A MAN AND HIS BANK

A business man is known just as he is known at his bank. And he is known at his bank by the way in which he keeps his monetary affairs.

This, in turn, places an obligation upon the bank itself—that of cheerful and helpful service offered freely at all times to the responsible customer.

And that is the attitude this bank takes—to help the ambitious business man in the safe conduct of his business affairs. Call and ask us to explain this more in detail. It will involve no obligation on your part whatsoever. We have a distinct banking service to offer, and want to tell you face to face just what it is.

SMOKE HOUSE THIEVES

Wednesday night of last week thieves entered the smoke house of J. W. Eatman, Reidsville, Route 2, and carried away all the meat he had. They also visited his corn crib and took a supply of corn, making good their retreat. Up to this time no clue leading to detection of the guilty party has been found. Mr. Eatman says he thinks it is time to put an end to these nights raids which are of frequent occurrence in many sections of the county—Reidsville Review.

MRS. G. P. MCKINNEY DIES

Mrs. G. P. McKinney died early this morning following an illness of several months at her home near Concord church, the funeral arrangements have not been completed but will occur some time Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to her husband she is survived by the following children: James L., of Burlington; George, of Watson, Route 1; Ben of Rich Fork; Will, of Yanceyville; Dewey, Altamahaw; Mrs. Kate Apple, Altamahaw; Mrs. Sallie Roberson, Burlington; T. B., of Burlington, and Mrs. Millie Madren, Burlington, Route 3. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Bill DeBruler and Mrs. Pauline DeBruler, Burlington, R. F. D.—Burlington News.

IN MEMORY OF MR. J. W. JACKSON

On Saturday night, May 22, at 12 o'clock, the death Angel came into our home and took away one of the dearest ones God ever trusted to any ones earthly care—our dear husband and father.

While the family, friends and neighbors did their best in caring for him during his long duration of illness, God saw fit to take him to a land of rest. Even though hard to give him up and seeing him suffer such dreadful pain, we feel that he has gone where there shall be no more suffering.

Though we miss his dear voice, the sound of his footsteps and the warm welcome he always gave his friends who come to see him, we feel that he was taken for a good purpose. There is a vacant chair in our home that can never be filled but we hope a vacant place in Heaven has been filled.

He was the son of Andrew and Nancy Jackson, of Caswell county, and was born July 20, 1860. His stay on earth of 65 years, 9 months and 22 days was a pleasure and comfort to all around him. May his life be an ever guiding star to lead us safely to that land of rest. We feel like his suffering has ended and our loss is his eternal gain.

On February 2, 1888, he was married to Maggie Frances Mitchell, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Mitchell of Person county. They lived happily together 38 years.

He was laid to rest in the family cemetery May 24th. Funeral services being conducted by Revs. Henderson and McKinney.

The floral offerings showed the love and remembrance of his many friends.

He is survived by a widow and eight children, and several grandchildren.

May God bless our home and help each one of us to meet him in the "Great Beyond."—Con, in Roxboro Courier.

The South has made great progress in tax-supported schools for Negroes. Already there are upward of one hundred and fifty high schools for Negroes, housed in fine buildings, several of which cost over $500,000 each. There are over three hundred graded schools for Negroes in the open country, where high school subjects are taught, besides several thousand open country graded schools of elementary grade. Several of the States have established institutions of collegiate grade for Negroes.

The development of agricultural production and marketing is the foundation of the South's economic progress.

AGRICULTURAL DEPT. COBB-MEMORIAL SCHOOL

I have received a letter from Mr. W. Kerr Scott, county agent of Alamance county, stating that they have about forty herds of registered Jerseys in their county, that he will take pleasure in aiding any one to locate Jerseys. Mr. Scott's address is, Haw River, N. C. If any one is interested in securing registered Jerseys I will be glad to help you select them.

Mr. Scott, as an extension worker with the Department of Agriculture, is also under the impression that livestock will fit in well with Caswell county's agricultural program.

