Our Athletics are safe. Every member of the Board of Trustees, who has watched our career for this season, will not hesitate for a moment to vote for Athletics in the University. Why should they do otherwise? Have not the very evils which caused our trouble been supplanted by advantages? The air of professionalism has been removed and we have in its place a purer spirit. Men will no longer come to college for athletic honors but these will come as results of a healthy life while doing college work. With Athletics pure, and as a result the climax of our successes, this spirit should be encouraged. Why should our Athletics be hampered when they produce good results, and results, too, that can be gotten in no other way?

A glance backward will evidence growth in every department of the University. Nothing evidences this growth more forcibly than our present position in the athletic world. Four years ago it was our highest ambition to win a championship game from Wake Forest and Trinity. But gradually these institutions, not being able to keep pace with the advancement, withdrew from the race, leaving the University of North Carolina as the only exponent of the State's athletics. As we had no foes to battle with at home we sought games with the farger colleges of the North and South. Before this season our success has been only partially complete. It would have been complete with the Foot Ball team of '95 had they been treated with common courtesy in the final contest.

This is not the point, it is not our purpose to comment on what might have been but rather what North Carolina's athletes can do when they meet their opponents with impartial umpires. Nor do we wish to say as did Topics after the Thans-giving Game, that we have had a victory of science over brute force.

Virginia did put up a plucky game, knowing from the beginng that nothing but chance could make them winners.

The victory did not surprise us. All arrangements, such as fire works boxes etc., were all in readiness for a proper celebration. The team left the Hill to win and knowing the game would be managed properly, no one doubted for a moment but that Richmond's fire works would be used to celebrate Virginia's defeat.

A Wonderful Invention

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artist's skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country.

Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.
