A FAST GAME.

Cornell Wins from Carolina by the Narrow Margin of 3 to 2 in the 10th Inning.

Carolina and Cornell played one of the fastest games of the season in Raleigh on last Friday afternoon. The teams were about evenly matched and the result of the game was doubtful until the last man had been retired in the tenth inning.

That the game was lost is no fault of Oldham, G., who twirled the sphere for Carolina, or in fact of the whole Carolina team. The team played together as one man and would have won the game if it had been played on a decent diamond. Cornell scored a home run in the fourth inning, sending in two runs upon what was hardly a decent single. The ball, hit to right field, was lost in a deep gulley and before it could be found two men had walked around. Cornell scored one more run in the tenth inning, thus winning the game. Carolina's scores were made in the eighth inning.

The features of the game were the pitching of Oldham and a spectacular catch of a high fly behind third base by Worth.

The game in detail was as follows: Carolina goes to bat first. Hart is safe on a wild throw from third to first, but is caught a moment later stealing second base; Cheshire safe on error of second baseman; Oldham W. flies out to center field; Donnelly out on fly to left field. Cornell: Brewster fans, Costello goes out via Oldham G. and Mowen; Rice beats the air three times in a vain effort to locate the sphere.

Second inning: Worth walks, Hobgood and Mowen both fly out to center field; Noble is safe on center fielder's error, but Worth is put out at home by catcher in an attempt to come in. Cornell: Wiley is safe on a fumble by short stop. Martello fans, Umstead hits to Cheshire and on a lightening double Wiley and Martello are retired via Hart and Mowen.

Oldham G. is presented with a free pass, but is out a moment later on an attempt to steal second; Hart also walks, but suffers the same fate as Oldham; Cheshire pops up a high fly to second base. Cornell: Bramen fans; Welch gets hit over first base; Welch dies on base, as Longey fans and Brewster goes out on a long fly to left field.

Fourth inning: Donnelly goes out second to first; Worth suffers the same fate; Hobgood fans. Cornell: Costello safe on Mowen's fumble; Rice hits to Hart and on fielder's choice is safe at first Costello being put out via Hart to Cheshire; Rice steals second; Wiley pops up a little fly which Mowen takes care of; Martello hits safe to right field, ball is lost in the bushes and clay of the —for Carolina—(Un)—Fairgrounds and he gets a home run, sending Rice across the pan ahead of him. Umstead, next up, goes out short to first.

Fifth inning: Mowen places one in center fielder's hands and thus dies; Noble pops up a little bingle which the catcher easily takes care of; Oldham, G. out on a sky ball to third base. Cornell: Bramen strikes out; Welch out second to first; Longey goes down from short to first.

Sixth inning: Hart safe, error second base; Cheshire flies out to centerfield; Oldham, W. hits to shortstop and on fielder's choice Hart is out at second base; Donnelly out to third. Cornell: Brewster goes out pitcher to first; Costello flies out to Donnelly; Rice out, Hobgood to Mowen.

Seventh inning: Worth is retired from second to first; Hobgood is safe on third baseman's error; Mowen flies out to right field. Noble hits a sizzler to short who fields it cleanly and throws "Hobbie" out at second. Cornell: Wiley is out on a line drive to Hart. Martello gets a three bagger in deep right center. Umstead drives a hot one at Hart who fields it prettily and by good head work holds Mantello close on third before he throws Umstead out at first; Bramen drives a terrific bounder at Hart who handles it clearly and shoots it to first thus destroying Cornell's chance to score in this inning. This inning was marked by magnificent playing on Hart's part.

Eighth inning: Oldham, G., is safe on second baseman's error. Hart lines out to third base. Oldham takes second base on a wild throw from third to first in attempting to make a double. Cheshire hits safely, advancing Oldham on third baseman's error, who throws wild to first. First makes a beautiful stop of ball preventing one or two scores. Donnelly nails a pretty single to right center sending Oldham, G. across the pan. Worth makes a nice sacrifice to first base, scoring Cheshire. Hobgood ends the inning by striking out. Cornell: Welch and flies out to Hart. Longey walks. Brewster hits to right field and on fielder's choice Longey is out at second base. Costello flies out to Worth.

Ninth inning: Mowen walks. Noble is safe on the pitcher's error and takes second. Oldham, G. beats the ozone three times and Hart ends the spasm by flying out to first base. Cornell: Rice gets first on a fumble by short stop; Wiley is out at first on fielder's choice, Rice going to second. Martello hits a fly behind third and Worth makes a spectacular catch, doubling Rice at second.

