

UNION WAREHOUSE, REIDSVILLE, N. C.

Still leading all others in HIGH PRICES. Look at this. For the entire month of October we paid our customers for every thousand pounds sold on our floor, according to newspaper reports:

$12.60 More Than Winston---$10.90 More Than Danville

Why take less? Sell at the UNION WAREHOUSE, Reidsville, N. C., and get this difference.

We think tobacco has reached the highest peak, and would advise our friends to sell before Christmas.

J. R. AND F. L. McCOLLUM AND J. B. TAYLOR, Proprietors.

GATEWOOD-SHADY GROVE

Mr. Fletcher Potat and Miss Bernice Perkins were married November 16, and are visiting Mr. Potat's sister in Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carter spent a part of Thanksgiving day in Winston-Salem, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, of Danville.

Thanksgiving day marked a home-gathering at Green Acres, home of Mr. A. S. Wooding. Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Wooding, welcomed many of her children and grandchildren and together they spent a happy day.

Mrs. W. B. Fulton, accompanied by her niece, Miss Elizabeth Gatewood, of Danville, spent last week-end in Raleigh, where Mrs. Fulton received her training, at Rex Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Travis, Miss Frances Travis and Miss Mary Lou Fuqua spent Thanksgiving day in Winston-Salem, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Libus.

Misses Annie Mae Warriner and Helen Wharton, of Ruffin, spent last week-end with Miss Mildred Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, of South Boston, and Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Page, of Albemarle county, Virginia, were visitors Sunday, November 21st, at the home of Mr. E. W. Carter.

Woman's Missionary Society met with Mrs. J. W. Mahan, November 17th. The December meeting will be Harvest Day.

Durham, Nov. 30.—Sunday afternoon a crowd of several hundred people witnessed the initial appearance of a children's choir, numbering approximately 1,400 voices, when a Thanksgiving program was presented to the public in the city auditorium. Two other public appearances will be made by the children, under the auspices of the Durham Herald. The Sunday before Christmas a program appropriate to the occasion will be rendered and on Easter Sunday appearance is scheduled to be made.
