BARTLETT YANCEY HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The school observed Easter Monday as a holiday. Mrs. Lenna N. Goodson has been employed to teach the fourth grade for the remainder of this school year. Mrs. Goodson teaches in the stead of Miss Ruth Everette, who accepted work in Raleigh. Mrs. Goodson has taught in the school here before, and is very popular among the students and teachers. Last Saturday Bartlett Yancey showed her spirit and came out winner over the other schools in the county by a good safe margin. There were thirty contests at the county commencement, and Bartlett Yancey won 17 of these contests. The nearest competitor won ten contests. A banner goes to the school winning the greatest number of contests, and that banner hangs at the back stage of old Bartlett Yancey High. A list of the winners of the school follows: Vocal Solo: "The Little Red School House"-Carl Moser, Jr. Vocal Duet: "Just a Little Pansy"-Frances Giles, Lily Reagan. Vocal Quartette: "Come Where the Rosebuds Sleep"-Louise Poteat, Edward Brown, Irvin Reagan, Elizabeth Allison. Story Telling: "Peter Rabbit"-Bertha Lee Chapman. Spelling-Thelma Reagan. Declamation: "The New South"-Woodrow Foster. 75-yard dash, boys-Tom Satterfield. 100-yard dash, boys-Irvin Maynard. 50-yard dash, girls-Louise Poteat. 75-yard dash, girls-Helen Taylor. Running broad jump, boys-Irvin Maynard. 100-yard dash, boys-Herman Page. 75-yard dash, boys, high school-Dawson Boswell. Basketball throw-Lois Poteat. Baseball throw-George Oliver. Running high jump, boys, high school-Herman Page. The Old Fiddlers' Convention held in the auditorium Saturday attracted a larger audience than has assembled for any one entertainment during the entire school year. Bartlett Yancey was represented there also. "The Frost-Bitten Oysters," composed of school talent, won third prize. The boys now are working on the debate to be given at the last of the school year. The local Masonic lodge gives a medal to the best debater. "County Commencement Champions 1926" reads the banner!

PURLEY NEWS
