

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Subscribe to the TAR HEEL and influence your friend to do likewise.

Mrs. P. H. Winston, of Windsor, is visiting Dr. Winston, her son.

Mrs. Samuel B. Hunter, of Halifax county, recently visited this brother, Mr. E. L. Harris.

Mrs. Martha A. Harris is spending some time with her son, Mr. Eugene L. Harris.

Some body got on their "ear" last week, and as a result, about half of college is on probation.

Mr. Fred Carr, '95 has been elected to succeed Mr. Pugh as instructor in Latin.

Mr. Thos. R. Foust, instructor in Math, for the past two years, is now teaching in South Carolina.

Mr. Butler, of the U. of Ga., succeeds Mr. Foust and is also a valuable addition to our foot ball team.

Mr. Motley Morehead, of Durham, was on the Hill a few days ago.

Mr. H. G. Sharpe ex '96, has delighted his friends by appearing on the campus.

Mr. Copple, '99 has been called home by the serious illness of his father.

The Law, class, 16 in number; go to Raleigh Saturday to be examined for license.

Mr. Philipps, '99, is very sick with fever. His condition has been critical for some time. His father is now with him.

Give the paper your hearty support, and we promise to make it the peer of any college weekly in the South.

This weather is too hot for hard study, so while away the time in the shade and while away the time by reading the TAR HEEL.

Work on the electric plant goes steadily on, and in a few days more Dr. Kluttz's revenue from the oil trade will cease.

Mr. Pugh, instructor in Latin for the last two years, paid us a visit last week. He was on his way to Harvard.

Mr. Harry Lake, '98, now comes to the front with a gift of $300 to build a new athletic tract. The entire student body feels gratified.

We are sorry to say that some of professors have no sympathy for the students. Very few have lessened the work during the oppressive weather of the past two weeks.

Mr. Cormichael, of the TAR HEEL board, has gone to Atlanta to attend a convention of Kappa Alpha fraternity, and will incidentally take in the sights of the exposition.

Mr. James Beard, the man who laid out his opponent in the U. Va. game last fall, has returned to the Hill to the delight of all foot ball enthusiasts.

"Johnnie" Moore is seriously thinking of writing a story on the "Difficulties I experienced in collecting fifteen dollars." The literary world is anxiously waiting.

Prof. Williams says Aston is a good psychologist. Whether that means Mr. Aston is to get 1 or 5 on his examination we are unable to say.

Misses Clyde Mason and Mattie Kirkland are making extended visits away from the Hill. Their friends are anxious to welcome them home again.

The boys have, on their own motion, transformed the memorial hall into a skating rink, and those who are acquainted with the "skating" art get some pleasure out of these lovely evenings.

A bright psychologist, after listening to a discussion of realism and nominalism, propounded the following astounding question: "Prof. Williams, if a thing isn't a thing, what is a thing?"

Mr. Trenchard, who is to train this season's team has arrived, and every one is impressed not only with his thorough knowledge of foot ball but also with his courteous manners and gentlemanly bearing.

Now is the time for U. N. C., to regain her foot ball reputation. With the best material we have ever had, and Mr. Trenchard, the foremost foot ball man in America to coach us, what is to prevent us from conquering all opponents.

The Sophomores held their annual election last week with the following result: Pres. E. K. Graham, Vice Pres. W. G. Peace; Historian, Follen; Orator, Harding; poet, Stevenson.

At the same time H. S. Lake was elected Capt. of the '98 foot ball team.

We are glad there has been no maltreatment of new students this year. The voluntary abolishing of this unmanly practice by the student body is a step towards that high plain of morals and manhood which should exist in all great universities, such as our's is destined to be.

Mr. E. W. Woods, an aged citizen, of Chapel Hill, died Tuesday, September 24th. He was not very well known to the present body of students, as he had been an invalid for some time. Old students, however, remember him as a picturesque character and as one who did many little jobs for them, as remedying clocks, lamps, etc. At the time of his death, he was not far from eighty years old.

THE Philological Club held its first meeting for the year 1895-'96 in the English lecture room, Tuesday evening, Sept. 24th.

Prof. Toy presented some notes on "Faust II, 365-380." The paper called out an interesting discussion on the origin, history and uses of the magician's wand, the divining-rod; etc.

Prof. Harrington called attention to a new Latin Grammar, by Prof. Bennett of Cornell University and to "A Short Manual of Comparative Philology for Classical Students," by P. Giles, M. A., of Cambridge University.

Prof. Harrington also spoke of the twenty-seventh annual session of the American Philological Association, which was held in Cleveland, Ohio, during the summer.

Mr. Willis made a few remarks on the revised edition of A. S. Hill's "Principles of Rhetoric."

The officers for the year are as follows:

Prof. Harrington, President.
Dr. Ball, Vice-President.
Prof. Toy, Secretary and Treasurer.
