With this issue the TAR HEEL makes its first appearance for the college year. It has again fallen into new and untried hands.

The editors undertake their arduous task with extreme reluctance. But conscious that we have the support of the student body, it is in them that we place our hope and to them we look for aid in helping us to keep the TAR HEEL up to its past standard. More we do not dare hope.

In the beginning let us say that we trust that the students will not leave all to the editors.

Out side communications are always welcome. It is through the columns of the Tar Heel that the students must make known their wants and ideas. Of course the editors shall always reserve the right to judge what is worthy of publication and what not. Athletics of course are entitled to more prominence than any thing else, since this is the organ of the Athletic Association, but all items of interest will find space in our columns. With this then let us begin our work. Much depends upon the editors, but more upon the students. We promise to do our part as far as lies in our power.

Let the students see that they do theirs.

We have a part to play and no mean part in the foot ball record to be made this fall. The team is playing for the college. The student body is the college. Then let the college do its part and trust the coach and team to do theirs. Let us all pull together for the accomplishment of our great end. We all know what that end is, and we must feel enough interest to help contribute towards it.

Foot-ball is of course the all absorbing topic at present in our athletic circles. We start the season of '98 with the best outlook since '95. Most of last year's team are present. Much new material of promise has appeared. In addition to these we have with us again Gregory Capt. of the great '95 team and Hurly, the greatest guard ever on a southern gridiron. With such stuff to work on and with a coach full of energy and push we should advance the white and blue to victory on many a southern field during this season. But to do this and to accomplish the final end of all our hopes and work on Thanksgiving day, means weeks of hard training and self sacrifice on the part of the players. This the students of the University should recognize and appreciate, not only in private but on the campus and on the field we should let the team know we are behind them and as much interested in their work as they are. We should show them that we feel the same joy at victory that they do and the same sorrow at defeat—if defeat must come. And here let us resolve that in the hour of defeat we will be all cheerfulness, for then is the time the team needs it. Do not blame the team, we don't know when they are in fault. Leave that to the coach. Let us be behind them from the start and never let up.

The very satisfactory opening of the new session must be a source of gratification to all University men. While the numbers may have fallen a little short of last year's glorious record, the fact that the incoming Freshmen are better prepared than before will more than balance every loss sustained in numbers.

One of the most pleasing features about the beginning of the new year is the unusually large Senior Class, more than sixty being present. This is the largest number in a graduating class since '48.

Another fact of importance and interest is the increase in the number of young women over the number of last year. Co-education has proved successful and seems to be an established fact.

Four new professors appear among us, all four of whom are graduates of the University and men who are well fitted to fill their places in any college or university.

We then seem to be entering upon one of the most successful years in the history of the University. We are proud of her past and every indication is that we will have cause to be equally as proud of her future.

We are beginning what promises to be one of the most successful years in athletics in the history of the University. If indications count for anything we may breathe freely for a while at least. In both foot-ball and base-ball the outlook is very cheerful. But we must not sit still and congratulate ourselves upon our splendid prospects.

We must be up and working, for prospects count for very little indeed without work—and hard work at that. There is work for all, and all must work if we would put our athletics on a par with the other phases in our college life.

Manager Klutz is hard at work arranging a good schedule for our foot ball team. This is no more than the team deserves. Those who work hard and make many sacrifices in order to make the team deserve to get some pleasure as a reward for their efforts.

We trust that the games will be so arranged that those who work hardest may derive some enjoyment from it.

Meeting of the Athletic Association.

The Athletic Association held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon. A large attendance was present and much enthusiasm manifested.

As none of the last year officers of the Association had returned to college, Dr. Baskerville took the chair and called the Association to order. He opened the meeting by a short forcible talk, emphasizing the necessity for everybody to begin at once the hard work necessary for turning out a strong foot-ball team. His address incited much enthusiasm among the students.

The first business before the Association was the election of officers. For President Mr. Julian S. Carr was put in nomination, and unanimously elected. The choice of Mr. Carr was simply the recognition of his faithful work and aid in the athletics in the University and met with unanimous approval.

Dr. Baskerville then resigned the chair to the President-elect and in a few choice words congratulated him upon the honor received and the Association upon its excellent choice.

Nominations were next in order for Vice-President. Mr. F. O. Rogers nominated Mr. E. V. Patterson who was chosen without opposition.

The Secretary pro-tempore Mr. C. S. Alston was nominated and unanimously elected secretary for the year.

The next business to occupy the attention of the Association was the election of the Graduate undergraduate members of the Advisory Committee. Prof. Crawford Biggs, Assistant Professor of Law and Capt. R. A. Winston were nominated and chosen without opposition.

The TAR HEEL being the official organ of the Athletic Association, it fell to the business of the Association to elect the editors. The following were nominated and elected. R. D. W. Connor, W. E. Cox, M. Bellamy Jr., J. A. Caldwell, F. M. Osborne, E. D. Broadhurst, and H. M. Wagstaff.

After the transaction of the business the President announced that Coach Reynolds desired to address the meeting. He made an earnest, stirring talk, calling on the students to get behind the foot ball team from the beginning and do their share in helping Carolina bear off victory on every gridiron our team may chance to trod upon this fall. He called upon all, large and small, fat and lean, long and short, student, athlete and loafer to come out and watch the work, applaud the efforts of the men and show them that the Varsity is behind them and with them in spirit. Much enthusiasm was aroused by his straight-forward plain way of talking and the meeting adjourned with every one determined to do his part in making the great '98 team.

Capt. Winston Re-elected.

At a meeting of the members of the '98 base-ball team last Monday night Captain R. A. Winston was elected Captain of the '99 base-ball team. This was an excellent selection and was well deserved as a recognition as Captain Winston's services last spring.

Whereabouts and Doings of '98.

Chas. H. Johnston is Professor of English in the Willam Bingham School, at Mebane N. C.

R. H. Lewis is at his home in Raleigh studying stenography.

R. S. Busbee is at the Eastman Business College at Pokeepsie, N. Y. where he is taking a business course.

Archibald Henderson is Instructor in Mathematics in the University in place of Prof. Geo. Butler, resigned, who is now at John Hopkins University.

C. S. Carr will enter during the fall the University of Chicago to pursue a course in Mining Engineering.

R. E. Follin is at Wintson studying law in the office of Glenn and Manly.

E. K. Graham is teaching in the the Charlotte Military Academy at Charlotte.

J. Gilchrist McCormick is principal of the Graded School at Monroe, N. C.

P. W. McMullan has been at the Summer School but was compelled to leave on account of a severe attack of fever. He is now at his home in Hertford.

J. K. Pfohl will enter the Moravian Seminary at Bethlehem, Pa. where intends to complete his studies for the ministry.

W. R. Thompson is Principal in the Graded School at Greensboro.

P. C. Whitlock has returned to the University to pursue the study of law.

It is gratifying to hear the almost unanimous approval of the students of the action of the Athletic Association in electing Mr. Julian S. Carr president for the coming year.

No man in college so well deserved the honor. No one among the student body has done more to forward the cause of athletics among us than Mr. Carr, and it was but just that this highest honor in the power of the Athletic Association should have been conferred upon him. We trust to see all those who take such active interest in this important phase of our college life fittingly rewarded for their efforts.