Several people of the county have been troubled with diseases among their poultry this year, so I would like to run a few articles in your paper in regard to diseases in the flock.

In the control of diseases, especially in poultry, sanitation is the first step in controlling all diseases. You can not be a successful poultry raiser and disregard sanitation. The poultry house should be cleaned out often and sprayed with some good disinfectant, such as Lysol or Creolin solution. All feeding troughs and water containers should be cleaned daily, and should be so constructed that the chickens can not get their feet into the food or water. General sanitation is the most important thing in the control of any disease. We can do more in preventing the disease than can be done in treating it.

Bronchitis has been a common source of trouble in the flock this season. This is caused often by poor housing conditions. The birds often being in a direct draft or poor ventilation. Sudden changes in the temperature where the birds are not well housed may also favor the disease. The most common symptom is difficulty in breathing. Each bird effected should be given five drops of spirits of ammonia daily.

VETERAN WRITES INTERESTING LETTER

From the Soldiers' Home at Richmond, L. H. Gunn, Caswell county man, has written a letter of real interest to his kinsman, Ludolphus Page, Yanceyville, R. F. D. No. 1. This letter containing many expressions of love from the old veteran, can not fail to be of interest to many of his former friends in this county.

A very unique thing touching this correspondence is shown on face of the envelope. The address is as follows:

"Mr. Ludolphus Page, two miles west of Yanceyville, N. C., care of Mr. Walter Harrelson, merchant, Star Route, Yanceyville, Caswell County; vis Danville, Virginia. (Old Philip Hodnett homestead. Please forward."

Richmond, Virginia. June 25, 1926.

Mr. Ludolphus Page, Yanceyville, N. C.

You know I loved you and your dear, sweet mother, father and all of the family. You remember the happy days I spent in your hospitable sumptuous home and the pleasure I had playing and showing up the organ which I sold you which so much pleased and gave you and your family entertainment and real sweet home music. I have never entered a home that gave me more real pleasure, the former home of dear old friend Philip Hodnett, and wife. There was no finer lady and Christian than dear Mrs. Hodnett who my dear mother and father, James Gunn, and family idolized. I remember he presented my father an extra gold watch. He seemed to value it highly, not so much for its intrinsic value but for the love and esteem of his kind beloved old neighbors.

Cousin Dolphus, each of your sons have been to see me and it was a source of great pleasure to meet them.

There is no state in these grand United States that does and can compare or can hold a light to

North Carolina; especially Caswell county and vicinity, for honor, bravery, hospitality, and all that makes a community perfect and in many instances righteous. I even knew many old slaves who I am certain are now in heaven and when I am called to my reward and should not meet them with Jesus, I would be surprised and disappointed. They were so kind and good to my parents and we children. They were Aunt Rody, Maria, Ruckey, Caroline, Nancy, Becky, and many others.

Your oldest son came last Sunday p. m. and took me out on the Methoian highway through Manchester to his pottery, just across the railroad running from Manchester to Norfolk. The country and scenery reminded me of my old home as I looked from it in the direction of Dr. Buck Henderson and Fielding Hodges and the Foster homestead. The foliage of the trees was very similar, reminding me of the possum, coon and fox hunts I had so often enjoyed in those beautiful hills with S. G. Woods, Dr. Yancey and George Lea, and others when I was so pleasantly situated and knew no sorrow.

My dear wife has gone, flesh and blood but her sainted spiritual picture is pictured on the hospital walls and at intervals day and night accompanied by three sweet little angel faces. A revelation from God.

I wish I was in a condition to express my heart and soul to you my dear kinsman, your family and all of my dear friends in Caswell, the Womacks, Worshams, Harrelsons, Wares, Graves, Florances, Neals, Williamsons and the whole of Yanceyville, Caswell county and state of North Carolina, but owing to nervous debility, I can not.

God bless you all and save you in heaven.

L. H. GUNN.
