some to point to its continuation until the extra session adjourns sine die Saturday night. Although the motion to adjourn over today, after a five hour session yesterday, came from Senator Lodge, who as republican leader had presided over the republican caucus Tuesday at which it was resolved to hold the senate in session Thursday if necessary to break the filibuster, it was not taken to mean any intention of the republican side to drop the fight in behalf of the bill. And equally determined last night were the democrats to continue the filibuster.

STATESVILLE MAN JILTED TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF

Young Allen Gill In Hospital Suffering From Pistol Wound In Left Lung—Served Overseas Two Years.

STATESVILLE, Nov. 28.—Allen Gill, 21, son of J. B. Gill, clerk of federal district court, is in a serious condition at a local hospital suffering from a bullet wound in his left lung just below the heart, believed to have been fired in an attempt to end his life.

It had been learned that a young woman with whom Gill is said to have been infatuated told him early last night that she did not longer care for his attentions. Gill went home and a few moments later a shot was heard to come from his room. Members of his family found the young man lying unconscious on a bed with a revolver by his side. He was rushed to a hospital where it is said he has a chance of recovery.

The young man came home in his usual spirits and went upstairs presumably for the purpose of getting ready for supper, when the report of a pistol caused members of the family to go to his room. He was found lying on the bed with a .32-caliber pistol lying near.

He was removed to the hospital, where it was found that the ball had entered below and to the left of the heart, penetrating the lower lung. Latest reports from the young man tonight indicate that while he is conscious his condition is very serious.

Mr. Gill spent two years overseas during the world war with the first gas regiment.

He enlisted when only 16. He was wounded by shrapnel once.
