THE 1900 BASE BALL TEAM.

Meeting of '99 Varsity. A Few Words From Lawson.

There was a meeting of the old Varsity men Saturday for the purpose of filling out the places vacant this year and also to select a scrub team. The following were present: Graves, Lawson, Woodard, Lambeth, Carr and Allison. For the present these men will hold their old positions and, of course, will continue to do so until a more worthy man applies for the place.

For first base, it is uncertain who will get it. Bennett is the steadiest man and will be given the place for the present at least.

Whitley will fill Roger's place at centre field. Oldham will be put in right field.

Don't let any man feel hurt that he has not made the team, for this arrangement was simply made so that the captain could practise the Varsity men together and would give him an opportunity to do some good coaching in signals, base-running and such like. This now is the most important time for the men to come out on time, so that they can work together and get used to one another's playing.

The following scrub team was selected: Foust, the only candidate for the position, will catch.

Battle and Willcox, two promising pitchers, will alternate on scrubs and Varsity. Lawson will very likely pitch for scrubs, so as to give the Varsity men an opportunity to bat against good pitching. Richardson will hold first base and ought to make a good man, if he would not play quite so fast. He should take more time and play carefully. Graves L. and Capeheart will be alternated at second. But at present, Graves has the advantage. Capeheart fields well but uses no judgment in throwing.

Brem R. will play short. His fielding and batting are very good.

Graham G. and Fetter will be worked together at third for a short time.

The outfielders seem about equally matched. There are about six applicants and so far no decided advantage can be given. Another week will be needed to decide who is the best man. Although Graham A. and Carr are somewhat in the lead.

Holt will be used on both Varsity and Scrubs. He is entirely too slow at present. His hitting is good. He should play more so as to get more life into his playing.

The following are a few words from Capt. Lawson: He says he thinks he acted for the best in having the old men select the present team. The men that were placed on the Varsity were put there at the suggestion of the old men. None of these places are decided. If there is a man on the scrubs that develops before the last game of the season or at any other time, he will be put where he belongs. The deserving man will always have the place. Of course, the captain will use his own judgment in any such change, but at present it was necessary to make a start. He says if any of the men wish to ask him any questions or his advice he will be glad to help them out. Again an appeal is made for the boys to come out to the practice games and cheer every good play. The pitchers from this time on will be allowed to use curves and to do their best work so that the batters can be selected, hence there will be need of more rooting from the boys. No one on the team feels the good of good rooting more than the pitcher, so let everybody come out.

Our prospects are far better than last yea and if the team is backed by the student body there is no reason why the 1900 team cannot be as good in batting and probably better in fielding than the famous '96 team. Everyone should do his best to make it a good team and not have so much personal guying on the field. We can't expect to have a team at that rate.

The Law Class.

Out of the twenty three men who stood the Supreme Court examination from here, twenty two passed, while only sixteen out of twenty three had received Judge McRae's certificate. This speaks well for the high standard of work done here-

Those who passed from here were as follows:

Fred J. Coxe, Anson county.

Luther M. Carlton, Durham county.

Z. V. Long, Iredell county.

Alan L. Holmes, Henderson county.

John G. McCormick, Robeson county.

Jereamiah C. Meekins, Jr. Tyrell county.

Marvin W. Nash, Beaufort county.

Junius I. Scales, Guilford county.

Joseph A. Spence, Stanly county.

Reuben H. Staton, Henderson county.

Garland S. Ferguson, Jr., Haywood county.

Junius E. Shipman, Henderson county.

William F. Rucker, Rutherford county.

Hampton D. Williams, Duplin county.

George H. Humber, Moore county.

Wm. J. Christian, Jr. Durham county.

Emmet R. Wooten, Lenoir county.

Thaddeus Jones Jr., Duplin county.

John M. Greenfield, Forsyth county.

David L. Russell, Catawba county.

Daniel L. English, Transylvania county.

Thos. W. Alexander, Mecklenburg county.

