Book Notice.

A Short History of Chemistry, by F. P. Venable, Ph. D., University of N. C. D. C. Heath and Co. cloth 171 pages. Price $1.00.

Even by a mere glance through the table of contents of the volume noted above, it is easily seen that such a book as this is of great value to any one desiring a knowledge of the history of this fascinating science, and who does not care to wade through the pages of the larger foreign treatises on the subject. It is written with a view to filling the long felt want for such a book, written in the English language, presenting the subject systematically and concisely, and yet giving a connected view of the growth and development of the science. "The book is an outcome of a course of lectures tested during three years use with students. All the chief authorities have been consulted and where possible the original writings referred to. The aim has been to so digest and systematize this mass of material as to render it available for those desiring a general knowledge of the subject."

Exchanges.

The Lehigh Brown and White is a welcome visitor, twice a week. It is always newsy and contains good reading. Just now, it is agitating the question of the Honor System in Examinations. We are glad to be in more intimate relations with this progressive University.

College Topics seems to be little desirous of gaining the esteem and goodwill of other southern colleges. Its sarcastic reply to the Hustler's remarks on Vanderbilt's unavailing efforts to secure a game with Virginia is hardly calculated to win many friends in the Tennessee University. But in other respects, Topics does very well; its editorials show much ability. Our sister university in Virginia has the same cares as we; they are now laboring with a grasping faculty, and College Topics says, "Our faculty individually are as wise and learned as any set of men on the face of this green earth, but when they put their heads together, no mathematical calculation can foretell what the result will be. As individuals, they are stars, but their team work is abominable."

One number of the University of Georgia Red and Black has been received, but none has appeared for several weeks. We hope it has not gone to the wall.

The receipt of the following exchanges is acknowledged; Mt. St. Joseph Collegian, Davidson Monthly, Trinity Archive, The Oak Leaf (OAK RIDGE), Guilford Collegian (GUILFORD COLLEGE), Wesleyan Argus, McMicken Review (UNIVERSITY OF CINCINATI) and University Courier (PENNSYLVANIA).

W. B. Sorrell, the Jeweller, has a new lot of stud-buttons, and link cuff-buttons; fountain pens at $1.50, $2.25, and $3.50.

A Wonderful Invention.

Zoology teaches us that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying and giving it a soft life growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.
Special attention given to dressing Ladies hair. Cutting hair done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years experience.

The Singeing Machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country.

Very respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTON,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.
