The Philological Club.

The Philological Club now gets out a neat announcement card for each meeting. The following is their announcement for next meeting:

The Philological Club will meet in the English lecture-room on Tuesday evening, October 27, at half past seven o'clock.

The following papers will be read: Latin i-stems of the reduced Nominative. Dr. Linscott.

The Lay of Hnaef: a study of the primitive epic. Mr. W. J. Horney.

Is the plot of first importance in "Adam Bede"? Mr. May.

The Birth-year of Tibullus. Professor Harrington.

The Liberty-idea in Die Räuber. Professor Toy.

Track Team Talk.

The work of the track team has been delayed somewhat, owing to the fact that the practice ground was not in readiness. In the meantime a heavy board has been put up as a sort of curbing all the way round the track, to prevent guttering by water, and all the coarse cinders have been swept off, so that the surface is much improved. A good jumping and pole vaulting ground with raised running paths and large beds of soft earth has been made. It only remains to remove one or two stumps of the trees blown down by the recent storm, to have the hammer-throwing ground complete.

Exercise was resumed this week with a bright prospect of good work. The team will train for the following events: Running—hundred yard dash; hundred and twenty yards, high hurdles; four hundred and forty yards, straight away; one mile; and two miles.

Jumping—running broad; standing broad; and running high jumps.

Pole-vaulting, hammer-throwing, and shot-putting.

The men will take an all-round training at first, then as they begin to show special aptitude in particular branches, they will devote themselves to perfecting their form and action, each in his own department.

There is some good material already on the field, but there is more in college. Nearly every man excels in something. Track athletics with its several features furnishes more opportunities for excellence than any other department of athletics. So if any man knows he can do something well, be it only one thing, let him come out.

There are some men in college too, who have never tried themselves and do not know what they can do. A little training sometimes works a wonderful development. There are, of course, good men now engaged in foot ball; they will come in later, and, although they will not be in good form, they will be in excellent condition.

Prof. Meckling, besides being competent and experienced, is enthusiastic and willing to work. He is anxious to get out a good team for an intercollegiate contest in the spring. If we then do not take advantage of the opportunity to get the best athletic training and to lift the University to the level of other institutions in this line, we deserve to bear the insignificant reputation we now sustain in this department.

Indoor Athletic Contest and Entertainment.

Prof. Meckling has obtained lease from the advisory committee of the Athletic Association to give a series of entertainments this winter in the nature of contests in Indoor Athletics. An entertainment will embrace an exhibition of all sorts calisthenic exercises, work on apparatus, jumping, vaulting, etc. Medals of the very best kind will be given for excellence; not to the man who excels in any one department, but to the man who makes the highest number of points in all. To illustrate, if one man makes fifteen points in one department and five in another, while another man makes five points in the first department and fifteen in the second, their work in other departments will determine which is higher.

Prof. Meckling purposes to hold the first contest about the first of December. Looking to this end some new apparatus has been ordered for the gymnasium. Work will begin at once. The class in apparatus work will be divided into three grades according to the degree of proficiency. As members of the lower grades advance they will be moved up to the higher. A class in club-swinging will be started and a little later Prof. Meckling wishes a class of fifty or sixty men in fancy calisthenics.

All instruction in the above classes will be free, but if enough men to form classes wish it, for a small tuition fee, Prof. Meckling will give lessons in boxing and sparring and fencing.

It is thought best to have the first entertainment in December, notwithstanding many good men now engaged in foot-ball cannot be in it. This fact, indeed, will give men who have had no special training opportunity to attain some degree of proficiency before they will be obliged to compete with the best athletes in college, thus placing all on an equal footing for the next.

Reporter's Association.

On last Saturday afternoon a meeting of the newspaper reporters at the University was held in the Mathematics room, for the purpose of forming an association to promote the spreading of Chapel Hill news.

A proposed constitution was discussed, but has not been adopted. A committee of five was appointed to look into the question of finding a suitable name for the organization and also into the framing of a constitution.

Officers for the projected association were elected as follows: W. C. Smith, President; W. H. Bagley '00, 1st. Vice-President; R. Nunn, 2nd. Vice-President; F. A. Gudger, Secretary; and E. S. Askew, Treasurer.

Death of Mr. Bingham.

Again it becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of one of our late fellow students, and one of the University's distinguished young alumni.

On October 16, Mr. Herbert Bingham died at his home at Mebane after a long and lingering illness.

Mr. Bingham was with us at our last Commencement exercises, full of enthusiasm, love and affection for his Alma Mater; and little did we dream that it would be his last visit. A member of the Class of '95, Mr. Bingham graduated with distinction, and a long and successful career seemed open before him, when it was intercepted by the ruthless hand of death. Why, we know not, probably shall never know; but we believe that somehow, somewhere a divine hand is ordering all for the best, and in this belief we are content.

The funeral services of Mr. Bingham took place on Saturday, conducted by Rev. Mr. Kegley, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Shields and Dr. Hume; the latter made a sketch of his life and paid him an affectionate tribute.

The attendance was large, an evidence of the affection and esteem in which Mr. Bingham was held by those who knew him.

The Raleigh Club.

The readers of the TAR HEEL have probably either seen or heard of the gay and festive Red and Orange colors with which a number of students have bedecked themselves within the last few weeks. To those who are unaware of the signification attached to these emblems, be it known that they are the insignia of "The Raleigh Club."

As the name implies, this organization is composed of boys who are attending the University from Raleigh, with the exception of freshmen from that city, who are declared ineligible. Mr. P. Whitaker officiates as High Muck-a-muck of the Club.

The other members are Messrs. Brown Shepherd, R. H. Lewis, Jr., J. D. Whitaker, Jones Fuller., F. J. Haywood, Jr., W. G. Haywood J. H. Andrews, George Kirby, R. S. Busbee, Jack Hayes, and John McKee.

The formation of this society has suggested other similar organization, and it is said ribbons will appear soon for clubs from University Station and other large corporations.

Two new tablets are soon to be placed in Memorial Hall. One is in memory of Walter Leak Steele of the class of '44, who died in '91. Mr. Steele was a prominent man in the State and a trustee of the University thirty-two years.

The second tablet is in memory of William Johnston of Charlotte, N. C., who was born in 1817 and died in 1896. Mr. Johnston was a member of the class of '40, a trustee, also Mayor of Charlotte, and held other positions of honor and trust.
