MORE THAN EVER THE WORLD'S GREATEST VALUES

We understand that Mrs. Anna Hooper is in training as a nurse. William Green Carter, wife and children are now making their home with their mother, Mrs. B. T. Barker, of Milton. Mr. Carter is working for W. L. Thomas. Walter J. Jones, of Semora; whose left leg was badly broken by a saw log some days ago, is doing well. The large bone of the leg was broken only in one place, while the smaller bone was broken in two or more places. Mr. Jones takes the hardship of the pain and confinement quietly. He is glad to have his friends call.

SET TOMATO PLANTS DEEP

In setting tomato plants, it is best to put most of the stem under ground. A good many make the mistake of setting only as deep as they were in the box or plant bed. The result is that the plants fall over soon after being set unless tied to small stakes. Deep setting also enables the plants to withstand more successfully the summer drought, which often occurs in July and August.

Cantaloupes, watermelons, cymbings and cucumbers may be planted the last of this month.

Plant a few rows of corn every two weeks up to August first for roasting ears. By so doing, a good supply will be had up to frost. The Country Gentleman is about the best variety to plant.

You can still plant Irish potatoes if not planted in March though they will be much later than those planted in February or March.

The above notes are principally for Virginia and North Carolina and our readers further South will note that earlier planting can be done in their section. North of this state plantings must be later. A paper like The Southern Planter covering such a wide range, it is impossible to give advice as to dates to suit every one.—From "Southern Planter."

Animals and Insects

Prepare for Winter

Ants, bees, wasps, flies and many other insects protect themselves during the winter by securing food supplies and constructing retreats.

The wonderful work done by ants, bees, wasps, spiders, butterflies and worms has been studied by many naturalists and researchers have been charmingly described by Lubbock, Fabre, Maeterlinck and other able writers. The underground apartments and terraced homes of the ants, their domestic life, social organization and thoughtfulness, are among the great wonders of nature.

These extraordinarily intelligent insects not only store away an abundance of food for winter, but also they provide aphides to be milked and they cultivate fungi gardens and manufacture many food substances while passing the winter months underground.

Genius, individuality and temperament in animals enable them to solve all the problems of winter which they may at any time encounter. These vary in individuals of the same species. Among any group of young animals or birds or insects you may notice individuals varying in fear, timidity, curiosity, suspicion, sociability, aggressiveness and initiative. Hardy two will be found with similar characters and temperaments. They differ as widely as the members of a single human family. The strong and fearless members of any species give the leadership and develop the customs which enable them to meet the conditions of winter.

Birds and Mankind

of Long Association

The association between certain birds and man is immensely ancient, says the London Times. As with sheep and oxen and horses, and even more with the dog, the attempt to assign a date to the origin of our farmyard birds is foiled by the mists of antiquity.

The scanty company of farmyard species has been recruited in very different ages. The turkey could not join us until we discovered America, and probably far the oldest is the rock-pigeon. When man learned how to grow grain, the dove found a new attraction in his company.

When man became a builder in stone, he built also for the swallows and doves. The swallow finds a home today in the cowsheds that mimic his ancient caves, while the house-pigeon, like the house-martin, clings to the outside of man's mtle rock faces and builds its nests on his triumphal arches and against his cathedrals.

GENUINE OLIVER CHILLED PLOWS

are the best plows made regardless of price. Don't buy an inferior plow just because the price is a little less. Remember when you buy an Oliver it is something you can use for a life-time and then leave it to your son.

FARMERS BE CAREFUL

and don't use imitation points and repairs on your genuine plow, as they not only don't do as good work but will not last more than half as long.

Now is the season for your fencing and we have it whether it is for your garden, farm, lawn or cemetery.

We appreciate the trade of our many friends in Caswell and invite you to make your headquarters with us.

COBB MEMORIAL SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY NEWS

At the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on April 6, the pupils of the high school presented a one-act farce entitled "Axin' Pa," which was greatly enjoyed. Plans were discussed for enlarging the school grounds before anything definite is planned for beautifying the school grounds.

On Thursday evening, April 8, a large crowd attended the music recital given by Miss Stacey's music class. Several vocal numbers and a chorus by the entire class, added to the already enjoyable program. The school is very enthusiastic over the interest shown in this phase of the school work. The music class will continue until the high school closes.

The sixth and seventh grades enjoyed a picnic on the creek banks back of the school building on April 9th, the date on which the elementary grades closed. Games and a picnic lunch were much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crumpton, of Roxboro, N. C., were week-end guests of Mrs. Crumpton's brother, Mr. J. F. White.

The following elementary teachers have left for their homes: Miss Carrie Mercer to Fountain, N. C.; Miss Josie Morton to Oxford, N. C.; Miss Virginia Ferrell, and Mrs. C. H. Stokes to Ruffin, N. C.; Mrs. J. A. Gatewood to Providence, N. C., and Miss Agnes Bustard to Danville, Va.

Walter Williamson, Jr. of Bryson City, N. C., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williamson.

Mrs. W. H. Williamson had as dinner guests on Thursday evening Mrs. Lelia Williamson, Mrs.

John Buck, and John Buck, Jr. Mrs. Lynn Williamson, of Greensboro, and Mrs. H. W. Cobb, of Richmond, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Sumter George, during the past week.

Messrs. Howard and John Ragland, of Danville; Mrs. Ida Blackwell, Miss Mary Blackwell, and Mrs. Strickland, of Victoria, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard, of Martinsville, Va., were recent visitors in the home of Mrs. J. A. Cobb.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matton, and children, of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Mrs. Mary Robertson and son, James, spent the past week-end as guests of Mrs. M. C. Watlington.

COUNTY NEWS

N. D. Tomlin, of Statesville, is in charge of the paving work being done by the state at Yanceyville. Mr. Tomlin is boarding at Mrs. Hooper's. He told us that he expected the road machinery to be unloaded at Pelham on Monday, April 12th. A force of hands has been at work at Yanceyville getting the road beds ready for the concrete.

Mr. John R. McDonald, representative of the Danville Register, was in town Tuesday, on his regular weekly round.

John E. Tucker, of Milton, made a business trip to Roxboro, Durham and Raleigh last week, and was away for several days, returning to his home Saturday.

Miss Julia Smith, who has been teaching at Anderson school, expects to attend summer school at Boones, N. C.

W. H. Vinson, of Union Ridge, was in town last week on business.
