UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CHAPEL HILL, N. C., October, 30, 1901.

No. 6.

The University Again Victorious.

Defeats Davidson by a Score of 6 to 0.

The University team left for Charlotte, Friday, where, on the following day the team from Davidson college was played. This is the first game of the season, that the team has played on other than the home grounds, and the score shows how well they acquitted themselves when away from home. The day was fine for a game and the spectators were many and enthusiastic. Under such favorable conditions the game as reported by the Charlotte Observer was never slow or uninteresting and its cleanness was noteworthy and commendable. It was however, devoid of any sensational plays. The lineup of the two teams was as follows:

The game was called at 4 o'clock and before this time the ropes surrounding the gridiron were lined with spectators anxiously awaiting the signal to start the play. The rooters of the two teams seemed to be about evenly divided and especially flattering was it to notice, that so many of the young people were enthusiastic supporters of the University eleven. It is to be regretted however, that the rush beyond the side lines was very demoralizing to the players and often prevented them from making big gains when an opportunity was presented.

In the first half neither team scored, as expressed by the coach, they rested for the second round. The sphere remained near the center of the field most of the time, but always in Davidson's territory. In the last half the game was a little more snappy and interesting. The University men were unable to make gains of any consequence around the opposing team's end, but by steady line bucking carried the ball down the field and sent Makely over the line for a touch down. On the second lineup in the second half Carolina again carried the ball down the field by line bucking and were on Davidson's ten yard line when time was called.

Both teams played strong, aggressive ball, and the tackling was quick and usually good. The playing was never slow or uninteresting and the cleanness of the game was noteworthy and commendable. The fact that both teams will seriously consider the unnecessary amount of fumbling in the game is a criticism and a hint that may be of future service.

The University team work and interference showed the result of careful coaching. Excellent playing was done by Carr and Jacobs, the two halves; by Graves, a beautiful quarter back; by Captain Council, the right tackle, a heady brilliant player; and by Foust, the left tackle.

"For Davidson Kirkpatrick, at center was in excellent form; showing fine judgment and made very few errors. Kirkpatrick's kicking was a decided feature of the Davidson work. Caldwell at left end and McKinnon at right were superior. Wyman proved himself the equal of any half back ever seen on the gridiron here. Fetzer and Rowe also deserve special mention for good work.

Fresh. vs Sophs.

The game to decide whether the Soph. or Fresh. team should play Bingham at Mebane last Saturday was called Friday at five P. M. The teams were almost equal in strength before the loss of Bass and Jacobs from Sophs. to the Varsity and the addition of the scrubs, Roberson and Hester, to the Freshmen. With these changes and Smathers to coach them the Freshmen made a decidedly better show. There was no score. This was due to the Freshmen losing about 30 yards in off-side plays and the inability of the Sophomores to gain over the superior weight of the Freshmen.

With the Freshmen defending East goal Peace kicked the ball well into their territory where the Sophs. kept them until forced to kick. The Sophs. then bucked the line for no gain and were forced to kick. The first half thus proceeded, not varying the order, with no score. Roberson kicked off for Freshmen with Sophs. defending East goal in the second, which was practically a repetition of first half. The game ended with no score.

The features of the game were Irwin's end runs for the Sophs. and Hester's numerous breaks in Soph. line for the Freshmen. By agreement of teams before entering the game the Freshmen won the chance to play Bingham.

The Historical Society Meets.

Papers Read by Dr. Battle and Mr. Stern.

The Historical Society met in the Chapel Monday evening, Oct. 21, at 7:30. Papers were read by Dr. Battle and Mr. Stern. Prof. Raper was elected vice-president and Prof. Noble, treasurer of the society.

Mr. Stern read an interesting paper on the Impeachment of Wm. Blount. It was gathered from this paper that Senator Blount's trouble grew out of a certain letter which he had written to James Carey, an interpreter to the Cherokee Indians. This took place during the trouble between the United States and Spain over the southwestern boundary question. This boundary question was made the subject of a special message to Congress by President Adams on July 3rd, 1797. This letter from Blount was among the documents communicated. In this letter Blount asked Carey's assistance in uniting Cherokees and Creeks for some purpose not definitely stated. The plan seemed to be for Carey to destroy the influence of the government agent with the Indians while Blount at the head of a force of British regulars and Tennessee backwoodsmen attacked the Spaniards. In addition to this letter, the English ambassador Mr. Leston stated that someone had proposed such a plan to him.

The House on receipt of the message went into executive session and a committee was appointed to investigate the Blount affair.

The committee reported that Wm. Blount, a senator from Tenn. be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors. It was moved and carried that a member of the House go to the Senate and impeach Blount at the bar of the House, requesting that Blount be deprived of his seat. Blount was at once placed under a bond of $50,000.

The investigating committee of the Senate recommended that Blount be expelled. Blount refused to deny or affirm the authenticity of the letter. At his request Blount was assigned counsel. His counsel contended that it was not right for the Senate to pass judgment on Blount before the impeachment, that punishment should not precede the trial, that Blount could not be expelled until found guilty of the charges. After much discussion the motion to expel was carried. A few days after Congress convened in Dec., the articles of impeachment were reported to the House. These were based entirely on Blount's letter to Cary. When the case came up in the Senate the counsel for Blount contended that the Senate had no jurisdiction as a senator was not a civil officer and that by the Constitution these alone could be impeached and that as Blount had been expelled by the Senate he was no longer triable by it. Managers for the House said that the plea of the counsel for Blount was not sufficient for dismissal of the case. Argument continued for two days when the Senate decided by a vote of fourteen to eleven that the Senate's jurisdiction terminated with expulsion.

Dr. Battle read a paper on the Great Seal of the State. He stated that the first Great Seal was sent by the king of England to Governor Tyron in 1767. We have followed up the design of this old seal all along. In 1777 Hooper, Hughes and Burke were appointed as a committee to prepare a Great Seal of the State. This seal was destroyed in 1794 and another was made. In 1893 Judge Clarke suggested that the Latin phrase esse quam videri be placed on the seal.

The Freshmen Defeat Bingham 21 to 0.

The Freshmen by a victory over the Sophs. on Friday gained the privilege of playing Bingham at Mebane on Saturday. They went over and, as in most other contests engaged in this fall, were entirely successful. Below is an account as reported by one of the spectators.

"The game was exciting from beginning to end. The Bingham men were heavier and stronger to a man but the Freshmen balanced this by their fast, snappy team work.

"The Freshmen kicked off and after three rushes secured the ball. After this only a few end runs put the leather beyond Bingham's goal line.

"After the first touchdown Bingham lost hope and played on the defensive entirely. Fumbling was a marked feature of Bingham's game.

"For the Freshmen, Hill, Townsend, and Robinson made fine end runs, Meares blocked beautifully and punted well. Emerson, the star, showed fine executive ability and passed the ball perfectly.

The final score was, Fresh. 21, Bingham 0.