Raymond J. Mauser, Catawba county.

Major Robert Bingham Adressed the Students Sunday Night.

Major Robert Bingham, the distinguished educator and principal of the Bingham School, Asheville, delivered a Bible lecture Sunday night in Gerrard Hall, before a large assemblage of students and others.

Dr. Alderman in introducing Major Bingham spoke of his great work in this State.

He said the two greatest educational factors in this State were the University and Bingham.

Major Bingham began by a short comparison of the religious life here now and from '53 to '57 when he was in college.

He then spoke of the Lord's method of getting young men into the kingdom. He read the parables of the Lost Sheep, the Lost Silver and the Prodigal Son. The Lord as a teacher and preacher is worthy of our constant attention.

The Divine power had its emulations in the God-Man.

He calls himself Son of God only twice and calls himself Son of Man often.

Human Unbelief causes one of its limitations.

The Parable represents the duality of Salvation.

One part is God's side of Salvation and the other is Man's side. There is more joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over the 99 just persons that need no repentence. When you bring some one of your friends to God, you cause joy both in Heaven and on Earth.

God does't force grace on any one. He made us as free-agents and you can choose for yourselves.

God commits the destiny of everyone to himself.

The only way to make a man is to teach him responsibility.

God has infinite love and mercy for us all.

He closed by advising young men to drink of the water that is all around them, the stream of God's kindness and mercy. The address was much enjoyed and at its conclusion Mr. Hadcott Anderson and Dr. Mangum sang a beautiful duet "Hark! Hark! My Soul." Rev. Mr. Currie pronounced the benediction.

NOTICE!!

There will be an important méeting of the Senior Class in the Chapel Friday afternoon at 2:15 sharp, for the trasaction of important business. President Alderman also wishes to talk with the class at the same time. Every member should come on time.

W. F. Bryan,
Pres.

At a meeting of the members of last season's football team Monday night Mr. F. M. Osborne was elected captain for next season.

Dr. Whitehead has resumed his duties as college physician.

GEN. JOHN B. GORDON.

On "The Last Days of the Confederacy."

The second of the star-course of lectures for this spring will take place in the Chapel next Monday evening at eight o'clock. It will be given by the famous Gen. John B. Gordon, President of the United Confederate Veterans Association. Gen. Gordon was second in command at the surrender at Appomatox and so is exceedingly well qualified to speak on "The Last Days of the Confederacy" as every one knows.

To those who have heard him recommendation from us is unnecessary, to those who are not acquainted with him as a lecturer, suffice it to say that he is one of the best known and most popular lecturers in the country.

This is the last of the series for this spring so far arranged. If it turns out to be a success financially however, it is hoped to add one more to the list later, and also to provide a series covering the whole of next year. So we hope all who can will come out and hear this great Southerner and thus ensure us a contiuence of these interesting lectures in the future. Gen. Gordon will both interest and instruct you.

Tickets will be on sale at Yearby's.

Rev. Mr. Watson's Sermon.

Last Thursday night in the Chapel, the second sermon by the University Preacher for this month was delivered by Rev. N. M. Watson of Greenville.

He took as the text of his discourse, the 3rd and 4th verses of the 4th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

He said every man has four judgements formed upon him. His friends form one judgment, the world another, himself another, and God also forms judgements on man.

The world looks at a man and makes its opinions, but the friend sees a different man, for he knows the inner nature that the world cannot know.

A man seen by himself is different from either of the others. The man that God sees is different from every other man; for no person knows himself until he is tried.

Some men are stronger and some weaker than they think themselves, but God sees and knows their very hidden purposes of life and he alone is able to judge them.

Which of these judgments are you concerned in?

Let it be something higher than the world's, your friend's or your own and that is God's.

The sermon was a very impressive one, and full of kindly advice to young men.

W. G. Harlee, of Florida, ex-'98 has been appointed by the President to a second lieutenancy in the U. S. Marine Corps.