Tenth inning: Cheshire is retired from second to first. Oldham, W. is out at first. Donnelly is hit by pitched ball. Worth flies out to second. Cornell: Umstead gets first on Worth's error. Bremen bunts safely, advancing Umstead to second. Oldham, G., throws to second base to catch Umstead but throw is wild and Umstead crosses the home plate with the winning run. Score: Cornell 3; Carolina 2.

The batting order of the two teams was as follows: Carolina: Hart, ss; Cheshire, 2b; Oldham, W., cf; Donnelly, lf, Worth, 3b; Hobgood, rf; Mowen, 1b; Noble, c; Oldham, G., p. Cornell: Brewster, lf; Costello, cf; Rice, 2b; Wiley, ss; Martello, 3b; Umstead, rf; Bremen, 1b; Welch, c; Longey, p.

A. and M. 9; U. N. C. 2.

The taste of the snappy game against Cornell was taken out next day when A. and M. won over Carolina for the first time in its history. The Varsity was not up to the form of the day before and lacked ginger. Hart pitched good ball considering that it was his first game this season. A. and M. succeeded in getting several singles off him in the 7th inning and these with Carolina's errors, netted them 6 runs and the game was lost. A. and M. has tried long and faithfully to win from "the University" and we should not grudge them this victory. For Carolina Donnelly played his usual cool, steady game. Cheshire's work at second was neat and Engle got half the hits. A. and M.'s men exerted themselves to the utmost and deservedly won the game. It is scarcely to be hoped that they will come up to the Hill for the second game, since their two best men leave this week to join the Jacksonville professional team; but if they do, we prophesy a different score. The following detailed account is taken from the News and Observer:

The University took the field and Miller is up first for A. and M. He reaches first on a slow hit to third. Asbury followed with a pretty sacrifice. Howle, on bunt and wild throw to first was safe at first and went to second, while Miller scored. Hadley and Springs fanned.

Hart was retired via third to first. Cheshire goes by the same route, and Oldham fanned.

Second inning: Knox got a pretty hit over second base. Brockwell sacrificed. McLaurin fanned, and Harris flew out to left field.

Donnelly reached first on a fumble of short stop. Worth is safe on first, while Donnelly was cut off at second. Engle singled and scored Worth. Mowen was hit by pitcher, and Harris and Noble were unable to reach first.

In the third inning Miller was safe at first by error of catcher. Asbury flew out to left field. Howle placed a pretty single through short stop, and stole second before Hadley fanned.

In Carolina's half, Hart was retired, pitcher to first, and Cheshire in the same manner. Oldham is safe at first on error of second baseman. Donnelly hits for two bags and scored Oldham. Worth is out on fly to left field.

The fourth inning began with Springs going out on foul fly to catcher. Knox was unable to find the ball. Brockwell reached first on error of short stop. McLaurin singled to left field. Harris is retired from third to first.

Engle and Mowen fanned. Harris was safe on error, but Noble fanned the wind.

The fifth opened up with Miller, who singled, and on a wild throw went to second. Asbury sacrificed, and so did Howle, scoring Miller. Hadley singled to left field, but Springs was retired on a hit to first who cut him off.

Hart went out via pitcher to first. Cheshire was safe on a fumbled fly by Asbury. Oldham is out on a fly to Knox. Donnelly retired Cheshire on a hit to second base.

In the sixth inning, Knox went out from second to first. Brockwell was safe on error of pitcher. McLaurin hit and reached first safely, though Brockwell was cut off at second. Harris was thrown out from second to first.

Worth walked. Engle reached first on error of first baseman. Mowen was put out by Springs and McLaurin. Harris reached first safely, but Worth was caught at the home plate. Noble fanned.

The seventh inning began with Miller leading off and being retired on a fly to Donnelly. Asbury was given a free pass. Howle got safe to first. Hadley singled and scored Asbury. Springs reached first safely on error. Knox hit to left field and scored Howle and Hadley. Brockwell singled to center, scoring Springs and Knox. McLaurin flew out to third. Harris was given a free pass. Miller singled and scored Brockwell. Asbury fanned.

Hart singled to right. Cheshire was thrown out from short stop to first. Oldham and Donnelly were both retired on fly to center field.

In the eighth inning, Howle singled and Hadley, also, while Springs and Knox were retired on flies. Brockwell singled to right field and scored Howle. McLaurin was retired from second to first.

Worth went out from pitcher to first. Engle singled to left field while Mowen and Harris were retired without reaching first.

The ninth inning was a blank for both. Harris for A. and M. flew out to short stop. Miller singled to right field. Asbury was out on fly to pitcher. Howle was out on a slow fly to pitcher.

Noble went out via pitcher to first, while Hart and Cheshire hit flies to Knox.—News and Observer.
