

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Dr. Hume preached in Burlington Sunday.

Mr. Joe Sitterson, '99, spent the last week in Goldsboro.

Mr. Jones Fuller was in Raleigh last Saturday and Sunday.

As we go to press the Junior-Sophomore class game is in progress.

His many friends regret the fact that "Bunny" Burwell '99, has left college.

Messrs. W. E. Cox, of the Phi., and D. B. Smith, of the Di., were first in debate last Saturday night.

Mr. H. F. Pierce, '98, has been called to the bed-side of his sister who is very sick.

The University Record is now set up and the first number will appear shortly.

Dr. Hume's residence has recently been repainted and now has a much brighter appearance.

The special service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday night was attended and enjoyed by the students.

Miss Clyde Mason has returned to Chapel Hill after spending several months with friends and relatives near Asheville.

We are sorry to learn of the injury inflicted on Skeat Newby's nasal appendage in a foot-ball scrimmage last week.

Mr. C. E. Best evidently possesses an ironbound constitution. He traveled and played ball the early part of the week, and has been taking election returns ever since with but very little sleep.

Mr. H. B. Shaw, an old University man and for some time instructor in Mathematics here, has been elected to a position in Missouri State University. We do not know what position he will hold permanently, but for the present Mr. Shaw will be Assistant in Electrical Engineering.

Election day was a great occasion for the negroes and they took advantage of it by having a right respectable little "scrap". It seems that there were two silver negroes in the crowd and that all the others determined to convert or kill them and it looked very much like the latter for some time. Peace was restored, however, when Mr. Sparrow made his way through the crowd, and the remainder of the day passed off quietly enough.

The thanks of the students and people of the village are due to Mr. C. E. Best, of the Western Union Office, for the very efficient service rendered in getting the election returns. We are also indebted to Mr. Merrit for his kindness; to Mr. W. B. Bellamy for his untiring zeal in collecting money to defray the expense.

Prof. Gore is succeeding admirably in improving the appearance of the West end of the campus. It is College property but Prof. Gore is doing the work on his own account. He has repainted and added to his residence, removed the old cedars that formerly obstructed the view and overhauled things generally. If the Professor will now perfect the arrangements for draining the frog ponds that gather that portion of the campus after every rain, he will obtain the further gratitude of the student body.
