CAROLINA WON.

The second game with Lehigh another victory for U. N. C. Score 6 to 3.

The two teams and the few "rooters" whose enthusiasm for the national game was strong enough to pull them from their downy couches at 3:30 a. m., reached Greensboro about 8 o'clock Monday morning and at once proceeded to the Benbow where breakfast was awaiting them.

After the closely contested game of the previous Saturday, which resulted in a score of 2 to 1 in favor of U. N. C., the game promised to be an interesting one, each team seemed to realize that there wasn't going to be any "walk over", and the eager crowd of spectators who assembled at the Park that afternoon were not disappointed in their hopes of seeing a good game.

The game was called at 3:30 with U. N. C., at the bat.

Stanly failed to set the ball rolling in his usual manner and retired on three strikes.

Debater's Contest.

The battle for debater's and declaimer's medals within the two Societies is now at hand. It is indeed gratifying to know that interest in such things is now increasing. Many more men than usual are entering these contests, and the indications are that the students are taking more interest in Society work. It is not out of place to give a word of encouragement to the under-class men and urge them to go ahead and prepare themselves for future contests. There is nothing that gives more stimulus to literary work than a public battle between orators and debaters, and we think it would not be a bad thing for the two societies to open their doors to the public on such occasions. Why should we hold our debates in secret when the village would give us a good audience, and help to encourage us in our work? We want spirit, energy and enthusiasm, and we call on every student to do his part in helping to carry debate and oratory hand-in-hand with athletic sport. We want to develop no one-sided men, so let's all do our part in the work.

Trap at Greensboro.

The contest between teams from the University, Charlotte and Greensboro gun clubs took place on Saturday afternoon, April 6, at the ball park in this city. It was a beautiful April morning, warm and spring-like, but during the afternoon the wind became very high, with fitful gusts that would make the targets deviate entirely from the course taken at first.

The match was at 250 blue rocks per team, known trap, unknown angles, rapid fire system, five men to the team. She match was divided into five events, ten birds each event, so that each team shot at 50 blue rocks. Below will be found scores according to events, also totals for all.

Greensboro team.
Jordan	9	9	8	9	9	44.
Gilmer,	6	9	6	8	3	33.

Event No. 2. 10 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 6, Stokes 9, Carson 8, Gilmer 6, Tate 8, Criswell 6, Jordan 9, Bridgers 8, Glenn 9, Brem 7, Atkinson 6, Dockery 2, Daniels 7.

Event No. 3. 15 singlee, unknown angles; Anthony 10, Stokes 10, Tate 9, Glenn 13, Carson 6, Gilmer 8, Daniels 9, Creswell 12, Bridgers 12, Jordan 11.

Event No. 4. 10 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 9, Stokes 5, Tate 6, Daniels 6, Jordan 8, Bridgers 7, Gilmer 7, Glenn 8.

In Justice to the Charlotte team it must be said that its men had no practice whatever, having sold their old traps last fall and their new traps having failed to come to hand; but they came ninety miles to shoot, rather than disappoint the Greensboro team. The University boys had been practicing over one trap with a rope pull, and it was hard for them to get onto the electric pull; however, Brem, Bridgers and Atkinson did some good shooting and proved themselves marksmen. Dockery was too much handicapped by head-gear, wearing a hot eye shade and a pair of glasses all at once. It gave the Greensboro team much pleasure to entertain their visitors, and they hope to meet them again soon.
