Dr. C. S. Mangum and bride arrived in Chapel Hill Monday.

Mr. J. R. Rountree spent Sunday last in Raleigh, as did also W. A. Murphy.

Dr. William B. Phillips '89, has been elected to the chair of Geology at the University of Texas.

L. Morehead and Tom Ross went Wednesday on a hunting trip 25 miles north of Durham. In two days they killed 80 partridges, or at least so they say.

Mr. Edward May, of Boston, has given $500 to the library to be used in the purchase of books in the modern language department as a memorial to his son, the late Prof. May.

Mr. Holland Thompson '95, who is in New York doing graduate work at Columbia University, has been appointed instructor of history at the City College of New York. This institution has over 1900 students.

Dr. Mangum's Marriage.

The following clipping from the army and navy register will interest the University:

MANGUM—PAYNE—At Washington, D. C., October 25th, 1900, Dr. Charles S. Mangum of North Carolina and Miss Laura Rollins Payne, daughter of the late Capt. J. S. Payne, U. S. Army, retired. —Miss Laura Rollins Payne, only daughter of the late Major J. S. Payne, U. S. Army, and Dr. Charles Staples Mangum of the University of North Carolina, were married at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday night at St. Andrews Church, Washington. The vested choir of the church, of which the bride has been a member, met the wedding party in the lobby of the church and preceded them up the center aisle to the chancel singing the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." Following them walked the ushers: Mr. Eppa Huntton Jr., of Warrenton, Va., Dr. Thomas Ruffin of the University of North Carolina; Dr. Vincent; Mr. Julian Carr of Durham, N. C., and Dr. Thomas Steele of Rockingham, N. C. The maid of honor was Miss Julia Barry, of Warrenton, and the bridesmaids in attendance were Miss Virginia Payne, the bride's cousin, and Miss Sarah Taylor, of Georgia. The bride, who is a girlishly pretty brunette, was escorted by her uncle, General Payne, by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown of cream-colored silk crepe that hung gracefully to her slender figure was edged about the train with small flounces, and the bodice was made with a shirred effect and finished with lace and white ribbon. A coronet of orange blossoms held her veil in place and she carried a shower of bridal roses and lilies of the valley sheathed in maidenhair fern. The groom and his best man, Dr. Baskerville of North Carolina, joined the train in the chancel, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Josiah Perry, Rector of St. Andrews, assisted by Rev. Mr. Argo, rector of the Church of the Holy Nativity, Philadelphia. A reception was held at General Payne's residence, 2215 Washington Circle, and later Dr. Mangum and his bride left for a wedding trip that will end at their home in North Carolina.

PHI SOCIETY.

Two new members were initiated. The query was: "Resolved, that Trusts are not detrimental to the welfare of our country."

The affirmative held that this is the day of great combinations and that they are the natural outgrowth of our industrial conditions. Combination is stronger than individual effort and "In unity there is strength."

The negative held that trusts tend to build up monopoly and drive out individual capital. Trusts control prices to the detriment of all classes of people.

The debate was fairly good. Freshmen took part for the first time. The committee to decide the debate declared in favor of the negative and reported Mr. Sallenger as best debater.

DI SOCIETY.

The reporter failed in his duty this week.

Virginia is trying hard to get another game with V. M. I. The Cadets are refusing to play, so College Topics says, unless Virginia cancels her Thanksgiving game with Sewanee and plays them then.
