After a long delay, caused by fruitless attempts to get the whole University to take some part in the publishing of a thoroughly representative college annual, the Hellenian board has organized itself, and will get to work at once, not however on precisely the same lines as in past years. Heretofore the venture has always been a financial loss, too much was undertaken by too small a part of college. The effort has been to make the annual too largely representative of every phase of college life, though it has frequently failed in many particulars. This year a determined effort was made to have everyone take a part in the getting out of this work. The two literary societies and the fraternities, are the only financially responsible organizations, who could undertake this work either alone or in conjunction. The matter was discussed and one of the societies announced its willingness to co-operate, the other refused absolutely to consider it, and but two alternatives remained, to get out no publication, or for the fraternities to undertake it alone. The latter has been chosen.

The Hellenian this year will be however radically different from that of the past as the fraternities are unwilling to again risk the financial loss consequent to a publication similar to that of former years. The Hellenian this year, as got out entirely by the fraternities will devote its attention more largely to fraternity interests. It will of course try to represent the larger life of the University—in which the members of the fraternities take a lively interest—but, drawing its support entirely from the fraternities, it acknowledges their claim upon it and will be very largely for them.

We have no criticism or comment to offer, for nothing that we can say would have any effect. We can only say how much we regret that the organizations that could have taken hold of the work and made a truly representative annual of it did not see fit to do so.

Dr. Lambeth, Athletic Director at the University of Virginia has to his complete satisfaction and probably to the satisfaction of his University made up an All-Southern Foot Ball Team, which we publish below for the benefit of all who care for the Doctor's personal opinion. This is not given as valuable information except in regard to the Doctor's ignorance and prejudice, which shows itself plainly enough. We would like to question by what divine right he makes up an All-Southern Team this season at least, as he has seen no games in which the great truly southern teams have been matched. His own college has at most played against but one or two Southern teams and he has thus not been able to judge of its comparative strength yet three places on his "All-American Team" are given to Virginia players, one of whom he puts in a class by himself. It seems to the writer that Virginia and Georgetown are not to be classed among the Southern teams as neither has this season played any real Southern teams or any teams that have played any Southern teams of first rank. To claim that such teams are Southern is bad enough but to give almost one third of the places on a team to men from one of these two places, and that the institution at which he is in control of athletics including foot ball, and to foist this on the world as a truly representative "All-Southern Team," is to say the least an evidence of gross unfairness and looks to an outsider very much like an attempt to give oneself a "boost". For his comments see the February number of Outing. His team is made up as follows.

This Means You.

If you are a student here, or an alumnus or anyone else interested in the TAR HEEL, this is meant for you. And we mean it as a simple statement to you and as a request from you and those who have common interests with you. The TAR HEEL has had pleasing success this year in many ways. One of them has been in finance—one of the most important. There are to be many more issues in the spring than in the fall and it will require more money, but we mean to try to manage as successfully as in the fall and avoid all unnecessary expense. Then listen and save us both time and money! Every subscriber intends to pay and will pay, we fully believe, because he is interested in the paper. To those who are in college: It takes lots of time and worry to run around to your room every week and "dun" you for your subscription. Why not get this in your very next check and pay it at once? To those away: We request that you do not wait till the close of the term, but send your subscription to the Business Manager at once and save him the trouble of sending you a reminder. Will not all of you do this?

A. J. Barwick,
Business Manager.

Dr. R. H. Lewis of Raleigh, was again on the Hill for a few days last week.

Track Team.

During the week a call was by an announcement on the bulletin board for all who wished to try for the Track Team to present themselves at the Gymnasium at 4:45 every afternoon. In response to this announcement a number of men have made their appearance and the work of getting them in shape has already begun.

Candidates now out are; Rankin, Elliott, Curtis, Makely, Reynolds '03, Lucas, Ballard, Crosswell, Drane, Rountree, Foust, and others who on account of vaccination and other dissabilities although they have given in their names they have been able to come out only irregularly or not at all.

The call is still made to all who have any feeling of loyalty to their college which prompts to make some little sacrifice of time and energy for her victory and glory in the coming contest. The track training while occupying less of a man's time than either base-ball or foot-ball practice is perhaps harder work than either of these and it is hoped that no candidate will come out expecting to have an easy time.

The management of track athletics already knows who will make up the team that will go to compete in the inter-collegiate contest at Horner's School, it will be made of those who will take the regular every day training. The winter is not over and there will be much bad weather between now and Field Day.

When cold or rainy weather comes the work must not cease but go on just the same, indoors.

The material here is good but entirely undeveloped and regular every day work will be necessary. Those who have the grit to stand it will win in the end.
