

Cave.
Full many a youth, unknown to be a "grind"
Must now his college duties soon adjust,
And mid-night oil must burn, or leave behind,
To mark his grave, an "animated bust."

'Tis not so much that marriage fails
For failures come in every trade,
The trouble's this—when marriage fails
No dividend is ever paid.—Ex.

Four Epitaphs.

"Deep wisdom—swelled head—
Brain fever—he's dead—
A Senior."

"False fair one—hope fled—
Heart broken—he's dead—
A Junior."

"Went skating—'tis said—
Floor hit him—he's dead—
A Soph'more."

"Milk famine—not fed—
Starvation—he's dead—
A Freshman."

—St. John's Collegian.

He bore each passing fad or whim,
No wish met his denial,
Her lightest word was law to him,
He stood all test and trial.
E'en whispers of her broken oath
He scorned as idle rumors;
But he gave her back her plighted troth
The day she put on bloomers.

"Now I lay me down to sleep
Upon my little bed;
If I should die before I wake
How would I know I'm dead?"—Ex.

Lives of bald-headed men remind us
We should choose our wives with care;
And departing leave behind us
Half our natural crop of hair.—Ex.

There's something about my sweetheart
That fills my soul with alarm,
And makes my suit seem hopeless—
'Tis the other fellow's arm.—Ex.

His hair so black, his beard so gray,
'Tis strange! But would you know the cause?
'Tis that his labors always lay
Less on his brain than on his jaws.—Ex.

A Wonderful Invention.

Zoology teaches us that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying and giving it a soft life growth.
Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies hair. Cutting hair done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years experience.

The Singeing Machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country. Very respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTON,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.
